NOTIFICATION.

1900-1901.

IT is hereby notified that, of the ten junior scholarships allotted to this Division, four second grade scholarships will be awarded to the best successful students of districts and of the Orissa Tributary Mahals on the results of the next Entrance Examination. The remaining six third grade scholarships will be equally distributed among the three districts of Cuttack, Balasore, and Puri.

2. Scholarships not taken up by the district to which they are allotted will be awarded to candidates from other districts standing next in the divisional list.

3. In accordance with Rule 3 of the revised Junior Scholarship Rules, the above-mentioned scholarships may, with the sanction of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, be held at any one of the affiliated Colleges or any Government Medical School in Bengal which the holder may select.

E. B. HARRIS,
Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

CIVIL ENGINEERING COLLEGE, SIBPUR.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

UPPER CLASS.

FOR admission to this class, an applicant must have one of the following qualifications:—

(i) He must have passed the F.E. examination of the Calcutta University and be under 23 years of age, but no student will be allowed to join the Agricultural class after the expiration of five years from admission into the Engineering College.

(ii) He must have passed the B.A. examination of the Calcutta University by the B Course, or possess other sufficient educational qualifications, be under 23 years of age, and in addition have received a nomination from the Bengal Government.

(iii) He must have had a general education qualifying him to follow the instruction in the Upper Agricultural class, and must also receive a nomination from Government for admission as a special student. To be eligible for a nomination under this rule, a candidate must either have landed property of his own, or be recommended by some influential landholder who desires to train him to take part in the management of his estate, or he must otherwise satisfy Government that he intends to make practical use of his agricultural training. Students entering under this rule will be termed Special Agricultural students. They will not be subject to any maximum limit of age, but will not be entitled to the privileges conferred on the passed students under rules 11 and 12, even though they should obtain fully signed diplomas in due course after passing the necessary examinations.

Every candidate for admission to this Department must apply in writing to the Principal not later than the 14th July. The form of application is given in Appendix A. In the event of the form not being properly filled up and accompanied by the necessary certificates, no notice will be taken of the application.

The number to be nominated each year will depend on the accommodation available.

Every applicant, not already a student of the College, must undergo a medical examination by the College Surgeon before admission to this Department. If this officer's report is unsatisfactory, the applicant will not be admitted.

The session begins on the 5th November. The course of instruction in the Upper Agricultural class will extend over two years.

Senior scholarships held by students when passing the F.E. examination are tenable in the Agricultural Department.

One graduate scholarship of Rs. 30 a month, tenable for one year, will be awarded on the result of the examination held at the end of the first academic year.

Two appointments annually are assigned to students holding a fully signed diploma: one in the Provincial Executive Service and one in the Subordinate Executive Service. The right of selection for this appointment will rest with Government, and the students who gained the highest marks at the examination for diplomas will not necessarily be selected.

Holders of fully signed Agricultural diplomas, who do not get the guaranteed appointments referred to in rule 11, but who wish to compete for the examination for admission to the Provincial, Subordinate Executive and Opium Services, may submit their names through the Principal to Government for nominations. These applications for nominations will be considered, provided the applicants appear to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor to be otherwise suitable for admission to these services.

Each student in the Upper Agricultural Department will be required to pay an admission fee of Rs. 10.

F.E.'s who elect to join the Agricultural Department immediately after passing the F.E. examination are exempted from the payment of this fee, as their names are already borne on the College books.

For the present no tuition fees will be charged to students in the Agricultural Department, except in the case of those joining as special students under rule 3 (iii). The tuition fees for these students will be Rs. 8 a month.

Nominations.

Applicants for admission who require nominations under rule 3 (ii) and (iii) will apply for nominations through the Principal. The form of application for nomination is given in Appendix C.

Further particulars will be supplied on application to the Principal.

THE SCHEDULE.

FORM OF DISTRESS-WARRANT.

A Regulation to provide for the Organization and Maintenance of the Rural Police in the Sonthal Parganas.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the organization and maintenance of the rural police in the Sonthal Parganas; it is hereby enacted as follows:

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Regulation may be called the Sonthal Parganas Rural Police Regulation, 1900.

(2) It extends to the whole of the Sonthal Parganas, as described in the schedule to Act X of 1857 and in the Notification of the Governor-General in Council No. 478, dated the 12th March, 1872; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

Power to vary local extent of Regulation.

2. The Local Government may, by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, withdraw this Regulation, or any part thereof, from any portion of the Sonthal Parganas, and may extend this Regulation or any part thereof, to any portion of the Sonthal Parganas from which the same has been so withdrawn.

Definitions.

3. In this Regulation, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Deputy Commissioner" means the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Parganas, and includes any officer appointed by the Local Government to perform the functions of the Deputy Commissioner under this Regulation;

(b) "under-tenure" includes also the tenures known as mukarari, shikmi and khor-posh; and

(c) "zamindar" means the person whose name is registered in the general register of estates paying revenue directly to the Government as the proprietor of an estate so paying revenue, or the person whose name is registered in the general register of revenue-free lands as the proprietor of a revenue-free tenure, and includes also the ghatwals of Tapah Sarath Deoghur, whose tenures are subject to the provisions of Bengal Regulation XXIX of 1814 (a Regulation for the settlement of certain mahals in the district of Birbhum, usually denominated the Ghatwali Mahals).

Formation of villages and circles and appointment of sardars.

4. The Deputy Commissioner may, from time to time by order in writing—

(a) Declare any local area or group of houses to be a village for the purposes of this Regulation;

(b) Form any of such villages into circles; and

(c) Appoint a sardar for each circle:

Provided that, in the Damin-i-Koh and in the Ghatwalis, subject to the provisions of the said Bengal Regulation XXIX of 1814, the circles shall be so formed as to admit of the duties of sardar being performed by parganaits, sardars or ghatwals, as the case may be, according to existing arrangements.

Deputy sardars.

5. (1) The person or persons responsible for performing the duties of sardar in any circle may appoint a deputy sardar for any period:

Provided that the appointment of any deputy sardar, and the period for which he is appointed, shall be subject to the approval of the Deputy Commissioner.

(2) A deputy sardar may perform any of the duties of the sardar who appointed him, but shall have no claim on the villagers for remuneration, unless he has a customary right to receive remuneration from them, or the Deputy Commissioner directs that he be paid by them and not by the sardar who appointed him.

Number of chaukidars for each village.

6. The Deputy Commissioner shall determine the number of chaukidars to be employed in each village:

Provided that, without the previous sanction of the Commissioner, there shall not be more than one chaukidar for every sixty houses.

Salaries and equipment of sardars, deputy sardars and chaukidars.

7. The amount required for the salaries and equipment of the sardars, deputy sardars and chaukidars employed under this Regulation shall be determined by the Deputy Commissioner.

Provided that the salary of a sardar shall not be less than eight rupees, nor more than twelve rupees, per mensem, the salary of a deputy sardar shall not be less than six rupees, nor more than eight rupees, per mensem, and the salary of a chaukidar shall not be less than two rupees, nor more than six rupees, per mensem:

Provided also that, in determining the salaries of the sardars, deputy sardars and chaukidars employed as aforesaid, the Deputy Commissioner shall take into consideration the value of any chakran lands which may be held by them, or be provided for them by the zamindars, under-tenure-holders or villagers, and any customary payments made to them by the villagers in money, in produce or in kind.

Payments by zamindars or under-tenure-holders.

8. (1) Where a zamindar or under-tenure-holder holds subject to the condition, expressed or implied, of supporting the police within his zamindari or under-tenure, he shall be liable to pay the amount determined by the Deputy Commissioner under section 7:

Provided that the Deputy Commissioner may, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner, in any case, after recording his reasons in writing, abstain from enforcing the said liability, or enforce the same only in part.

(2) The amount due under sub-section (1) from any zamindar or under-tenure-holder shall be paid by equal quarterly instalments; and, if the instalment for any quarter is unpaid after the first day of the quarter, the Deputy Commissioner shall issue a notice calling on the defaulter to pay the same, together with the costs of service, within a period of fifteen days from the date of serving the notice.

(3) If the amount specified in any notice issued under sub-section (2) is not paid within the period fixed as aforesaid, the Deputy Commissioner may attach the estate or under-tenure of the defaulter and retain possession of the same until the amount has been recovered out of the income derivable therefrom.

Village-assessments.

9. (1) In cases other than those referred to in section 8, and in cases in which the liability under that section is not enforced or is only partially enforced, the amount required for the salaries and equipment of the sardars or deputy sardars and chaukidars employed under this Regulation, together with a sum, not exceeding two annas in the rupee, of that amount to provide for payment of the costs of collection and the keeping of accounts and for losses from the non-realization of sums from defaulters, shall be assessed on each village.

(2) Every owner or occupier of a house or land in any village, and every zamindar or under-tenure-holder who has a kachahri for the collection of rent within the village, shall be liable to the said assessment.

List of monthly payments.

10. (1) The total amount payable by each village shall be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner; and thereupon the headman or headmen of the village, or, in areas in which there are no headmen, such person as the Deputy Commissioner may appoint in this behalf, shall prepare a list showing the amount payable monthly by each person liable to assessment in the village.

(2) If, within three months after the Deputy Commissioner has fixed the amount payable by any village, the said list has not been prepared, the Deputy Commissioner may cause the list to be prepared by such means as he may think fit.

(3) Every list prepared under this section shall, when sanctioned by the Deputy Commissioner, be published at some conspicuous place within the village to which it relates, and shall remain in force until altered by the Deputy Commissioner.

Nature and amount of assessment.

11. The amount at which each person is assessed under section 10 shall be fixed according to the circumstances and the property to be protected of that person:

Provided that the amount to be assessed on any one person shall not exceed one rupee per mensem in the case of a zamindar, under-tenure-holder or trader, or eight annas per mensem in the case of an ordinary raiyat:

Provided also that every person who is, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, too poor to pay half an anna per mensem shall be exempted from assessment.

Alteration of village-assessment and preparation of revised list of monthly payments.

12. (1) The Deputy Commissioner may, from time to time, alter the amount assessed on any village.

(2) Before the month of October in the year immediately preceding that in which any alteration made under sub-section (1) is to take effect, the Deputy Commissioner shall give notice of the alteration to the person or persons whose duty it is to prepare the list prescribed by section 10; and thereupon a revised list of the sums payable by each person shall be prepared in the manner prescribed by that section.

Revision or confirmation of assessment.

13. Any person who is dissatisfied with the amount at which he has been assessed may apply to the Deputy Commissioner, either orally or in writing, for a revision of the assessment; and the Deputy Commissioner may amend, remit or confirm the assessment.

14. Every amount assessed under this Regulation shall be paid by equal quarterly instalments, and the instalments on account of each quarter shall be due on the first day of the quarter.

Assessment payable quarterly in advance.

15. (1) The headman or other person whose duty it is to prepare the list prescribed by section 10 shall collect the amount payable by each of the persons named in the list and shall grant receipts for the same.

Collection of assessment and remuneration of the Collector.

(2) Every such headman or other person as aforesaid may retain out of the amount collected by him a sum, not exceeding one anna in the rupee, as remuneration for making the collection.

(3) In any village in which two or more persons are charged with the duty of preparing the list prescribed by section 10, those persons, or, if they fail to make the appointment, the Deputy Commissioner, shall appoint one of their number to receive the collections from the others and keep the accounts of the collections; and the person so appointed may retain out of the amount received by him a sum, not exceeding half an anna in the rupee, as remuneration for receiving the collections and keeping the accounts.

16. At the end of the first month of each quarter, the sardar, or, in the Damin-i-Koh, the parganait, shall prepare a list of persons assessed who have failed to pay the amounts due from them for the quarter, and shall apply to the Deputy Commissioner for the attachment and sale of any moveable property belonging to the defaulters, at the same time publishing a copy of the list at some conspicuous place within the village to which it relates.

List of defaulters and application for distraint.

17. Where any person whose name has been included in a list of defaulters prepared under section 16 desires to dispute his liability to pay the amount mentioned therein, or any part thereof, he may, within fifteen days of the publication of the copy of the list within the village, apply to the Deputy Commissioner, either orally or in writing, stating the grounds of his objection, and the Deputy Commissioner shall examine his objection and pass such order thereon as he may think fit.

Decision of objections to list of defaulters.

18. (1) When the Deputy Commissioner receives a list of defaulters prepared under section 16, he shall, subject to any orders passed under section 17, issue a warrant in the form set forth in the schedule.

Distress-warrants.

(2) Every warrant issued under sub-section (1) shall be signed by the Deputy Commissioner, and shall authorize the person therein named in that behalf to recover, by distraint and sale of a sufficient portion of the moveable property of each of the defaulters, other than plough-cattle and tools and implements of trade or agriculture, the amount due from him, together with a sum equal to a proportionate share of the costs of distraint and sale.

19. (1) The person so authorized shall seize and keep in his own custody such portion of the moveable property of the defaulters as he may think sufficient, and shall make an inventory of all moveable property so seized, and shall, at the same time, make proclamation, by beat of drum, of the time and place where the property will be sold.

Seizure of property and proclamation of sale.

(2) The time of sale fixed under sub-section (1) shall be not less than five, nor more than ten, days from the date of the proclamation thereof.

20. Where a defaulter does not, within the time so proclaimed, pay the amount due from him, together with his share of the costs of the distraint, the moveable property distrained or a sufficient portion thereof, shall be sold by public auction at the time and place so proclaimed, and the proceeds shall be applied in discharge of the said amount and costs, the surplus (if any) being returned to the owner of the distrained property.

Sale of property and application of proceeds.

21. No amount payable under this Regulation shall be recovered by distraint and sale under the foregoing provisions after the expiration of one year from the date on which the same became due.

No distraint after one year.

22. The Deputy Commissioner may from time to time, by order in writing, with the previous sanction of the Commissioner delegate all or any of his powers under this Regulation to any Magistrate subordinate to him, or to the District Superintendent of Police, and may in like manner withdraw any order so made.

Delegation of Deputy Commissioner's powers.

23. All fines levied from sardars and chaukidars under this Regulation shall be credited to a Fund, to be called the District Chaukidari Reward Fund, the control over which shall rest with the Deputy Commissioner.

District Chaukidari Reward Fund.

24. (1) The Local Government may make rules to carry out the purposes and objects of this Regulation.

Power to make rules.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may—

(a) regulate the appointment of sardars, deputy sardars and chaukidars and their punishment, whether by dismissal, suspension or fine;

(b) determine the duties to be performed by sardars, deputy sardars and chaukidars;

(c) determine and regulate the method and times for paying sardars, deputy sardars and chaukidars their salaries;
(d) provide for the equipment of sardars, deputy sardars and chaukidars.
(e) regulate the mode of assessing and collecting the amounts payable under this Regulation; and (f) regulate the payment of rewards out of the District Chaukidari Reward Fund.

THE SCHEDULE.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2051 M.—The 30th June 1900.—It is hereby notified for general information that, in the exercise of the power conferred on the Local Government by section 350A of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, as amended by Act I (B C.) of 1900, in its application to Darjeeling, the Lieutenant-Governor intends to make the following bye-laws, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification within the Darjeeling Municipality:—

1. Except with the written permission of the Deputy Commissioner and subject to such conditions as he may impose not inconsistent with this Act or any other law:—

(i) No person shall make any excavation or cut into any jhora, hillside or bank, or remove any soil from any jhora, hillside or bank

(ii) No person shall quarry in any jhora, hillside or bank.

(iii) No person shall remove any loose stone or stones from any hillside, bank, or jhora except in cases where there is an immediate danger from the falling of such stone or stones. But in all such cases immediate notice of the removal having been effected shall be given to the Deputy Commissioner.

For the purposes of this rule "loose stone" means any stone which can be removed without quarrying.

(iv) No person shall permit or cause any cattle under his control to graze or stray on any hillside or bank.

(v) Within such local limits as may be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner, no person shall permit or cause any poultry under his control to stray on any hillside or bank.

(vi) No person shall cut, prune or destroy any tree, bamboo, or shrub.

(vii) No person shall dig out of any jhora, hillside or bank the roots of any tree, bamboo, or shrub which has fallen down or been cut down.

(viii) No person shall make a garden or garden-terrace.

(ix) No person shall disturb the existing surface of the soil or make a hole or bed around the base of any tree, shrub, or bamboo.

It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of any holding to fill up any hole or bed made around the base of any tree, shrub, or bamboo to the level of the surrounding soil.

2. It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of any holding to cut, trim, prune or remove therefrom any trees, shrubs, bamboos, bushes or hedges bordering on, overhanging or obstructing any road or drain or causing or being likely to cause damage to any road or drain or causing or being likely to cause damage to any person using any road.

3. It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of any holding to trim, coppice, prune or cut any trees, shrubs, or bamboos, which in his opinion should be so treated, in order to protect more efficiently the bank or hillside upon which such trees, shrubs, or bamboos stand.

4. It shall be lawful for the Deputy Commissioner by written notice to call upon the owner of a holding to plant trees, shrubs, bamboos or other plants on any portion of his holding in cases where such planting is in his opinion necessary for the safety of a bank or hillside or site of a landslip.

The Deputy Commissioner may prescribe the kind of trees, shrubs, bamboos or other plants required to be planted, the distance apart of such trees, shrubs, bamboos or other plants, and the time of year at which they are to be planted.

5. Nothing contained in the foregoing bye-laws shall apply to the following operations:—

(a) bonâ fide pruning, trimming or otherwise altering shrubs, bamboos, trees or other plants for horticultural purposes;

(b) digging or other petty excavations or removal of soil in the ordinary process of gardening in land already cultivated;

(c) other petty acts, such as cutting twigs, digging ferns and the like, from which no material harm of any kind to person or property is likely to result.

6. The penalty for a breach of any of the foregoing bye-laws shall be a fine which may extend to Rs. 50.

ROAD CESS.

Dated Calcutta, the 3rd July 1900.

RESOLUTION.

Receipts and Expenditure of the several District Road Funds and District Road Accounts in Bengal during 1898-99.

READ—

Annual Reports and Accounts of the several District Road Funds and District Road Accounts in Bengal for the year 1898-99, received from the Commissioners of the Divisions concerned.

Read again—

Annual Reports and Accounts of the several District Road Funds and District Road Accounts in Bengal for the previous year and the review thereof, No. 1706R.C., dated 28th March 1899.

REMARKS.—The Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 was in force in 1898-99 in all the districts of the Province, except the following:—

Darjeeling.	Manbhum.
Hazaribagh.	Singhbhum.
Lohardaga.	Sonthal Parganas.
Palamau.	Chittagong Hill Tracts.

In the first five of these districts and in the Dalbhum and Porahat Parganas of the Singhbhum district, the Cess Act of 1880 was in force during the year under review, while the other parganas of this latter district and the Sonthal Parganas and the Chittagong Hill Tracts were not under the operations of any of the above Acts.

RECEIPTS.

2. In the districts in which the Cess Act was in force, the cess was levied at the maximum rate allowed by law, while in those districts which were not under the operations of the Act, and in which therefore there were no cess collections, funds were provided by grants-in-aid. The receipts for the year 1898-99, compared with those of the previous year, are shown below:—

3. The increase in revenue in the Darjeeling district, compared with the revenue of the previous year, was due to (1) the enhancement of the demand on the Terai jotes and the west Tista khas mahals; (2) the collection during the year of arrears of cess on mines; (3) the increase in the Government grant of 1½ per cent. collections from Government and other estates on the revision of revenue in the Terai and Kalimpong; and (4) the contributions from the Darjeeling Improvement Fund for 1897-98 and 1898-99 having been received during the year. The decrease in the Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Manbhum districts was chiefly under heads "Cess on lands" owing to short collections, "Grant from Government" and "Advances." The decrease in Palamau was under heads "Miscellaneous," "Staging Bungalows," "Grant from Government," "Advances" and "Deposits." The increase in Singhbhum was under all heads except "Staging Bungalows" and "Advances." The decrease in the Chittagong Hill Tracts is accounted for by the large grant made by Government during 1897-98 for the execution of cyclone damage repairs to Government buildings and roads in the district. The increase in the Santhal Parganas district was mainly under "Grant from Government," and the receipt, during the year, of the annual grant for improvements in the Government estates for two years, and to a larger grant for original public works than that of the preceding year.

4. The following table shows the outlay incurred in 1898-99, compared with that of the previous year:—

5. The closing balances of the Darjeeling and Palamau districts at the end of the year were more than one quarter of the year's receipts of the respective Committees, that is, more than the limit prescribed in paragraph 9 of the Resolution No. 4228R.C., dated 18th December 1885. The closing balance of the Santhal Parganas was also excessive, but it was chiefly due to lateness of sanction to some of the estimates and to the receipt of grants at the end of the year. The heavy closing balance in the Palamau district was due to certain grants from Government having been received too late in the year for execution of works on Public Works Department buildings. It was, however, less than the closing balance of the previous year by Rs. 7,123. The Darjeeling Committee was allowed, in letter No. 5106R.C., dated 26th September 1892, to accumulate its balance to enable it to construct important bridges in the District without having recourse to borrowing.

6. Of the total expenditure incurred during the year, Rs. 2,98,180 were devoted to Civil Works, while the outlay under other sub-heads, exclusive of "Suspense Accounts" was small, being Rs. 57,105 only in the aggregate. The distribution of the outlay on Civil Works is as follows:—

Total ...	2,44,885	59,213	24·18

* Inclusive of Rs. 11,586 for Works and Repairs under Land Revenue.

In the Darjeeling district, the low percentage is due to the fact that no Engineer was employed: all the works and repairs in the Hills of the district and a portion in the Terai were executed by the members of the Committees and other private gentlemen to whom the thanks of Government are due for their assistance. The sum of Rs. 976 spent under this head was for the Public Works establishment in the Terai subdivision only. The percentages in the districts of Manbhum, Ranchi and Chittagong Hill Tracts have become high this year; in the first case, there was an increase in establishment charges, and in the last two cases the percentage rose from the small amount of work which it was possible to carry out with the funds available. The appended statement shows the considerable growth of establishment for the district of Manbhum during the past five years. This is mainly under the heads of Sub-Overseers, Clerical and Peons. There has been no corresponding increase in expenditure on works and repairs, and this establishment should be carefully reconsidered and reduced where necessary.

ORDER—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, together with the Annual Accounts of the several District Road Funds and District Road Accounts, extracts from the Reports of the Chairmen of the several District Road Committees, and remarks of the Commissioners of Divisions concerned, be published in Part II of the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded for information to the—

Commissioners of the Rajshahi, Bhagalpur, Chittagong and Chota Nagpur Divisions;
Superintending Engineer of the Northern Circle;
Inspectors of Works, Eastern and Western Circles;
Accountant-General, Bengal;
Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces;
Financial Department of this Government.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

D. B. HORN,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Darjeeling, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District during the year 1898-99.

[Vide letter No. 137R.F., dated 29th August 1899, from A. EARLE, ESQ., C.S., Chairman, District Road Committee, Darjeeling, to the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division.]

1. Working of the Committee.—There were 18 members of the District Road Cess Committee, 5 official and 13 non-official. Five meetings were held during the year. The average attendance was 7·4, and the percentage of average attendance was 41·1.

2. There were 12 members (6 official and 6 non-official) of the Terai Branch Road Cess Committee. Ten meetings were held during the year, the average attendance being 4·5 and the percentage of average attendance 37·5. There were no quorum at three meetings. The decrease in the number of members during the year was due to the fact that the term of office of some of the members had expired, and sanction to their re-appointment or the appointment of others in their places was not obtained during the year.

3. The Sub-Committee at Kurseong consists of 9 members, 1 official and 8 non-official. They held six meetings, the average attendance being 4·83 and the percentage of average attendance 53·6.

4. The year opened with a cash balance of Rs. 28,809-7-7 and unadjusted advances amounting to Rs. 10,809-15-10. The total sum available for expenditure was Rs. 56,133-3-1, including the receipts (Rs. 27,323-11-6) of the year. Out of this, Rs. 29,390-15-7 were spent, leaving a balance of Rs. 37,552-3-4, which includes the unadjusted advances of Rs. 13,206-7-2 outstanding at the close of the year.

5. The closing balance at the end of the year was more than one quarter's kist. This large balance was due to the Committee having been allowed in Government letter No. 5106R.C., dated the 26th September 1892, to accumulate its balances to enable it to construct important bridges in the district without resorting to loans.

6. Collections.—The sum of Rs. 19,762-3-7 was realised as cess on lands and Rs. 172-13-9 as cess on mines, &c., making a total of Rs. 19,935-1-4. The increase under the former head was due to the increase of cess demand on the Terai jotes and the West Tista khas mahals at the last revaluation, and the increase under the latter head was owing to the collection during the year of arrears of the previous year. The cess was levied at the maximum rate of six pies per rupee.

7. (a) Grant from Government.—The grant of 1½ per cent collections from Government and other estates amounted to Rs. 3,190-14-2 against Rs. 1,841-4-9 during the preceding year. This increase is due to the following causes:—

(1) The increase of revenue of the Government estates in the Terai at the last re-settlement.

(2) The increase of revenue of Government estates in the hills on account of progressive rates of rent and settlement of new tenants in the waste land blocks in Kalimpong.

(3) The Government share of contribution on account of road and public works cess joint establishment for 1897-98 was credited during the year.

(b) The contribution of Rs. 4,000 from the Darjeeling Improvement Fund for 1897-98 and 1898-99 was received during the year

(c) No Contribution from private gentlemen and other sources was received during the year.

8. Miscellaneous.—A sum of Rs. 197-12 was received during the year on account of fees, fines, forfeitures, and other miscellaneous receipts.

EXPENDITURE.

9. Original Works.—The sum of Rs. 11,967-9-2 was spent under this head against Rs. 2,476-11-10 in the preceding year. The increase under this head was due to the construction of iron suspension bridges. The following are the items of expenditure under this head:—

(a) The sum of Rs 5,000 was paid to the Political Officer of Sikkim as a contribution towards the construction of a suspension bridge over the Great Rangit. The work was done under the supervision of the Political Officer of Sikkim, and the District Road Fund made this contribution in a lump sum as its share of the work. This bridge over the Great Rangit river, which is on a frontier road, has greatly facilitated the trade and communication of this district with Sikkim.

(b) The bridge over Kyel river at Balua Bans, which was begun during the previous year, was very nearly completed during the year. The total outlay up to the end of the year was Rs 7,837-8-8, out of which Rs. 6,834-3-2 were actually disbursed during the year.

(c) The construction of an iron suspension bridge over the Balasan at Namsoo was undertaken, and a sum of Rs. 133-6 was spent during the year.

REPAIRS.

10. Communications.—The total expenditure of Rs. 12,804-5-4, as per details below was incurred under this head during the year :—

Name of the committee.	Particulars of expenditure.	Amount.	Total.
		Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
District Road Cess Committee, Darjeeling.	Roads ...	4,080 11 8

	Total ...	.....	12,679 14 1
	Village roads ...	...	124 7 3
	Total of repairs ...	.....	12,804 5 4

There is a total increase of Rs. 3,281-11-2 which is due chiefly to the fact that certain unadjusted advances of the previous years were adjusted during the year.

11. Altogether 234 miles of unmetalled District roads were repaired at a cost of Rs 12,133 or Rs. 51·85 per mile and 7 miles of village roads at a cost of Rs. 124 or Rs. 17·71 per mile. Rupees 547-2-1 were spent on the repairs and maintenance of hill bridges in general.

12. Public Works Establishment.—No professional Engineer was entertained by the Committee during the year. An overseer and a peon were entertained by the Terai Branch Road Cess Committee at a cost of Rs. 967-15-3. All the works in the Hills and a part of the work in the Terai were executed by the Members of the Committees and other private gentlemen to whom the thanks of the Committee are due for their kind and valuable assistance.

13. Tools and Plant.—The sum of Rs. 63-8 was spent on the purchase of tools and plant for repairing certain hill roads under the direct supervision of the Vice-Chairman of the District Road Committee.

14. Inspection of Account.—The Accounts for the whole year have been audited by the members of the Audit Committee and those up to July 1898 by the Examiner of Local Accounts.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND OFFICE, DARJEELING,
The 29th August 1899.

No. 197R.C., dated Ranchi, the 23rd July 1899.

From—A. FORBES, Esq., C.S I., Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division,
To—The Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Public Works Dept.

I HAVE the honour to submit the reports and accounts of the District Road Committees in this Division for the year ending 31st March 1899 with the following remarks

2. The following table exhibits the constitution of each Road Committee, the number of meetings held and the percentage of average attendance at those meetings.

DISTRICT.	NUMBER OF MEMBERS FORMING THE COMMITTEE.			Number of meetings held.	Percentage of average attendance.
	Official.	Non-official.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Hazaribagh ...	8	16	24	3	37·5
Ranchi ...	3	7	10	5	50·0
Palamau ...	7	12	19	11	44 7
Manbhum ...	5	12	17	15	32·9
Singhbhum ...	4	6	10	6	53·0

The percentage of attendance ranged from 53·0 in Singhbhum to 32 9 in Manbhum.

3. The Branch Road Cess Committee at Giridih in Hazaribagh held five meetings at one of which no quorum was obtained The average attendance at these meetings was 4·2.

4. The Cess Act was in force in the districts of Hazaribagh, Ranchi, Palamau, Manbhum and in parganas Porahat and Dhalbhum in Singhbhum, and the cess was levied at the maximum rate allowed by the law in all of them.

5. The following table shows the opening balance, income, expenditure and the closing balance of each Road Committee for the year under review as compared with those of the preceding year:—

	Hazaribagh.		Ranchi.		Palamau.		Manbhum.		Singhbhum.

Closing balance ...	2,788	2,831	2,717	3,941	22,163	15,040	1,857	606	6,632	5 552

The decrease in the income in the Hazaribagh, Ranchi and Manbhum districts, is chiefly due to the decrease under heads "Cess on lands" owing to short collections, "Grant from Government," and "Advances." The decrease in Palamau is due to the decrease under heads "Miscellaneous," "Staging Bungalows," "Grant from Government," and "Advances and deposits;" while the increase in Singhbhum is observed under all the heads except Staging Bungalows and Advance.

6. The following table exhibits the revenue of each Road Cess Committee (excluding opening balances and suspense heads), the expenditure incurred in works, and the establishment of charges on account of those works:—

		Original works.	Repairs.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Hazaribagh	55,485	5,504	31,888	37,392	9,340	46,732	24·9	84·2
Ranchi	43,696	318	25,765	26,083	7,969	34,052	30 5	77·9
Palamau	32,945	12,117	11,112	23,229	6,357	29,579	27·3	89·7
Manbhum	51,353		39,159	33,159	10,086	43,245	30·4	84·2
Singhbhum	20,319	6,552	6,843	13396	3,823	17,219	28·5	84·7
Total ...	2,03,798	24,491	1,08,767	1,33,258	37,508	1,70,830	28·2	83·8

The percentage of expenditure on account of establishment for works on the amount spent on works varied from 24·9 in Hazaribagh to 30·5 in Ranchi against 20·8 to 31·5 in the preceding year. The total establishment charges for works in the Division was also above the prescribed limit, being 28·2 against 25·6 in the preceding year. The excess in the districts of Ranchi, Palamau and Manbhum is due to the fact that the District Road Committees spent less amounts on works than they would otherwise have done, in order to make provisions for the revaluation operations now in progress in these districts and to contribute towards plague expenditure. The excess in Singhbhum is less than that of the preceding year, and is due to the fact that the District Committee could not carry out a large amount of work with the funds available.

7. Original Works.—The principal works carried out in the several districts during the year 1898-99 are as follows:—

Hazaribagh District.

(1) Gravelling of 7 miles of road No. 4 from Giridih to Khejuri at a cost of Rs. 3,477.

(2) Construction of an inspection bungalow at Koar on the 9th mile of the Giridih-Khejuri road at a cost of Rs. 918.

(3) Construction of 21 dari (spring) wells and completion of two dari wells which were begun in the previous year at a total cost of Rs. 1,109.

Ranchi District.

(1) Payment of compensation of land acquired for extending the compound of the Jharia Inspection Bungalow on the 33rd mile of the Ranchi-Palkote road at a cost of Rs. 101.

(2) Sinking of a well at Silli at a cost of Rs. 217.

Palamau District.

From Public Works Funds—

(1) Construction of a pucka court building for the munsif at Daltonganj at a cost of Rs. 5,602.

(2) Construction of khas tahsil offices with muharrirs' and peons' quarters at Lesliganj, Latehar and Garu at a cost of Rs. 4,113.

(3) Fixing a pump and covering to the jail well at Daltonganj at a cost of Rs. 5.

(4) Providing wire gauze doors and windows to the cook shed attached to the intermediate jail at Daltonganj at a cost of Rs. 85.

(5) Renewal of floors of stables attached to the Deputy Commissioner and the District Superintendent of Police's bungalows at a cost of Rs. 173.

(6) Providing a venetian shutter and two sun-shades to the record-room windows of the registration office at a cost of Rs. 37.

From Local Funds—

(7) Construction of the 1st section of the Garhwa-Sirguja road at a cost of Rs. 64.

(8) Construction of a 20-feet bridge on the 41st mile of the Daltonganj-Ranchi road at a cost of Rs. 407.

(9) Construction of a pucka hospital building at Daltonganj at a cost of Rs. 669.

(10) Survey of the Nadowara Irrigation scheme at a cost of Rs. 125.

(11) Earthwork of the Lesliganj-Barhi road at a cost of Rs. 200.

(12) Earthwork of the Udaipur-Sagulin road at a cost of Rs. 300.

(13) Construction of pucka wells at Manka and Latehar at a cost of Rs. 337.

Manbhum district—

No original works were executed in this district during the year under report.

Singhbhum district—

(1) Gravelling heavy portions of several roads, about six miles in length, at a cost of Rs. 3,034.

(2) Purchasing three iron girders for the construction of the Dobra bridge on the fifth mile of the Chaibassa-Bend road at a cost of Rs. 303.

(3) Construction of some culverts and bridges at a cost of Rs. 3,215 on the following four roads—

(i) Chaibassa-Bend.
(ii) Chaibassa-Amda.
(iii) Chaibassa-Jantgarh.
(iv) Chaibassa-Katbari.

8. Repairs.—The total expenditure incurred under this head was Rs. 1,08,767 as detailed in the following table :—

10. Water-supply.—The register of water-sources in Forms Nos. I and II, prescribed by the Government Circular No. 8T.—M., dated the 15th May 1896, have been opened and tested by the Deputy Commissioner of the several districts, and steps are being taken to improve the existing sources and to add new ones as far as funds permit. The details of the water-sources have been given in separate statements accompanying the district reports.

11. Except in Singhbhum, the District Engineers and their establishments have given satisfaction, generally, in the discharge of their duties.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Hazaribagh, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District during the year 1898-99.

[Vide letter No. 48D.R., dated 9th May 1899, from F. C. French, Esq., C.S., Chairman, District Road Committee, Hazaribagh, to the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division.]

1. Working of the District Road Committee.—The number of members of the District Committee was 24, as in previous years. The number of meetings held during the year was 3; in all quorums were obtained. The average attendance was 9 against 9·25 in the previous year. The low average is due to want of interest on the part of some of the members.

2. Branch Committee.—There is only one Branch Committee in this district, viz., at Giridih. The number of members of the Branch Committee during the year was 12. It held five meetings during the year, and the average attendance of the members was 4·2 against 5·8 in the previous year. Out of five meetings held by the Branch Committee during the year, in one meeting only no quorum was obtained

RECEIPTS.

3. Working of the Cess Act.—During the year the Road Cess in this district was levied, as in previous years, at the maximum rate prescribed by law, viz., six pies per rupee. The demand for Road Cess on lands and mines during the year amounted to Rs. 55,193 as compared with Rs. 55,378 in the previous year. The amount of additions made to this demand was Rs. 1,960, and that of reductions and remissions from it amounted to Rs. 329. The net demand for road cess on lands and mines amounted to Rs. 56,824 as compared with Rs. 55,193. The increase in the demand is due to valuation and assessment of ten rent-free tenures under section 37 of the Cess Act, sanctioned by the Board of Revenue in their letter No. 248A., dated 9th September 1897, and to the annual valuations and assessments of mines and forests under Chapter V of the Cess Act. The total Road Cess demand of the District, including Rs. 2,957 on account of arrears outstanding at the close of the year 1897-98, amounted to Rs. 59,781 as compared with Rs. 57,156 in the previous year.

4. Out of the demand of Rs. 59,781, Rs. 51,842, including Rs. 1,682 previously paid in advance for the year, were collected as compared with Rs. 54,199 in the previous year, leaving an outstanding balance of Rs. 7,939, or 13·28 per cent., on the total demand as compared with Rs. 2,957, or 5·17 per cent., in the previous year. The high percentage is due to the fact that the Ramgarh estate did not pay a demand of Rs. 4,228 within the year. As the instalment under section 45 of the Cess Act was payable up to the 13th April 1899, no coercive measures could be taken within the year for its recovery. The advance collections during the year amounted to Rs. 1,554 as compared with Rs. 3,369 in the previous year. Rupees 6, which was collected in the district of Gaya on account of previous year, but not remitted to this district during that year, was credited in the District Road Fund account during the year 1898-99. The percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand was 91·31, that of current collections on current demand 86·47, and that of total collections on current demand 91·23, as compared with 93·19, 94·88, and 98·19, respectively, in the previous year.

5. The certificate procedure was adopted to recover the arrears that fell due within the year. The arrears on account of kist ending the 28th March 1899 in respect of 73 revenue-paying estates were under section 45 of the Cess Act payable up to 13th April 1899; hence no certificates for recovery of these arrears were filed within the year ending 31st March 1899.

EXPENDITURE.

6. Original Works.—The total outlay under the head Original Works was Rs. 5,504 as compared with Rs. 3,004 in the preceding year. The following original works were carried out in this district during the year:—

(1) Seven miles of road No. 4 from Giridih to Khejuri were gravelled during the year at a cost of Rs. 3,477, or Rs. 497 per mile, against a budget grant of Rs. 3,622.

(2) An inspection bungalow at Koar on the 9th mile of the Giridih to Khejuri road was constructed during the year at a cost of Rs. 918 against a budget grant of Rs. 1,090.

(3) Twenty-one dari (spring) wells were constructed in the different villages in the district at an aggregate cost of Rs. 1,081, and two of such wells which were begun the previous year were completed during the year at a cost of Rs 28. The total amount expended in constructing the dari wells was Rs. 1,109 against a budget grant of Rs. 1,950.

7. Repairs to District Roads.—The number of roads in this district as per revised schedule of public works for 1898-99 was 30. Of these, 27 roads, 544 miles long, were repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 21,315 as compared with Rs. 18,363 on account of cost of repairs to 27 roads, 546 miles long, in the previous year. No repair works were executed on roads Nos. 9, 17, and 29. An allotment of Rs. 72 was made in the budget estimate for repairs to road No. 9, but no money was spent on it, as no repairs were considered necessary. Road No. 17 is an abandoned road, hence no provision was made for its repair, and for want of sufficient funds no provision was made for repairs to road No. 29.

8. The following table compares the cost incurred on each class of district roads during the years 1897-98 and 1898-99:—

Description of roads.	1897-98.		1898-99.
	Length	Cost.	Length.	Cost.
		Rs.		Rs.
Class I ...	44	3,198	44	4,420
„ II ...	383	11,964	336	11,510
„ III ...	28	256	43	2,088
„ IV ...	111	2,945	121	3,297
Total ...	546	18,363	544	21,315

The increase and decrease in the number of miles under different classes of roads shown in the above table are due to the fact that 25 miles that were shown under class II in the past year by mistake in classification were transferred to lower classes, viz., 15 miles to class III and 10 miles to class IV, and 2 miles of class II roads (No. 9) were not repaired at all during the year.

9. Repairs to Village Roads.—Forty-five village roads, 310 miles long, viz, 23 roads, 94 miles long, in the head-quarters subdivision, and 22 roads, 207 miles long, in the Giridih subdivision were maintained during the year, as compared with 44 roads, 273 miles long, viz., 23 roads, 105 miles long, in the head-quarters subdivision and 21 roads, 168 miles long, in the Giridíh subdivision, in the previous year. Rupees 6,045 were spent in maintaining the village roads in this district, viz., Rs. 1,923 for the head-quarters subdivision and Rs. 4,122 in the Giridíh subdivision, as compared with Rs. 7,253, viz., Rs. 2,115 in the head-quarters subdivision and Rs. 5,138 in the Giridíh subdivision in the preceding year.

10. The allotments for expenditure on both district and village roads in the Giridih subdivision were fixed with reference to the actual cess collections within the subdivision, according to the instructions contained in Bengal Government letter No. 6237R.P., dated 6th December 1898. The total amount allotted for the Giridíh subdivision was Rs. 12,694. A sum of Rs. 6,700, including Rs. 800 for the cost of establishment and contingencies, was placed at the disposal of the Giridíh Branch Committee during the year as compared with Rs. 5,812 in the preceding year. Out of this amount, Rs. 5,131 were adjusted in the accounts of the District Road Committee, and Rs. 1,567 remained unadjusted and treated as advance against the Vice-Chairman of the Branch Committee, as the vouchers submitted in support of the expenditure of Rs. 1,567 were found incomplete. Out of Rs. 5,131 adjusted in the accounts during the year, Rs. 4,122 were charged on account of cost of maintenance of village roads, Rs. 43 on account of repairs, &c., to an inspection bungalow, Rs. 91 on account of cost of transplanting and maintaining trees on roadsides, and Rs. 861 on account of cost of establishment and contingencies as compared with Rs. 5,812 expended, viz., Rs. 4,932 on maintenance of village roads, Rs. 57 on repairs, &c., of an inspection bungalow, Rs. 150 in transplating and maintaining the roadside trees, and Rs. 673 on account of cost of establishments and contingencies in the preceding year.

11. The repairs to village roads in the Giridíh as well as in the head-quarters subdivisions were executed by contractors, except petty repairs to certain village roads in the Giridíh subdivision that were executed departmentally under the supervision of the Branch Committee's Sub-Overseer.

12. Arboriculture.—During the year 800 new trees were transplanted and protected with bamboo gabions, viz., 700 by the District Committee and 100 by the Branch Committee at Giridíh and 9,600 old ones were maintained, viz, 8,550 by the District Committee and 1,050 by the Branch Committee on the roadsides as compared with 300 new trees transplanted and 7,400 old ones maintained in the previous year. The total outlay under this head is Rs. 1,151, viz., Rs. 1,060 in the head-quarters subdivision and Rs. 91 in the Giridíh subdivision against Rs. 1,187, viz., Rs. 1,037 in the head-quarters subdivision and Rs. 150 in the Giridíh subdivision in the preceding year.

13. Nursery.—There is only one nursery garden in the Road Cess office compound in this district. It contains the following plants: sissoo, 380; karounj, 640; nim, 80; jamoon, 40; date, 200; kahoo, 100; mahua, 140; kusum, 47; teak, 100; mango, 320; eucalyptus, 79; ansfal, 29; pakur, 8; and fig, 7.

14. Buildings.—During the year 25 rest-houses or inspection bungalows, viz., 24 under the District Road Committee and 1 under the Giridih Branch Committee, were maintained at a cost of Rs. 2,301, viz. Rs. 2,258 for those under the District Committee, and Rs. 43 for the one bungalow under the Giridih Branch Committee as compared with Rs. 2,585, viz., Rs. 2,528 for those under the District Committee and Rs. 57 for the one under the Branch Committee in the preceding year. Certain additions and alterations were made to the road cess office building at Hazaribagh during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,051. The total outlay under the head "Buildings", including the Road Cess office building, amounted to Rs. 3,352 during the year against Rs. 3,059 in the preceding year.

15. There is only one cart sarai in this district, viz., at Bagodar, on the Grand Trunk Road. The income from the sarai during the year was Rs. 118 against Rs. 33 in the previous year. The cart sarai was repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 25.

16. Establishment.—The Public Works establishment of the Road Cess Committee of this district consisted of one District Engineer and six Sub-Overseers—five Sub-Overseers for the District Committee and one for the Giridih Branch Committee. The total cost of Public Works establishment, including District Engineer's office establishment, during the year amounted to Rs. 9,340 as compared with Rs. 9,256 in the previous year. The percentage of cost of establishment was 24·97 per cent. on the total expenditure on Public Works during the year as compared with 28·3 per cent. in the previous year. The increase under this head is mainly due to the appointment of a passed Sub-Overseer on an increased salary of Rs. 50 per month.

17. During the year Rs. 1,675 were adjusted against the amount advanced in 1897-98 for gratuitous relief in the district, and Rs. 1,267 were expended from the Road Fund in connection with bubonic plague, viz., Rs. 267 on account of wages of four plague chaukidars stationed at the Giridih and Moheshmunda Railway stations, and cost of printing the plague notifications, and Rs. 1,001 on account of contributions paid to Provincial Government in connection with plague camps in Bengal under orders of the Government of Bengal conveyed in its Circulars No. 16T.M., dated 7th November 1898, and No. 6Medl., dated 14th January 1899.

18. Water-supply.—The following statement shows the thana totals in Form No. I of the water-supply register as prescribed in paragraph 3 of Bengal Government Circular No. 8T.M., dated 15th May 1896:—

Out of 21 dari (spring) wells constructed by the Road Cess Committee, 6 dari wells having been constructed in villages containing 100 houses or more have been entered in the water-supply registers Nos. I and II, and the remaining 15 dari wells have been constructed in villages containing less than 100 houses. In addition of 6 dari wells referred to above, 11 tanks and 83 wells were entered in the water-supply registers Nos. I and II during the year. These tanks and wells are situated in three villages in the Giridih subdivision, containing 100 houses and more, and they have been traced after the completion of the water-supply registers. The total of the statement showing the thana totals of Form I has been increased by 11 tanks and 89 wells.

19. The Monthly Accounts of the Committee were, as usual, audited by a Sub-Committee consisting of the Vice-Chairman and two members appointed under section 174 of the Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880.

SURES CHANDRA DAS, for Chairman.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Ranchi, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District during the year 1898-99.

[Vide letter No 42D.R., dated 7th June 1899, from H. C. STREATFIELD, ESQ., C.S., Chairman, District Road Committee, Ranchi, to the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division.]

Working of the Committee.—The number of effective members was 10 against 11 in the previous year. The decrease of one member is due to no one having been appointed in place of the late Mr. L. G. Middleton. Five meetings were held during the year against three in the previous year with an average attendance of 5 against 6. This decrease of one is principally due to the illness of a Ranchi member who left the place for some time for treatment. All the five meetings were special, and none had to be adjourned for want of a quorum.

RECEIPTS.

2. The total income of the Committee, excluding the "Debt heads," amounted to Rs. 43,695-9-10 against Rs. 50,211-4-5 in the previous year, as compared in the statement below:—

PARTICULARS OF INCOME.	Amount of income in 1897-98.			Amount of income in 1898-99.
	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Cess on Lands	48,290	8	4	39,983	5	11

Contribution by private individuals ...	250	0	0	.....
Total ...	50,211	4	5	43,695	9	10

The decrease is due to cesses due from the Chota Nagpur estate on account of the kist ending the 28th March 1899 not having been paid till after the close of the year. The decrease under "Interest on arrear collections of Road Cess" is due to no interest having been collected from the Chota Nagpur estate. On the other hand, the increase under "Fees, fines, and forfeitures" is due to the realization of fines under section 18 of the Cess Act; that under "Miscellaneous" is mainly due to a sum of Rs. 333-0-4 having been paid by the Government and the Wards' and Encumbered estates as contribution for supervision of works in those estates during the years 1895-96 to 1897-98; and that under the head "Receipts from staging bungalows" is due to arrear rent and advance for the current year on account of the Silli Cart Serai having been collected during the year, and also to the collection of rents from the Lohardaga Inspection Bungalow for its comparatively longer occupation by some European gentlemen. No contribution was made by private individuals.

EXPENDITURE.

3. The following statement compares the expenditure of the Committee, excluding the "Debt heads," during the past two years:—

Total ...	48,760	0	8	43,382	10	5

The increase under "Revaluation charges" is due to the revaluation operations having continued throughout the whole of the year, whereas in the preceding year it was in operation during the last three months. The increase under "Establishment and contingencies of Committee's office" is principally due to arrears of latrine rate on account of the office and godown having been paid during the year. No payment was made in the previous year for stationery supplied during that year, and this explains the increase under "Stationery." The increase under "Printing" is due to a greater quantity of the Public Works Department forms supplied to the District Engineer's Office, which had been exhausted during the previous year on account of the relief operations. The increase under "Miscellaneous" is due to the entire sum of Rs. 333-0-4, received as contribution for supervision of works in the Government and Wards' estates during the years 1895-96 to 1897-98, having been paid to the District Engineer. Under the head "Contribution to Provincial Government" is included an expenditure of Rs. 855 paid as contribution for plague camps in Bengal, and this has caused an increase under the head. The increases under "Audit-fees," "Miscellaneous Public Improvements—New Works," and "Petty Establishment" are very slight, and do not call for any remarks. On the other hand, the decrease under "Establishment and contingencies of office of collection" is due to the fact that after the death of the late Cess head clerk, the cost on account of this post was reduced to the minimum of Rs. 50 a month, instead of Rs. 70 for the last two and a half months for which payments were made during the year. The very small expenditure under head "Communications—New Works" is due to the fact that the project for constructing a bridge over the Sunk river on the Ranchi-Lohardaga road had to be kept in abeyance for want of funds. During the previous year, a greater amount was spent on repair works in order to provide work for the relief operations, whereas no such provision had to be made during the year 1898-99, and this has caused a decrease of expenditure under "Communications—Repairs." The decrease under "Public Works Establishment" is due to an Overseer drawing Rs. 80 a month and a fixed travelling allowance of Rs. 30, being absent on leave without allowances for nearly four months, and to the appointment of a temporary Sub-Overseer in his place on Rs. 30 only and a fixed travelling allowance of Rs. 15 only a month. The decrease under "Tools and Plant" is due to no tools and plant having been purchased for relief operations during the year, as was the case in the preceding year. Owing to the funds at the disposal of the Committee having been crippled by the preceding year's relief operations, Government in August last sanctioned the overdrawal by the Committee of their account in the local treasury up to Rs. 8,000 which was recouped during the year.

4. Original Works.—A sum of 8 annas only was spent in taking certain surveys in connection with the preparation of a project for the construction of a bridge over the Sunk on the 44th mile of the Ranchi-Lohardaga road. There was a provision of Rs. 7,000 in the Budget Estimate for the year, but the whole of this amount had subsequently to be transferred to the closing balance of the year, and the work was kept in abeyance for want of funds. A sum of Rs. 101 was paid on account of compensation of land acquired for extending the compound of the Jaria Inspection bungalow on the 33rd mile of the Ranchi-Palkot road.

5. Repairs.—Twenty District and all the Village roads were maintained during the year. The total length of all sorts of roads was 881½ miles, of which 497½ miles were District roads and 384 miles were Village roads, kept up at Rs. 18,444 and Rs. 6,116 respectively, or a total cost of Rs. 24,560. The details of the mileage and cost of the different classes of roads are shown in the following table:—

DESCRIPTION OF ROADS.	DISTRICT ROADS.		VILLAGE ROADS.		TOTAL.
	Length in miles.	Cost.	Length in miles.	Cost.	Length in miles.	Cost.

Total ...	497½	18,444	384	6,116	881½	24,560

The expenditure of Rs. 24,560 incurred in the maintenance of roads as shown above includes a sum of Rs. 547 spent on test relief works on three of the marginally-noted* village roads in the Karra thana, where distress was apprehended owing to a partial failure of the winter rice crop of 1897-98. The works did not, however, attract much labour, and were accordingly closed in July last. The repair works consisted principally of surface and reconstruction of temporary repairs bridges, and in regravelling sixteen miles of the

3. Karra-Khunti „

Ranchi-Lohardaga road, out of which the wheel tracks were metalled with stone metal to a width of six inches. No roads within the limits of municipalities were maintained by the Committee.

6. A sum of Rs. 415 was also spent in completing the stone flooring of the office bungalow, and in thoroughly repairing this building and the godown. Four inspection bungalows and eleven huts or rest-houses were also repaired at a cost of Rs. 790.

7. Water-supply.—A sum of Rs. 217 was spent by the Committee in the construction of a pucka well at Silli. The work was, however, not completed during the year. The sub-joined statement gives particulars of water-supply in the district:—

8. As reported in the previous year's report, there is no likelihood of a failure of drinking-water in this district, where every village has one or more perennial natural springs (daris), which afford a wholesome supply of drinking-water. In isolated cases, however, these springs run very low in the hot weather, thereby causing some inconvenience to the villagers in their neighbourhood. There are also wells in nearly all the big villages, but it is very difficult to ascertain how far these are perennial. Many of them run dry or nearly so during the hot weather. It is the same with tanks and bundhs which are, however, fewer in number. As a rule, the people prefer spring water to well-water, and very seldom drink tank water.

9. Arboriculture.—A sum of Rs. 715, debited to repairs of roads, was spent in maintaining the roadside trees. One hundred and five seedlings reared in the nurseries were planted out to fill up the gaps in the avenues, caused by a number of the young plants having died during the hot weather. Bamboo gabions (570) and mud enclosures (180) were supplied for the protection of roadside trees. A nursery was maintained within the compound of the godown, and five hundred mangoe seedlings were planted during the year. Besides these, other kinds of plants sown in the preceding year were taken care of. Small nurseries were also maintained within the compounds of the Opa and Lohardaga inspection bungalows, and were looked after by the chaukidars.

10. The several establishments under the Committee performed their duties satisfactorily.

11. The Accounts of the Committee were audited monthly by the Vice Chairman and two other English-knowing members of the Committee, and the Local Auditor tested them from 1st July 1897 to 30th November 1898.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Palamau, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District during the year 1898 99.

[Vide letter No. 38D.R., dated 13th May 1899, from C. P. Beacheroft, Esq., C.S., Chairman, District Road, Committee, Palamau, to the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division]

1. Working of the District Road Committee.—There were eleven meetings of the District Road Committee held during the year. In all of these a sufficient number of members were present to form a quorum. The average attendance of members was 8·5 against 6·7 in the preceding year out of a total of 19 members, including the Chairman.

RECEIPTS.

2. The working of the Cess Act.—The road cess was levied in the district at the maximum rate of half an anna in the rupee, both on the annual value of lands and on the annual net profits from mines. The demand on account of cess on lands and mines for the year was the same as in the previous year, viz. Rs. 43,524. The year commenced with an arrear balance of Rs. 11,359, and this, together with the current demand for the year, minus Rs. 1,584 previously paid in advance, gave a total of Rs. 53,299 for collection within the year. Of this sum, Rs. 11,322 were realised on account of arrears and Rs. 30,598 on account of the current demand, leaving a balance at the end of the year of Rs. 12,963 against Rs. 11,359 in the preceding year. Besides the arrear and current collections mentioned above, a sum of Rs. 1,441 was collected in advance for the year 1899-1900. Thus the total collections during the year 1898-99 amounted to Rs. 43,364 against Rs. 41,407 in the preceding year. Out of the balance of Rs 12,963 a sum of Rs. 3,742 has been collected since the close of the year. The following are the principal defaulting estates:—

		Rs.

EXPENDITURE

3. Civil Buildings: (a) New works.—The following are the works costing Rs. 500 and above completed during the year by the District Road Committee from funds placed at their disposal by Government:—

(1) A permanent court building for the Munsif at Daltonganj.

(2) Khas tahsil offices with muharrirs and peons' quarters at Lesliganj, Latiahar and Garu.

The former, was completed and made over to the civil officers on the 2nd of January 1899. The actual cost of the building was Rs. 9,917-14-1 against a sanction of Rs. 9,920, which includes the supplementary sanction of Rs. 350 accorded in Government letter No. 3506, dated the 29th June 1898. Expenditure recorded during the year was Rs. 5,602-7. The latter work, which consists of an office building with separate quarters for muharrirs and peons at each of three tahsil centres at Lesliganj, Latiahar and Garu, was also completed and made over during the year. The aggregate cost was Rs. 7,218-0-6 against a sanction of Rs. 7,272. The expenditure during the year was Rs. 4,112-9-4. The following table shows the estimated cost and outlay on new works of all descriptions undertaken and carried out during the year:—

(b) Repairs.—The year opened with an unexpended balance of the previous year amounting to Rs. 1,214-4-10. The Government grant received during the year for maintenance of the civil buildings was Rs. 2,820-4-6. There was thus a sum of Rs 4,034-9-4 available for expenditure during the year. The following table shows the expenditure in quadrennial and petty repairs of all descriptions executed during the year:—

4. Communications: (a) New Works.—The District Road Committee having been made to bear, at the first instance, the whole of the revaluation charges during the year from their limited resources, the expenditure on civil works, both new works and repair, had to be kept as low as possible. There were not only no new works undertaken, but expenditure was also avoided as much as possible on the sanctioned but unfinished works, viz., the construction of pucca culverts on Hossenabad road and construction of Garhwa-Sirguja road. The following are the works borne on the register of works during the year :—

(1) First section, Garhwa-Sirguja road.—As reported last year, the work was not completed and finally paid for. An expenditure of Rs 63-9 only was incurred for widening the road through Ranka busti. The contractor undertaking the construction of the road was repeatedly warned during the year to complete the work and rectify the defects pointed out by the Inspector of Works, Western Circle, during his last inspection; but as he failed to take any step towards the completion, his security deposit was forfeited. The work will now be finished by some other contractor, who will be paid out of the balance of the estimate of the work.

(2) Second section, Garhwa-Sirguja road.—An application was made to Government to replace to the credit of the District Road Fund Rs. 15,000 diverted for famine operations in 1896-97 out of the unexpended balance of the amount sanctioned for the construction of this road, but no orders were received. The contractor was several times asked to resume work, but to no effect. His security deposit was therefore forfeited.

(3) Construction of pucca culverts on Daltonganj-Hossenabad road.—No progress was made on these works during the year. It is doubtful whether it will be good policy to build any more pucca culverts on this road, in view of the construction of the Barun-Daltonganj Railway, which will probably obviate the necessity of constructing pucca culverts on the road beyond Garhwa.

(4) Constructing a 20-feet bridge on the 41st mile of Ranchi road.—A sum of Rs. 406-12-11 was paid in final payment of this work reported as completed last year. The actual expenditure on the work was Rs. 1,084-7-4 against a sanction of Rs. 1,120. The following table shows the budget grant, estimated cost and outlay on new works of all descriptions executed during the year : —

Serial number.	Name of work.	Amount of sanctioned estimate.	Budget grant.	Expenditure during the year.

(b) Repairs.—There is no Provincial or Imperial road in charge of the District Road Committee, nor any roads of classes I and II. The total mileage of roads maintained during the year by the District Road Committee was the same as in previous year, viz. 334½, of which 4½ miles are of class III, 314 miles of class IV and 15½ miles of class VI. Owing to the cess revaluation work the expenditure on their maintenance had to be reduced, especially in the case of unimportant roads. The subjoined table shows separately the budget grants, estimated cost and outlay in the upkeep of each of the three classes of roads.

Class	Length in miles	Budget grant.	Amount of sanctioned estimate.	Expenditure during the year.
1	2	3	4	5
		Rs.	Rs.	Rs. A. P.
III ...	4½	70	200	69 10 5
IV ...	314	8,106	11,277	8,034 0 10
VI ...	15½	74	150	74 6 0
Total ...	334½	8,250	11,627	8,178 1 3

The total expenditure on 4½ miles of class III roads was Rs. 69-10-5 against Rs. 130-5 in the preceding year, or an average of Rs. 15-8 against Rs. 29 in the preceding year. The total expenditure on 314 miles of class IV roads was Rs. 8,034-0-10 against an allotment of Rs. 8,106, or an average of Rs. 24 per mile against Rs. 23-10 in the preceding year. The total expenditure on 15¾ miles of class IV roads was Rs. 74-6 against an allotment of Rs. 74, or an average of Rs. 4-12 per mile against Rs. 3 in the preceding year. The total expenditure on roads of classes III, IV and VI during the year was Rs. 8,178-1-3, or an average of Rs. 24-13 per mile against Rs. 23 in the preceding year. The principal items of works executed in repairing the roads were as follows :—

(1) Jungle clearing from banks and slopes, petty repairs to surface dressing.
(2) Drain clearing and new drain cutting where the road is undistinguishable from the surrounding ground to improve drainage.
(3) Repairing and rebuilding temporary jungle wood culverts.
(4) Gravel patch repairs to the few miles that are gravelled.
(5) Such small improvements as could be effected within the limits of the allotments, viz., raising low portions of roads by new earthwork and gravelling portions which become especially heavy owing to the nature of the soil.

5. Village roads.—There are 28½ miles of roads classed as "village roads." Of this 4½ miles are class III, 8 miles class IV and 15¾ miles are class VI. The total expenditure during the year on this class of roads was Rs. 289-11-9 against Rs. 300-12-8 in the preceding year, or an average of Rs. 10 per mile against Rs. 11 in the year previous.

6. Inspection bungalows.—The staging bungalow at Daltonganj having been converted into an inspection bungalow, the number of inspection bungalows was raised from 15 to 16 this year. The subjoined table shews the amount expended in the upkeep of inspection bungalows during the year.

Serial number.	Name of bungalow.	Station.	Schedule number of roads on which situated.	Amount expended on repairs.

Besides ordinary maintenance repairs, the roof of the Kajri and Manatu bungalows were thoroughly renewed during the year, and planked ceilings were substituted for cloth ceilings at Khamdih, Manatu and Manka. The re-roofing of the Manka and Khamdih bungalows completed towards the end of last year was finally paid for during the year. Besides Rs. 1,152-11-4 shown in the tabular statement as expenditure proper on repairs of the inspection bungalows, a sum of Rs. 30-9 was expended for payment of municipal taxes on the Daltonganj inspection bungalow and Rs. 25-15-6 for meeting petty contingent charges of all the inspection bungalows. Thus the total expenditure on repairs of the inspection bungalows during the year was Rs. 1,209-3-10.

7. Miscellaneous Public Improvements. (a) New Works.—Under this head the following works were executed during the year :—

(1) Construction of pucca Hospital and Charitable Dispensary at Daltonganj.—This building was completed last year. Rs. 669-1-5 were spent during the year on construction of an out-house and compounder's quarters and on the purchase of furniture, &c., for the new hospital. The total expenditure incurred on this building to the end of the year was Rs. 11,054-3.

(2) Construction of pucca wells at Manka and Latiahar.—This work was undertaken last year, but not completed. The Manka well was a failure; rock was struck, and the well could not be made sufficiently deep The Latiahar well was completed during the year. Altogether Rs. 337-1-4 against an allotment of Rs. 1,000 was spent on the two wells.

(3) Improvement of Government Estates.—A sum of Rs. 875 were placed to the credit of the District Road Fund from the Government Estates Improvements Fund. The following works were executed out of this fund during the year:—

(i) Survey of Nadowra Nadi Irrigation Scheme.—The preliminary surveys and levels, &c., of this scheme for improvement of some Government villages were completed at a cost of Rs. 155-3, of which Rs. 125-3 were spent during the year.

(ii) Odeypur-Sagalim Road.—A sum of Rs. 300 was expended in completing the earthwork of this road from Odeypur viâ Tarhassi to Sagalim, all of which are Government villages This road was undertaken as a relief work during the last famine.

(iii) Lesliganj-Bari Road.—A sum of Rs. 200 was expended in completing the earthwork of this road. This was also an unfinished relief work.

(b) Repairs.—No expenditure was incurred during the year under this head.

8. Establishment.—There was no member of the Public Works Department in the district for supervision of provincial works and repairs. They were all carried out under the supervision of the District Engineer. The permanent establishment maintained for the design, construction and maintenance of works and repairs remained the same as in the preceding year, viz., one District Engineer on Rs. 250 a month, of which Government contributes Rs 100 per month, and one Sub-Overseer on Rs. 35 a month. Besides the above, two temporary Sub-Overseers were employed for a portion of the year to look after the construction of the munsifi and tahsil offices completed during the year. There was also a temporary work establishment consisting of three road munshis and three road peons who assisted the permanent establishment in carrying out the work and repairs to which their pay was charged. The cost of the establishment during the year was Rs. 5,589-8 against an allotment of Rs. 5,660. The following statement shows the relative expenditure on works and repairs as compared with the expenditure on establishment employed thereon during years 1897-98 and 1898-99:—

District.	Year.	Revenue.	Amount spent on new works.	Amount spent on repairs.	Total expenditure on new works and repairs.	Expenditure on account of establishment employed on works. 9. Petty Establishment.—The cost of this establishment during the year was Rs. 606 against the same allotment in the budget.

10. Tools and Plant.—The expenditure under this head was Rs. 36-15-8 against the budget allotment of Rs. 140.

11. The closing balance of the District Road Fund in the preceding year was Rs. 22,163 and that in the year 1898-99 Rs. 15,010. This balance could not be brought down to the prescribed limit owing to certain grants being received from Government too late in the year for execution of works in connection with Public Works Department buildings.

12. Water-supply.—The statement shows the thana totals in Form I prescribed in paragraph 3 of the Bengal Government Circular No. 8T.M., dated the 15th May 1896, and the sources of water-supply of all the thanas in the district as they stood on the 31st March 1899 :—

A sum of Rs. 337-1-4 was expended by the District Road Committee during the year in constructing a pucca well at Latiahar. There are very few wells in the district which can be depended upon to give water all the year round. This is due to the shortsighted policy of only sinking a well deep enough to give water throughout the cold weather. In the month of May, when most needed, nearly all the wells in the district run dry. Statistics were collected in the Deputy Commissioner's office, but the figures are incorrect, many wells being classed as perennial which have no claim to the title. The figures given in column 13 of Form No. 1 are only approximate. There are 98 villages in the district, which contain 100 houses or more. Nearly all of these are situated close to rivers or nadis, which form the main water supply of the people. These rivers and nadis nearly all run dry, but water can always be obtained close to the surface by making shallow wells.

13. The accounts of the Committee's office are kept under the direct supervision of the Chairman. These accounts as well as those of the office of the District Engineer were audited by the Standing Sub-Committee, composed of the Vice-Chairman and two other ex-officio members, appointed under the provisions of section 174 of the Cess Act. The Local Auditor during his inspection in March last checked the accounts of the year up to the end of December 1898. The accounts of the remaining three months have not been checked by him. They have, however, been examined by the Audit Sub-Committee.

Vice-Chairman.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Manbhum, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District during the year 1898-99.

[Vide Letter No. 27D.R., dated the 24th May 1899, from H. F. T. MAGUIRE, Esq., I.C.S., Chairman, District Road Committee, Manbhum, to the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division.]

Working of the Committee.—During the year the Committee held fifteen meetings for the transaction of their business. No meeting was held without a quorum.

RECEIPTS.

2. Working of the Cess Act.—The demands, collections and balances of the Road and Public Work Cesses for the year 1898-99 are shown in the following statement:—

The outstanding balance of the year 1897-98 was Rs. 25,969 and the demand for the year was Rs. 80,800 against Rs. 36,842 (outstanding) and Rs. 79,482 (demands) respectively for the previous year. The increase in demand is due to the assessment of some of the new collieries. The collection during the year was Rs. 71,345 against Rs. 90,126 of the previous year. The percentage of the total collection is 66·8. The deficient collection is chiefly due to failure to collect from the Patkum and Barahabhum encumbered Estates.

3. The Government have sanctioned the revaluation of 67 estates in this district. The revaluation commenced in August last. Twenty-eight estates have been revalued during the year. The new valuation of these estates is Rs. 20,305 against Rs. 13,599 in the previous valuation. This will give an increase of Rs. 419 in the amount of cesses.

4. The following statement shows the total amount placed in the hands of the District Road Committee consisting of Road Cess and other miscellaneous collections and the expenditure during the year.

EXPENDITURE.

5. Original Works.—Communications.—(1) A sum of Rs. 500 was provided for in the revised budget for the construction of a new road to connect the Grand Trunk Road and the coal siding line on the 14th mile of the Barakar-Katras branch of the East Indian Railway. The land required for this road has not been acquired yet, and the road could not therefore be constructed. (2) A sum of Rs. 1,000 was provided for the improvement of water-supply in the district. This amount was to have been spent in excavating two wells and lining them with pucka brick masonry one in village Puncha in the 7th mile of the Hura-Manbazar road and the other in village Dondra in the 20th mile of the Purulia-Ranchi road, at a cost of Rs. 250 each, and in deepening and improving an old tank near Chandil in the southern part of the district at a cost of Rs. 500. The works were undertaken towards the end of the year, and, though partly executed, no payment was made within the year.

6. Repairs.—Communications.—The total length of the road repaired and maintained by the Committee during the year was 493¼ miles, including 59 miles of Provincial roads, against a total of 483¼ miles in the previous year. There has been no change in the length of the Provincial roads under the Committee. The increase in the District roads of all classes from 424½ to 434½ miles is due to the following Feeder roads, &c., to some of the Railway Stations which were constructed during the last scarcity having been taken up for maintenance during the year:—

	Miles
(1) Road to the Adra station of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway from Chinpina in the 28th mile of the Raghunathpur-Raniganj road	2
(2) Road to the Kalubathan station of the East Indian Railway from Nirsa in the 156th mile of the Grand Trunk Road ...	3
(3) Road to the Katrasgarh station of the East Indian Railway from Katras in the 6th mile of the Rajganj-Nowagarh road ...	2
(4) Portion of road from Chandil (near Bengal-Nagpur Railway station of that name) in the 82nd mile of the Purulia-Chaibassa road towards the border of the district in the direction of Bunda in Ranchi	3
Total ...	10

7. The annual grant for the up-keep of the Provincial roads was as usual Rs. 12,900, and the unspent balance of the preceding year's sanctioned estimates and grants Rs. 5,469, making a total of Rs. 18,369. The amount actually spent on several works is, however, Rs 13,183, viz, Rs. 5,420 on account of the preceding year's works, against the unspent balance of Rs. 5,469 and Rs. 7,763, against the year's grant of Rs. 12,900. A larger amount of work was actually done, but for unavoidable reasons could not be paid for within the year. An abstract of the expenditure on these roads under different heads is given in the statement below:—

Name and description of road.	Length in miles.	Amount spent for—						Cost per mile for—

The works done during the year on these two roads chiefly consisted of the usual annual repairs to the road surface, bridges, bungalows, &c. Besides these, formations and slopes of some of the banks and cuttings in both the roads were adjusted, and the road surface was improved in several places as detailed below:—

Chas-Gulbera Road.—Improvement by gravel work of portions of miles 1, 2, 4 to 8, 10 to 14, 16 and 17, aggregating in all about 7¾ miles.

Purulia-Barakar Road.—(1) Improvement by gravel work of miles 11, 12, 32 and 33, or 4 miles in all. (2) Improvment by stone metal work of miles 9, 31, 44 and 45, and halves of miles 30 and 41, aggregating in all 5 miles.

8. The total amount spent on repairs to District roads of all classes is Rs. 19,695, and unpaid balance of the preceding year Rs. 5,784, against a budget grant of Rs. 26,522, including unspent grants of the preceding year Rs. 5,892. A much larger amount of work was actually done, but chiefly for want of funds payment could not be made within the year, and bills amounting to Rs. 4,343 remained outstanding at the close of the year. Statement below is a classified abstract of the expenditure under the several heads of works on the different roads:—

* If Rs. 280 for repairs to cart serais are added to Rs. 19,696, the total repairs will be Rs. 19,976.

The annual grants for the up-keep of the roads had to be very much reduced during the preceding two years on account of the contributions made towards famine relief operations. The amounts available during the year 1898-99 were much less than what could have been usefully spent in maintaining the roads in their normal condition, especially the portions which had gradually deteriorated. Again, the extraordinary rainfall in June 1898 very much damaged most of the District roads. In several places the waterways were insufficient to discharge the drainage, which overflowed the roadways, breached the banks in several places, and partially washed away some of the culverts. The floods in rivers and nalas also rose to an extraordinary height, and extended far beyond their natural banks in several places, and the approaches to many of them were silted up or cut away in such a way as to make them for a time impracticable for cart traffic. The funds available were altogether inadequate to meet the expenses of the special repairs, and nothing beyond making the roads practicable for carts by opening out cheap diversions near sites of breaches could be done. The operations of the year were in consequence almost wholly restricted to ordinary necessary repairs to the several roads. The following roads, however, on which the traffic is very heavy and which urgently require thorough repairs, were improved by remetalling:—

(1) About 3 miles of the Purulia station roads, i.e., those roads which directly connect the Purulia-Ranchi road and the Railway Goods shed.

(2) About 1½ miles of the Purulia-Bankura road, i.e., the portion of the road which connects the Purulia bazar with the Railway Station.

(3) About 1 mile of the Purulia-Manbazar road, i.e., the portion from the Purulia bazar to the Railway Station.

(4) About half a mile of the Purulia-chaibassa road.

9. Repairs—Buildings.—There are no other buildings besides the inspection bungalows and cart serais in the several roads under the Committee. In addition to ordinary annual repairs to these buildings, the year's work included reconstruction of some out-buildings for the Inampur bungalow in the 9th mile of the Purulia-Barakar road (Provincial road), but the work was taken in hand late, and no payment was made within the year.

10. Sanitation—(d) Miscellaneous.—There was no grant or expenditure under these heads during the year.

11. Arboriculture.—The work done under this head out of the District Road Fund was restricted to the maintenance of trees and plants in and near the Purulia station roads. The amount actually spent is Rs. 124, being wages of malis for looking after the trees, and a bil for Rs. 39 for planting new trees in gaps, supplying gabions, &c., remained unpaid at the close of the year. The grant for the year was Rs. 204. The savings are due to the fact that the services of two malis were dispensed with during the year. There were 2,384 trees in all at the end of the year against 2,426 at the end of the previous year. In spitel of several gaps having been filled up, this decrease of 42 trees is due to 78 old siris and cork trees having been blown down by high winds within the year. The comparative statement given below shows the result of the work done under this head in the Provincial roads under the Committee:—

Name of road.	Number of trees at the end of 1897-98.			Number of trees at the end of 1898-99.			Total increase.
	Established.	Not established.	Total.	Established.	Not established.	Total.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Chas-Gulbera road ...	413	578	991	541	630	1,171	180
Purulia-Barakar road, 1st section.	870	299	1,169	942	456	1,398	229
Purulia-Barakar road, 2nd section.	1,806	471	2,277	1,828	460	2,228	11

Six out of 16½ miles in the Chas-Gulbera road and 20 out of 42 miles in the Purulia-Barakar road (including miles 25 to 28 in which the trees are all established and in which there is hardly anything to be done) were under plantation during the year. This is an increase of 2 miles in the length of avenues, as compared with that at the end of the previous year, being one mile in each road. The increase in the total number of trees shown in the statement given above is chiefly due to the extension of the plantation. The result in the 2nd section of the Barakar-Purulia road is actually better than the figure against it in the last column of the above statement would indicate; for about 33 bor branches, which were planted and had struck root in miles 25, to 28, and were shown as "established trees" in the preceding year's return, were destroyed by white-ants during the year. On the whole the result is not very good, though it is an improvement on the results of the two preceding years.

Abstract of the Report by the Chairman, District Road Committee of Singhbhum, on the operations of the District Road Fund of the District for the year 1898-99.

[Vide letter No. 34R.C., dated 29th July 1899, from W. B. Thomson, Esq., Chairman, District Road Committee, Singhbhum, to the Commissioner of Chota Nagpur.]

Working of the Committee.

1. During the year the Committee held six meetings for the transaction of business against five in the preceding year. The attendance of the members in all the meetings of the year was sufficient to form a quorum.

RECEIPTS.

Working of the Cess Act IX (B.C.) of 1880.

2. The Road Cess in the District was, as usual, levied at the maximum rates prescribed by law.

3. The following table compares the opening balance, income, expenditure and closing balance of the Singhbhum District Road Fund with those of the previous year in round figures.

Original works.

5. A sum of Rs. 6,552 was expended under this head against Budget allotment of Rs. 6,938. The principal items are as follows:—

(1) Gravelling of about 6 miles of the heavy portions of several roads at a cost of Rs. 3,034.

(2) Purchasing at a cost of Rs. 303 three iron girders for the construction of the Dobro bridge on the 5th mile of the Chaibassa-Bend road.

(3) Construction of some culverts and bridges at a total cost of Rs. 3,215 on the four important roads, viz.—

(1) Chaibassa-Bend,
(2) Chaibassa-Amda,
(3) Chaibasa-Jyntgarh, and
(4) Chaibassa-Katbari,

Repair works.

6. The works under this head chiefly consisted of the annual maintenance of the several roads in the district, including repairs to bridges and culverts on them, and were generally much the same as in previous years. The total expenditure during the year was Rs. 6,843, distributed amongst different classes of roads as per details given below:—

(a) A sum of Rs. 941 was spent in repairing five important culverts on the Chaibassa-Bend road, which were damaged by a high flood during the year.

(b) One hundred and four miles of II class roads (Chaibassa-Bend and Chaibassa-Subarnarekha river roads) were repaired at a cost of Rs. 1,249, the average cost per mile being Rs. 12 00.

(c) Forty-nine miles of III class roads, viz., Chaibassa-Jyntgarh and Chaibassa-Amda roads, were maintained at a cost of Rs. 1,673, the average cost per mile being Rs. 34·14 This sum includes cost of clearing drains and cutting side-drains, &c.

(d) Eighty-three miles of IV class roads were maintained at a cost of Rs. 911, the average cost per mile being Rs. 11·01.

(e) One hundred and seventy-seven miles of V class roads were maintained at a cost of Rs. 1,404, the average cost per mile being Rs. 7·93

(f) Fifty-one miles of village roads were maintained at a cost of Rs. 158, being Rs. 3 09 per mile.

(g) A sum of Rs. 379 was expended during the year in executing urgent repairs to the inspection bungalows and huts situate on the several roads.

(h) An expenditure of Rs. 125 was incurred during the year in rearing roadside trees and repairing gabions. This sum includes the wages of two road mates entertained for looking after and watering the trees along the first few miles of the four important roads, viz, Bend, Jyntgarh, Katbari and Amda Roads.

Plague

7. The District Road Committee spent a sum of Rs. 2,021 up to the end of the year to meet the salary of the chaukidars employed by the District Superintendent of Police on several Railway Stations to detect suspected cases.

Water supply

8. No expenditure was incurred by the District Road Committee under this head during the year. A sum of Rs. 4,410, however, was spent by Government in the excavation of 11 new bandhs and in repairing several old ones in several villages of the Kolhan Government Estate for irrigation and drinking purposes. The following statement shows the sources of water-supply in the district :—

Accounts.

10. The accounts of the Committee's office have all along been kept under the supervision of the Vice-Chairman. These accounts as well as those of the District Engineer's office were audited monthly by the Standing Sub-Committee, consisting of the Vice-Chairman and two other members appointed under the provision of section 174 of the Act. The accounts were also inspected by the Local Auditor in February 1899. The annual accounts have been, as usual, examined by the Standing Sub-Committee under section 179 of the Cess Act, and subsequently adopted at a meeting of the District Road Committee held on the 29th June 1899.

SAHU RAM,
Offg. Road Cess Accountant.

MOHINI MOHAN GHOSH,
Vice-Chairman.

W. B. THOMSON,
Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Singhbhum.

Abstract of the Report by the Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Parganas, on the operations of the District Road Account of the district during the year 1898-99.

[Vide letter No. 170P.W., dated the 9th June 1899, from R. Carstairs, Esq., Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Parganas, to the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division and Sonthal Parganas.]

1. THE District is not under the operations of the Cess Act of 1880, and there is no Road Cess Committee. All the functions and powers of such a Committee are exercised by the Deputy Commissioner, who carries out works under the District Road Account with the aid of the Subdivisional Officers and the District Engineer.

RECEIPTS.

2. Funds were as usual provided by Government. The table below compares the receipts of the year 1898-99 with those of the year preceding and the opening balances for those years:—

	1897-98. Rs.	1898-99. Rs.
Balance on 1st April ...	23,521	15,231
Miscellaneous—
Rents of serais and bungalows ...	402	754
Fees, fines, and forfeitures ...	5	398
Miscellaneous	371	588
Private donations ...	6,000
Grant from Government	63,846	1,14,537
Total Revenue ...	70,624	1,16,277
Suspense Accounts—
Advance	9,031	8,500
Deposit	1,738	3,561
Total, including balance ...	1,04,911	1,43,569

During the year a sum of Rs. 155, which was outstanding since 1897-98 on account of rent of Rajmahal dâk bungalow, was credited, and consequently the receipts on account of that bungalow was greater than those of previous year. Besides, there were larger receipts in Dumka dâk bungalow, and hence the increase under head "Rents of serais and bungalows." The increase under head "Fees, fines and forfeitures" is chiefly due to the adjustment, under instructions from Accountant-General, Bengal, of an item of Rs. 387, being the security deposit of a contractor which was forfeited in the year 1896. The increase under head "Miscellaneous" is mainly due to large receipts from sale of fruits and to a new item of income, viz., the fee of 2½ per cent. paid by the Wards Department on the estimated cost of work and for general supervision made by the District Engineer under Bengal Government Circular No. 595T.E., dated 8th November 1897. During the year no contribution was received from private persons.

3. The receipts under "Grant from Government" are made up thus—

	Rs.
Annual grant for the district road works	50,000
,, ,, repairs to Imperial and Provincial Civil buildings	6,401
Additional grant on account of special repairs to Provincial Civil buildings	2,160
Grant for pay and allowance of a Public Works Department Sub-Overseer	655
Grant for pay of a Public Works Department Sub-Overseer for one month	35
Travelling allowance to a Public Works Department Earthquake Sub-Overseer	5
Cost of gauge reading by telegram	123
Annual grant for miscellaneous public improvements in Government estates for 1898-99	15,820
Ditto ditto for 1897-98 received during the year 1898-99	17,956
Grant for original Public Works	21,382
Total ...	1,14,537

The increase under this head is due to the receipt during the year of allotment for miscellaneous public improvements for two years and to a larger grant for original Public Works than the year preceding.

EXPENDITURE.

4. The expenditure incurred during the year 1898-99 from the District Road Account is shown in the following comparative table:—

Administration—
Establishment and contingencies of Committee's office	1,442	1,771

Repairs	2,939	4,403
Miscellaneous	716	1,442
Sanitary improvement	4,622	327
Suspense accounts—
Advance	9,134	8,041
Deposits	3,294	2,646
Total Expenditure ...	89,683	93,406

5. The increase under "Administration" is due to the following facts:—

Owing to suspension and eventual dismissal of the late Accountant in previous year, full salary was not disbursed during that year, whereas during the year 1898-99 full payment on such account had to be made. Again, a sum of Rs. 359 on account of pension allowance of the late District Road Accountant, Babu Umes Chandra Pal, was disbursed during the year 1898-99 under orders of the Accountant-General, Bengal.

6. The expenditure incurred on original works was Rs. 17,883 against Rs. 14,442 of the year preceding, as detailed below:—

	1897-98. Rs.	1898-99. Rs.
Public Works	4,894	10,701
Land Revenue	4,210	5,413
Ditto (Miscellaneous)	716	1,442
Ditto (Sanitary Improvement) ...	4,622	327
Total ...	14,442	17,883

During the year all the distillery buildings in this district were brought on to the books of the Public Works Department, and a sum of Rs. 3,805 was expended towards their thorough repairs, which has chiefly caused increase under this head.

7. The principal original works executed during the year are noted below:—

(a) District Road Account—

I.—Construction of culverts and drainage pipes on Godda station roads, No. 15A, at a cost of Rs. 597.

II.—Construction of one masonry well in Ghangraband bungalow at an outlay of Rs. 293.

III.—Construction of one masonry well on the 71st mile of road No. 1 at a cost of Rs. 147.

IV.—Improvement of the Babupur bridge on the 68th mile of Bhagalpur-Suri road No. 1, on which a sum of Rs. 874 was expended during the year against a sanctioned estimate of Rs. 3,500.

V.—Improvement of approach road leading to Madhupur staging bungalow at an outlay of Rs. 300.

VI.—Renewing floors of bridges on the 86th and 87th mile, road No. 1, at an expenditure of Rs 155 and Rs. 97, respectively.

VII.—Constructing two masonry culverts on road No. 12 at an outlay of Rs. 495.

(b) Private donation—

VIII.—Construction of Hahajore irrigation work on the 16th mile of Godda-Pirpainti road No. 16, on which Rs. 587 was expended during the year bringing the total outlay on the work to Rs. 2,000 out of the donation of Rs. 2,500 given by the zamindar of Mohagama in August 1893 for the work.

(c) Land Revenue—

IX.—Improvement of Burhait-Durgapur and Burhait-Tinpahar roads, on which a sum of Rs. 316 and Rs. 490, respectively, were expended.

X.—Extension of native quarters of Sahibganj town at an outlay of Rs. 1,470.

XI.—Construction of Lalpathra bridge on Godda-Simlong roads at a cost of Rs. 900.

XII.—Construction of a bridge on Rajmahal-Protabpur road at an outlay of Rs. 904 against an estimate of Rs. 905.

XIII.—Construction of a bridge over the Morell stream, on which a sum of Rs. 1,333 was expended during the year, bringing the total outlay to the end of the year to Rs. 20,188 against the revised estimate of Rs. 21,695 sanctioned in Bengal Government No. 5556L.C. of 21st November 1898.

(d) Public Works—

XIV.—Thorough repairs to the distillery buildings at Dumka, Pakour, Deoghur, Godda and Rajmahal, at a cost of Rs. 839, Rs. 717, Rs. 478, Rs. 1,040 and Rs. 730, respectively

XV.—Construction of a masonry well in the Subdivisional Officer's residence bungalow at Pakour, on which a sum of Rs. 55 was spent during the year, bringing the total outlay to Rs. 605.

XVI.—Supply of punkahs to the Civil Medical Officer's quarters at Dumka at a cost of Rs. 110.

XVII.—Addition of verandahs to the three sides of the old hajat building at Dumka, on which a sum of Rs. 66 was spent during the year, making the total cost amount to Rs. 790.

XVIII.—Construction of an inspection bungalow at Jamtara, on which a sum of Rs. 11 was spent during the year, bringing the total cost to Rs. 1,601 on completion.

XIX.—Construction of a combined Post and Telegraph office at Baidyanath, Deoghur, at a cost of Rs. 2,150.

8. The table given below will show the cost of repairs carried out during the year 1898-99 against that of the year preceding:—

(a) Two miles of these roads are maintained by a zamindar.

All the scheduled District and Village roads were repaired during the year, with the exception of Kumrabad road No. 19, which is as usual maintained by the zamindar of Bolpatta. The cost of its maintenance was not accounted for in the above figures.

10. There were 24 Inspection bungalows, 2 of which were maintained by the zamindars. The rest were kept in fair repair, the cost of maintenance being charged to the roads on which they stand.

11. Private donation.—Against the contribution of Rs. 6,000 made by Raja Ram Ranjan Chakravarty Bahadur, of Hetampur, a sum of Rs. 1,999 was expended for repairs to road from Deoghur to Nagore, and a further sum of Rs. 175 for Ranigram to Asanbani passing through his estates.

12. Provincial and Imperial Funds.—The table given below will show the allotment, outlay and balance of the funds for maintenance of Public Works Department buildings made over to the District Road Accounts:—

Service heads.	Balance on 1st April 1898.	Fixed allotment for 1898-99.	Total amount available for expenditure during the year.	Outlay during the year.	Balance on 31st March 1899.

Allowance for dearness of food grains was paid in 1897-98 to the dâk bungalow khansamas and mehters owing to famine, but there was no such payment during 1898-99, and a sum of Rs. 124 was expended during the latter year against Rs. 200 of 1897-98 for repairs to Sahibganj bungalow; hence the decrease in the expenditure.

14. Sanitation.—A sum of Rs. 441 was paid for the construction of two masonry wells, one on the 35th mile and the other on the 71st mile of the Bhagalpur-Suri Road, No. 1, from the district road accounts. In the previous year the expenditure was Rs. 738 for such works. An aggregate amount of Rs. 321 was spent during the year from the fund for management of Government Estates against Rs. 4,621 for wells in Damin-i-koh.

15. The registers in Forms I and II as prescribed in Government Circular No. 8T.M., of 15th May 1896, have been maintained in all the subdivisions as well as in Deoghur and Sahibganj Municipalities, and are reported to be complete to the end of the year. 16. The existing sources of water-supply were reported to be sufficient in the Jamtara and Godda subdivisions, and no improvements were made in this direction during the year. The supply of water in the Deoghur Municipality and in the rural tracts is also reported to be sufficient. Attempts were made to excavate the Diamond Jubilee well at Deoghur, but owing to the soil being rocky the spring could not be reached, though blasting powder was used, and consequently it was not completed during 1898-99. The Subdivisional Officer, Pakour, reported that beyond sinking five new wells nothing was done to improve water-supply in his subdivision. It is reported by the Subdivisional Officer, Dumka, that out of 25 villages with upwards of 100 houses in his subdivision, the supply of water in 19 villages was sufficient. Of the remaining 6 villages, the respective zamindars were asked to remove the water difficulties. He had been informed that some of the tanks had been cleaned, and some new tanks undertaken to be executed during the famine year 1896-97 were completed during the year 1898-99. He had further added that there is great need for wells and tanks for irrigation purposes. The existing sources of water-supply are reported to be sufficient in the Rajmahal subdivision, except in two villages within Barharwa. During the year one new well was sunk and four old ones improved in the Sahibganj town, where the supply of water was reported to be sufficient.

17. Arboriculture.—A sum of Rs. 190 was expended under this head during the year on transplanting and nursing young trees and trimming the branches of old ones against Rs. 186 of the year preceding.

18. Establishment.—The following comparative table shews the distribution of the outlay on public works during 1897-98 and 1898-99:—

Year.	Works.	Repairs.	Total.	Public Works establishment.		Tools and plant.	Total public works.	Percentage cost of establishment (columns 6 and 8).
				Petty temporary establishment to be excluded.	Cost of establishment to be charged.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1897-98 ...	14,442	39,641	54,083	3,352	11,989	2,996	72,420	16·55
1898-99 ...	17,883	42,990	60,873	2,825	12,749	1,716	78,163	16·31

The increase under head "Establishment" is due mainly to the payment of the travelling allowance of the District Engineer at the enhanced rate sanctioned by Government in No. 1287G., dated 22nd April 1898, and to the payment also of the difference between the old and new rates. The increased rate of pay of the peons from Rs. 5 to Rs. 6 also contributed to the general increase The pay and allowance of the Public Works subordinate, which are directly disbursed from the office of the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, have not been included in the above statement.

19. The abnormal balance at the close of the year was chiefly due to lateness of sanctions to some of the estimates and to the receipts of grants at the end of the year. The income and expenditure on account of the three staging bungalows under the District Road Accounts are shown in the comparative table below :—

NANILAL MUKERJEE,
District Accountant, Sonthal Parganas.

R. CARSTAIRS,
Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Parganas.

DUMKA,
The 9th June 1899.

Abstract of the Report by the Assistant Commissioner, Chittagong Hill Tracts, on the operations of the District Road Accounts of the district during the year 1898-99.

[Vide letter No. 34R., dated 6th June 1899, from J. A. Cave-Browne, Esq., Assistant Commissioner, Chittagong Hill Tracts, to the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.]

RECEIPTS.

The Chittagong Hill Tracts is a non-cess District; there were no cess collections in it. Funds were therefore provided by a Government grant-in aid. The following table shows the receipts and expenditure, as well as the opening and closing balances, of the year compared with those of the previous year :—

Year.	Opening balance on 1st April.	Actual receipts during the year.	Total receipts, including balances.	Expenditure during the year.	Closing balance on 31st March.
1	2	3	4	5	7
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1897-98	8,007 15 0	48,170 13 3	56,178 12 3	52,192 12 1	3,986 0 2
1898-99	3,986 0 2	32,808 7 8	36,794 7 10	34,802 8 5	1,991 15 5

The decrease in the receipts was mainly due to the Government grant being less than that of the previous year. The large grant during 1897-98 was on account of repairs to damages done by the cyclone of the 24th October 1897. The receipts of the year included a sum of Rs. 490-7-8, which was credited to the fund as "Miscellaneous receipts." It consisted of the following:—

(1) A sum of Rs. 4-2-8 received from 2nd Munsif of Patia on account of salary for five days of a clerk who was summoned as witness in his court.

(2) A sum of Re. 1-14-0 received as the pay of a carpenter employed under the District Road Account, who was lent to the Superintendent of the Lushai Hills for three days to repair the boats belonging to that district.

(3) A sum of Rs. 21-6-0 recovered from the late Officiating District Engineer, being the amount drawn by him in excess of his travelling allowance.

(4) A sum of Rs. 460-1-0, being the total earnings during the year of the Barkul Tramway.

(5) Sale proceeds of unserviceable tools and plant, &c.

2. The earnings from the Barkul Tramway during the year were comparatively smaller than that of the previous year, owing to the failure of the crops in cotton and til seeds, as well as to the traffic being stopped for about a month and a half on account of heavy landslips on the line during June 1898

3. The subsidy of Rs. 500 of the District Board of Chittagong for maintaining their roads was not received during the year.

EXPENDITURE.

4. The expenditure under the several sub-heads compared with that of the previous year is shown below:—

SUB-HEADS.	1897-98.	1898-99.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.

Total ...	52,192 12 1	34,802 8 5

5. Of the gross expenditure of Rs. 34,802-8-5 during the year, Rs. 32,871-0-5 represents the expenditure on Public Works, which is detailed below :—

Works.	Repairs.	Establishment.	Tools and plant.	Total.	Percentge of the cost of establishment on outlay on works and repairs.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Rs. A. P. 1,581 8 9	Rs. A. P. 21,131 11 5	Rs. A. P. 7,099 10 6	Rs. A. P. 47 15 6	Rs. A. P 32,871 0 5	27·61

6 Original Works.—The following is the narrative report on the original works executed during the year 1898-99 :—

(b) Buildings—Provincial.—Nil.

(c) Communications—Local.—Five sawn timber bridges, varying from 20′ to 40′ in length, were constructed on the portion of the Chittagong-Fort Haka Road lying between Raojan and Rangamati, at a total outlay of Rs. 1,497-8-0 against an estimate of Rs. 1,507 sanctioned for the purpose.

7. Repairs.—The quarters of Sub-Deputy Collectors and Ministerial Officers in the district which were formerly maintained from the contract contingencies placed at the disposal of the Assistant Commissioner, Chittagong Hill Tracts, were almost blown down by the cyclone of the 24th October 1897. These were reconstructed at a cost of Rs. 2,356-14-6 against the estimate of Rs. 2,384 sanctioned for the work from Public Works Department funds. The other Public Works Department buildings were repaired from allotments sanctioned for each of them. Some furniture was also purchased for the Circuit-house at Rangamati.

8. A sum of Rs. 160 was sanctioned in December 1898 for repairs to the bridge over Tripura Sundari nala at Chandraghona. This bridge was originally constructed by Rai Abhoy Charan Mittra Bahadur as a work of public utility. He having declined to lay out any further amount to put the bridge in order an estimate for repairing the same was submitted to the Commissioner of Chittagong Division for sanction on the 26th February 1898, but the work not having been completed within 31st March 1898, the contractor was not paid within that year. The work has been satisfactorily completed and the man has been paid his dues.

9. Dhoba Chari road at Banderban was generally repaired and maintained by the Bhomong Chief, but since the last two years he appears to have taken no steps for the up-keep and maintenance of the same in spite of urgent demand.

10. The road belonging to the Chittagong District Board was maintained during 1898-99.

11. The whole time monial servants under the Road Account, whose pay is less than Rs. 12 per month, have been paid the grain compensation allowance as sanctioned by Government letter No. 2641F., dated 2nd May 1898.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the reports from 1876:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 22nd June, 1900:

NO. 3 OF 1900.

A Bill to amend the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882, as amended by the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882, as amended by the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1898; It is hereby enacted as follows:

XX of 1882. II of 1898.

1. (1) This Act may bo called the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1900.

Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

(3) It shall remain in force for two years from the commencement thereof.

2. For section 13A of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882, the following section shall be substituted, namely:

Substitution of a new section for section 13A, Act XX of 1882.

"13A. (1) If the Secretary of State for India shall consent to hold in gold coin or gold bullion the equivalent in value to notes issued in India as a reserve to secure the payment of such notes, the Governor General in Council may from time to time direct that currency notes shall be issued to an amount equal to the value of gold so held by the Secretary of State for India at the rate fixed by section 12 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1870.

Gold coin or bullion held as a reserve by Secretary of State.

XXIII 1870.

"(2) If the Secretary of State for India shall transmit the gold held by him under sub-section (1) or any part thereof in the form of gold coin or gold bullion to the Government of India, the coin or bullion so transmitted shall, when received by the Government of India, form part of the currency reserve under section 19.

Gold, if transmitted to India, to form part of reserve.

"(3) If the Secretary of State for India shall think it expedient to expend the gold coin or bullion held by him under sub-section (1) or any other funds at his disposal in the purchase of silver bullion and to transmit the same to India for currency purposes, then—

Transmission of silver bullion by Secretary of State.

(a) the silver bullion so purchased shall, until rupees are added to the currency reserve under clause (b) of this sub-section, be held as security for currency notes; and

(b) the Government of India shall, on receiving such silver bullion, give directions for coining the same into rupees as soon as convenient, and shall add to the currency reserve a number of the rupees so coined equal in value, at the rate fixed by section 12 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, to the price of the silver bullion so purchased and transmitted as aforesaid."

XXIII of 1870.

"(4) (a) Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to prohibit the Government of India from expending any gold coin or gold bullion held as part of the currency reserve under section 19 in the purchase of silver bullion.

Purchase of silver by Government of India.

"(b) The silver bullion so purchased shall, until rupees are added to the currency reserve under clause (c) of this sub-section, take the place of the gold so expended as security for the currency notes issued.

"(c) On receiving such silver bullion, the Government of India shall give directions for coining the same into rupees as soon as convenient, and shall add to the currency reserve under section 19 a number of the rupees so coined equal in value, at the rate fixed by section 12 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, to the gold so expended by the Government of India.

"(5) If the Government of India shall appropriate and set apart in India as a part of the currency reserve under section 19 an amount of coin of the Government of India equal in value to any notes issued under this section, the gold held by the Secretary of State for India as a reserve to secure the payment of such notes shall be dealt with as the Secretary of State shall direct.

Gold held as reserve by Secretary of State may be replaced by coin added to reserve in India.

"(6) Coin or bullion held by the Secretary of State or in transit to India, or in the custody of the Mint Master during coinage, shall be separately shown in the abstract of accounts made up under section 27."

Account.

3. The Indian Paper Currency Act, 1898, and the Indian Paper Currency Act Amendment Act, 1898, are hereby repealed.

II of 1898.
VIII of 1898.

Repeal.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Indian Paper Currency Act, 1898 (II of 1898), expires on July 20 of this year. In answer to a question in the Legislative Council on March 21 last, the Hon'ble Mr. Dawkins stated that it was the intention of the Government of India to prolong that Act for a further period of two years, and the present Bill has been prepared in accordance with that declaration.

In the present Bill, the opportunity is taken to provide for a more convenient procedure under circumstances when it is desired to increase the stock of rupees in the Currency Reserve by the coinage of silver bullion which may be bought for the purpose.

During the last few months it has been necessary to coin a considerable number of rupees to meet increasing requirements for silver coin, and a similar necessity may occur again and possibly at short notice. At present, purchases of silver for coinage can only be effected by employing the Treasury balances, either in London or in India, and their employment may be a cause of inconvenience through the resulting locking up of funds required for current administrative purposes.

It is considered desirable to provide the Government with the means of purchasing silver without the risk of this inconvenience. It is accordingly proposed to take power to use the gold in the Currency Reserve for the purchase of silver for coinage and to issue currency notes on the security of the silver so purchased, until the completion of the coinage shall enable the Government to pay rupees into the Reserve. Under this arrangement, it will be possible to make additions to the silver coinage by using the gold in the Currency Reserve for the purchase of silver bullion, and at the same time the meeting of calls on the Currency Reserve for rupees demanded in exchange for gold or currency notes will be facilitated.

Beacons, buoys, lights, &c.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 298 of 1900) that the following information, dated 29th March 1900, has been received from Commander R. G. O. Tupper, H.M.S. Pylades, respecting the beacons, buoys, and lights, &c., in Otago harbour:—

1. The light (fixed red) shown from the beacon at the Pilot station, Taiaroa head, has been discontinued.

   Approximate position, lat. 45° 47′ S., long. 170° 45′ E.

2. A black buoy has been moored to mark the edge of the bank, which has extended off Williams point, with the eastern extreme of Taylor point bearing N. 52° W., distant one-third of a mile, and Acheron head S. 61° W.

   Approximate position, lat 45° 48′ 0″ S., long. 170° 41′ 35″ E.

3. The black buoy on the southern side of the channel near Acheron head is situated about 2 cables farther to the eastward than given on the Chart, or with Acheron head bearing N. 37° W., distant 1¼ cables, and Rocky point S. 53° W.

4. The light (" F. 15 feet ") on the edge of the bank marked " Sand, mud, and shells " is placed on the Chart about 3 cables to the eastward of its proper position; it is situated with Acheron head bearing N. 31° E., distant 3 cables, and north extreme of Deborah bay N. 61° W.

5. A powder magazine, which is conspicuous, stands on piles erected on " Sand, mud, and shells " bank with Rocky point bearing S. 87° W., distant 4¾ cables, and Bowen pier S. 32° W.

6. A black beacon marks the eastern side of the channel off port Chalmers, situated with Bowen pier head bearing S. 71° W., distant 2⅓ cables, and Rocky point N. 32° W.

7. The two beacons situated 11 and 12 cables respectively S. 26° E. of Rocky point no longer exist.

Particulars of Sangata and other reefs.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 283 of 1900) of the following particulars respecting Sangata, and other reefs in the vicinity, off the south-east coast of Borneo :—

1. Sangata reef, which is about 1¾ miles long and three-quarters of a mile broad, consists of two coral heads with depths of 6½ to 9 fathoms between them, and surrounded by depths of over 100 fathoms; the least depth on the Northern head is 1½ fathoms, the Southern head partially dries.

   Approximate position of Southern head, lat. 0° 19′ 35″ N., long. 117° 42′ 30″ E

   Tide ripples and discoloured water mark this reef.

2. The following coral reefs have been discovered :—

   (a) A reef which dries, oval shaped, 500 yards long, N.E. and S.W., 300 yards broad, and surrounded by depths of 11 fathoms, in approximately lat. 0° 13′ 20″ S., long. 117° 29′ 25″ E.

   (b) A reef with a depth of 1 fathom over it, circular in shape, of about one cable in diameter, and surrounded by depths of 14 fathoms, in approximately lat. 0° 12′ 55″ S., long. 117° 31′ 10″ E.

   (c) A reef with a depth of 1 fathom over it, circular in shape, of about one cable in diameter, and surrounded by depths of 20 fathoms, in approximately lat. 0° 11′ 25″ S., long. 117° 33′ 55″ E.

   About 1,100 yards N. 41° W. of the above is a reef with a depth over it of 1 fathom.

   The above reefs are not easily distinguished.

   (d) A reef which dries, about 500 yards long, North and South, and 300 yards broad, surrounded by depths of 13 fathoms, in approximately lat. 0° 1′ 0″ N., long. 117° 32′ 30″ E.

   About 2½ miles N. 20° W. of the above is a reef with a depth of 1 fathom over it, 100 yards in extent, and surrounded by depths of 10 to 11 fathoms.

   (e) A reef with a depth of 3 feet over it, 400 yards long, N.N.E. and S.S.W., 300 yards broad, and surrounded by depths of 15 to 20 fathoms in approximately lat. 0° 15′ 10″ N., long. 117° 37′ 20″ E.

   Seven cables southward of the above is a reef with a depth of 9 fathoms over it.

   (f) A reef which dries, about 500 yards long, East and West, 300 yards broad, and surrounded by depths of 14 to 16 fathoms, in approximately lat. 0° 17′ 55″ N., long. 117° 34′ 25″ E.

   About 1,700 yards S. 80° W. from the above is a reef with a depth of 3 feet over it and about 200 yards in extent.

   (g) A reef with a depth of 4 fathoms over it, about 300 yards in extent, in approximately lat. 0° 22′ 30″ N., long. 117° 40′ 40″ E.

   (h) A coral reef with a depth of 3 feet over it, circular in form, with a diameter of about 200 yards, in approximately lat. 0° 29′ 50″ N., long. 117° 44′ 30″ E.

   (i) A reef with a depth of 1¾ fathoms over it, circular in form, with a diameter of about 200 yards, in approximately lat. 0° 31′ 5″ N., long. 117° 45′ 0″ E.

   (j) A reef with a depth of 3 feet over it, about 300 yards long, North and South, and 200 yards broad, in approximately lat. 0° 31′ 55″ N., long. 117° 46′ 20″ E.

   (k) A reef with a depth of 3 feet over it, circular in form, with a diameter of about 200 yards, in approximately lat. 0° 36′ 30″ N., long 117° 49′ 55″ E.

   (l) A reef with a depth of 1 fathom over it, about 600 yards long, N.E. and S.W., and 200 yards broad, in approximately lat. 0° 42′ 25″ N., long. 117° 56′ 35″ E.

   (m) A reef which dries in patches, about 2¼ miles long, East and West, one mile broad, and surrounded by depths of 17 to 28 fathoms.

   Approximate position of South-Western corner, lat. 0° 44′ 40″ N., long. 117° 57′ 20″ E.

   About 1,100 yards to the southward of the above position is a reef with the least depth of 6 fathoms over it.

The reefs mentioned from (d) to (m) are marked by discoloured water, though sometimes only so seen at a short distance.

The following reefs do not exist and have been erased from the Charts:—

Kurau, in approximately lat. 0° 47′ N., long. 117° 51¾ E.

A reef, in approximately lat. 0° 28′ N., long. 117° 40′ E.

Bungalen reef has been unsuccessfully searched for, and has therefore been marked E.D. on the Chart.

Approximate position, lat. 0° 33½′ N., long. 117° 57½′ E.

Approach to Port Adelaide.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners No. 177, dated 16th September 1899, issued by this office, the President, Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given further notice (No. 2 of 1900) informing Masters of vessels and others that the erection of the new Lighthouse on Wonga Shoal, Port Adelaide, will be commenced at an early date, and that during the continuance of the work a temporary riding light will be exhibited between sunset and sunrise from the works in progress on that shoal. It is expected that the new Lighthouse will be completed about January 1901.

For a period of about one month before the new light is exhibited from Wonga Shoal, the existing Port Adelaide illuminating apparatus will be removed from its present position at the entrance to the River. During its transfer to the Wonga Shoal Tower a Light of the third order, revolving every thirty seconds (as at present), visible for about fifteen (15) miles, will be exhibited from a temporary tower erected on the position now occupied by the Port Adelaide Lighthouse.

Further notices as to the precise dates of exhibition of the Riding Light at Wonga Shoal, the removal of the existing Port Adelaide Light, the exhibition of the temporary light in lieu thereof, and the first exhibition of the permanent light on Wonga Shoal, will be given in due course.

RESOLUTION—No. 817T.—F.

READ—

The Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1899-1900.

Read again—

The Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1898-99, with the Resolution recorded thereon.

The rainfall of the year was heavier than usual, but did no harm to the foliage plants, ferns, and orchids, the show of which was particularly fine.

2. Plants of economic importance continued to receive attention, especially rhea, a practical machine for extracting the fibre of which is said to have at length been invented. An investigation into the diseases to which sugarcane is subject in Bengal is being conducted by Lieutenant Gage, I.M.S., Curator of the Herbarium. The enquiry into the identity of living plants yielding Indian products of obscure origin was continued during the year with valuable results.

A representative collection of the various mangoes cultivated in Northern India and Bengal has been made on behalf of the Trinidad Government.

3. The collection in the Herbarium was increased by 13,728 specimens, the chief donors being Sir W. T. Thiselton-Dyer, Director of the Royal Gardens, Kew; Dr. Treub, Director of the Buiten Zorg Gardens, Java; the Director of the Vienna Botanic Garden; the United States National Museum and the United States Department of Agriculture; Mr. H. Bolus, of Cape Town; the Directors of the Botanic Gardens at Singapore and Sydney; the Director of the Botanical Department of Northern India; Messrs. Lace, Haines, and Heinig, Forest Department, and Dr. Walker of the Geological Survey. The most valuable of the collections obtained through the agency of the Royal Botanic Garden were a general collection made personally by Lieutenant Gage in the Lushai Hills, a tract hitherto unexplored botanically, and an excellent collection of orchids, chiefly from the Khasia and Jaintia Hills, made under the supervision of Mr. Pantling, Deputy Superintendent, Government Cinchona Cultivation. The number of specimens distributed to other herbaria was 11,129.

4. Nothing of special note occurred at the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling. It escaped with comparatively little injury from the effects of the terrible storm which overtook the station of Darjeeling on the night of the 24th September 1899.

5. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are again due to Major Prain for his efficient management of the Departments under his care.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

No. 11G., dated Govt. Cinchona Plantation, Sureil, Kurseong, the 8th May 1900.

From—MAJOR D. PRAIN, M.B., F.R.S.E., F.L.S., I.M.S., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the 113th Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1899-1900.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1899-1900.

THE weather during the year under review was marked by a heavier rainfall than usual. This had no bad effects on the garden: few casualties have to be reported, and the show of foliage plants, ferns, and orchids in the conservatories has been this season particularly fine. The chief outdoor improvement effected during the year has been the completion of the heavy task of repairing the "Roxburgh Avenue." The necessary earthwork was practically completed at the commencement of the year. During the rains of 1899 the roadway was aligned and metalled, while the work of completing the slopes on either side was successfully carried out during the past cold weather.

2. Economic Plants.—Close attention has, as usual, been given by the Garden staff throughout the year to the propagation and distribution of plants of economic importance. A good deal of public interest has lately been displayed in plants likely to supply good fibre. There has been again an increase in the demand for plants of rhea. A machine for extracting rhea fibre, which is said to fulfil all requirements, and which certainly meets the needs of rhea-growers better than any of the machines hitherto offered, has at last been put upon the market: its advent seems to be likely to give a fresh impetus to rhea cultivation. The number of parties now possessed of smaller or larger stocks of the plant is considerable, and the cultivation of rhea on an extensive scale ought now, if trade prospects prove sufficiently inviting, to be easily undertaken in suitable localities. Great interest is also being shown by many people in the fibres obtainable from Fourcroya, or "Mauritius Hemp;" from Sanseviera, or "Bowstring Hemp;" and particularly from some of the species of Agave under cultivation in India. It is worthy of remark that the interest of cultivators is by no means confined to the particular Agave known as "Sisal Hemp" (Agave rigida, var. Sisalana), the introduction of which, on a large scale, was recorded in the Annual Reports of this Garden for 1892 and for 1893, but extends to the plant known familiarly as the "American Aloe—" not a happy designation, seeing that the plant is not an aloe but an agave, and that, moreover, it is not Agave americana. Every assistance is being afforded to those interested in this matter; but, as with rhea, the great difficulty is not the absence of a supply of plants, but the need for a machine capable of separating their fibre cheaply and satisfactorily.

The Director of Land Records and Agriculture has desired that further investigation should be made into the diseases to which sugarcane is subject in Bengal. To this end he has supplied much fresh material for examination. The investigation is being conducted by Lieutenant Gage, Curator of the Herbarium, whose report will be submitted after a complete series of specimens shall have been received and examined.

Enquiries into the identity of the sources of economic products of obscure or doubtful origin has gone on as usual, and has continued to yield interesting and valuable results. The farther that work of this kind is carried, the more apparent the need for its systematic prosecution becomes. Thanks are again due to the Reporter on Economic Products with the Government of India for much help in conducting these enquiries.

The Inspector-General of Forests has co-operated during the year in obtaining a series of specimens intended to settle definitely the source of the important timber known as padouk, which is at present obscure: all that is certainly known is that this timber is not yielded by Pterocarpus indicus, the species to which it has usually been attributed.

At the instance of the Right Honorable the Secretary of State for India, and in compliance with a request made by the Colonial Office, a representative collection of the various mangoes cultivated throughout Northern India and Burma has been brought together on behalf of the Government of Trinidad.

3. Herbarium.—The work of this department has been carried on as usual during the year. The number of named specimens distributed to other herbaria reached 11,129. The details of this distribution are given in Appendix VI to this report. The number of specimens acquired during the year reached 13,728. The most valuable of the collections obtained through the agency of the Garden were a fine general collection made personally by Lieutenant Gage, Curator of the Herbarium, in the South Lushai Hills, a tract hitherto unexplored botanically; and an excellent collection of orchids, chiefly from the Khasia and Jaintia Hills, made by trained Lepcha collectors working under the supervision of Mr. Pantling, Deputy Director of the Government Cinchona Plantation; much help in connection with this work was also received from Mr. Rita, Assistant Commissioner of Jowai. Valuable collections were also made in the Jaboca Naga Hills, another previously unexplored tract, by a native collector, whose work was again kindly supervised by Mr. Severin, of Tingali Bam; and in the Kachin country by another native collector, of whom Lieutenant Lee, commanding the Battalion of Military Police at Myitkyina, kindly took charge.

Many of the contributed collections were also of great interest and value. Sir W. T. Thiselton-Dyer, K.C.M.G., Director of the Royal Gardens, Kew, presented 1,296 specimens; Dr. Treub, Director of 'S lands Plantentuin at Buitenzorg, Java, contributed 417; the Director of the Vienna Botanic Garden sent 680; while 646 and 275 were sent from Washington by the United States National Museum and the United States Department of Agriculture respectively. A particularly valuable collection of South African orchids was presented by Mr. H. Bolus of Cape Town; while the Directors of the Botanic Gardens at Singapore and Sydney presented 430 and 300 specimens respectively. Some valuable collections were also acquired by purchase.

The chief Indian contributors during the year have been the Director of the Botanical Department of Northern India, who has sent 191 specimens of especial value and interest; Messrs. Lace, Haines, and Heinig, of the Forest Department, who have respectively presented 409, 117, and 25 specimens; and Dr. Walker of the Geological Survey, who has contributed 206.

Sir George King, K.C.I.E., has been engaged at Kew during the past year in elaborating the material of the natural family Melastomaceæ. Thanks are due to him not only for accurately naming the specimens belonging to the Calcutta Herbarium, but for kindly assisting in the distribution of duplicates belonging to this family.

4. Botanical publications.—During the year the eleventh part of Sir George King's Materials for a Flora of the Malayan Peninsula, based largely on the collections contained in the Calcutta Harbarium, has been prepared for publication and is now passing through the press. An Agricultural Bulletin on Agave sisalana, reviewing the attempts made by Government to introduce this plant into India and giving a précis of the experience of gentlemen who have received consignments of the sisal plants thus introduced, was prepared for the Department of Land Records and Agriculture. Thanks are due to the Hon'ble Mr. Bolton, C.S.I., Chief Secretary to Government, for assistance in obtaining the information embodied in this Bulletin.

5. Library.—The usual periodicals were added and a number of books obtained, partly by purchase, partly in exchange. A commencement has been made with the task of rearranging the books in the Library: this has been rendered necessary owing to the steady increase in the size of the collection and the congested state of many of the cabinets.

6. Interchange of Seeds and Plants.—The receipts and issues of seeds and plants are fully detailed in Appendices I—IV. The number of plants distributed was 63,514. The considerable increase as compared with last year is to a large extent due to renewed applications for plants of rhea. Exclusive of rhea, however, the number of plants distributed reached 37,514, against a total for last year of 31,867. The number of plants received reached 16,568. The number of packets of seeds received during the year was 1,059 as against 1,161 received during 1898-99. The number distributed was 3,126. The decrease as compared with 5,794, the number distributed during 1898-99, is almost entirely to be accounted for by the unfortunate circumstance that a destructive storm visited the Darjeeling district in September 1899, caused numerous landslips, destroyed roads and bridges, and so rendered it impossible for the Lepcha collectors, who are employed for this purpose, to visit the higher valleys of Independent Sikkim in order to obtain a collection of Alpine-Himalayan seeds

7. Lloyd Botanic Garden.—The storm alluded to in the preceding paragraph, which on the night of 24th September 1899 caused great damage throughout the station of Darjeeling, did comparatively little harm to the Lloyd Garden. This fortunate result is largely attributable to the judgment shown by the Curator, Mr. Kennedy, in the original alignment of the various garden-paths and in the construction of the garden drains. Some of the paths were indeed considerably scoured, but this happened only in the centre of the Garden and resulted not from the drains being insufficient to carry off the water, but because two landslips, from the Sanitarium Hill above the Garden, choked some of the drains and thus caused these to overflow and damage the paths. A number of slips took place immediately below the Garden, along the Victoria Road and the Convent Jhora, but, compared with much of Darjeeling, the Lloyd Garden may be said to have escaped lightly. This Department was able to assist the local officers of Government by permitting the use of the recently-enclosed ground, formerly known as the municipal vegetable garden, as the site of a refuge camp for native inhabitants, whose houses had been swept away by the storm. The task of laying out this piece of ground as a part of the Lloyd Garden is now going on, but the difficulty in obtaining labour for the purpose—one of the indirect results of the damage done by the storm—has greatly retarded the progress of the work.

8. The money allotted for contingencies for the Royal Botanic Garden has been fully spent. A small saving of Rs. 403 has taken place under the allotment for establishment. From the Lloyd Botanic Garden allotment there remains an unexpended balance of Rs. 429. This can hardly be considered a saving, since this money would, under ordinary circumstances, have been spent as wages for temporary coolies if only the services of such could have been obtained at reasonable rates. The revenues from the Calcutta Garden of Rs. 953-11-3 and from the Lloyd Garden of Rs. 895 have been paid into the treasuries at Howrah and Darjeeling respectively.

9. I was absent on privilege leave for three months from 13th July 1899; during my absence the duties of Superintendent were performed by Lieutenant Gage, I.M.S., in addition to his own as Curator of the Herbarium. Mr. Gage, who has worked well and enthusiastically throughout the year, was absent on privilege leave for one month and one day from 25th October 1899; Mr. G. T. Lane has filled the post of Curator of the Garden throughout the year, and has worked well; Mr. G. H. Cave, Assistant Curator of the Garden, was transferred on deputation to fill a vacancy in the staff of assistants at the Government Cinchona Plantation, Mungpoo, from 27th September 1899; Mr. A. E. P. Griessen, Probationer Gardener, attached to the Royal Botanic Garden, was appointed to act as Assistant Curator, in addition to his own duties, from the date of transfer of Mr. Cave. Mr. Griessen continued to perform these duties till 26th March 1900, on which date he left the Garden to take up the duties of Superintendent of the Taj and other public gardens at Agra, to which post he has been appointed by the Government of the North-West Provinces and Oudh.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP IN BENGAL FOR SEASON 1900.

THE following is published for general information.

F. A. SLACKE,

The 1st July 1900. Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First forecast of the Jute crop in Bengal for season 1900.

Explanatory.—The estimates of the area sown and of the probable outturn of the jute crop, contained in the present forecast, are compiled from the returns submitted by the District Officers of the 26 important jute-growing districts in these Provinces. The area under jute outside these districts is insignificant, and has been left out of consideration. The figures represent the prospects of the crop up to the middle of June.

2. Character of the season.—The rainfall in the jute-growing area fell short of the normal in January, only a few scattered showers being received, while in February it was slightly in excess, especially in Eastern Bengal. In March and April the fall was rather below the average in Northern and Eastern Bengal, but was above it in Orissa. The deficiency in Northern Bengal in the month of April is reported to have prejudicially affected sowings. In the month of May the districts of Dinajpur and Jalpaiguri received good rain, but everywhere else in Northern and Eastern Bengal there was less rain than usual, the deficiency being greatest in the districts of Bogra, Pabna, Dacca, and Tippera. In the first fortnight of June, there was fair rain in the jute-growing districts, but hardly sufficient for this crop. The defect was, however, remedied by the cyclonic storm in the middle of the month, which brought heavy rain to almost all parts of the Province and proved of much benefit to the standing jute.

3. Area cultivated.—There has been little change in the figures returned by the District Officers for the normal area under jute, a slight reduction in Purnea being the only modification, and the total area which would ordinarily be cultivated in jute in these Provinces in a normal year now stands at 2,173,100 acres as against 2,189,400 acres returned last year. Of this area, only 1,971,300 acres were sown with jute in 1899, but the rise in price, which followed on the failure of last year's crop has caused an extension of cultivation in the current year, and it is reported that 2,039,800 acres, or about 94 per cent. of the normal area, have now been cultivated with this crop. While this is a larger area than that sown in 1898 and 1899, it is still below the area placed under this crop in the five previous years. I am inclined, however, to think that the area sown in jute this year may have been somewhat under-estimated, as a larger increase might well have been anticipated in view of the high prices prevailing and the favourable character of the season.

4. Character of the crop.—The prospects of the crop are generally good, the recent rain having proved of much benefit to it. The following districts expect an outturn up to the average or slightly over it:—Burdwan, 24-Parganas, Dinajpur, Darjeeling, Rangpur, Pabna, Dacca, Faridpur, Backergunge, Bhagalpur, Malda, Cuttack, and Balasore, while the important jute-growing district of Mymensingh and Tippera estimate an outturn only a small fraction below the normal. On the other hand, Rajshahi, with an area of 107,000 acres, anticipates an outturn of 81 per cent. of the normal only, Bogra (88,000 acres) 90 per cent., Nadia (36,000 acres) 75 per cent., and Jalpaiguri (63,000 acres) 70 per cent. Taking the figures returned for all the districts together, it will be seen that a 96 per cent. crop is anticipated in the area sown. In many cases, however, the returns were compiled before the excellent effects of the recent heavy rainfall were known, and the prospects of the crop have also been otherwise under-estimated, I think, in several districts. I am accordingly inclined to anticipate a normal or 100 per cent. outturn for the Province as a whole, in the area sown this year. It is at the same time obvious that as the final outturn of the crop is greatly dependent on the character of the season in the months of July and August, it is too early at present to make any accurate forecast.

5. Stocks of previous crops in hand.—The District Officers are almost unanimous in their reports that very little jute is left in hand from last year's crop, the strong demand of the past season, and the consequent high prices having drained most of the local stocks.

6. Gross outturn of the crop.—Accepting three bales per acre as the normal produce of a 16-anna crop, it may be estimated for the present that the outturn will this year amount to 61 lakhs of bales. The normal outturn for the Province may be taken at about 65 lakhs of bales, so that the outturn now anticipated amounts to 15 annas of the normal.

The above is a rough estimate, based on figures which are published for the information of the trade, and is liable to considerable modification should the character of the season in the next two months be either exceptionally favourable or the reverse.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS FOR THE YEAR 1899.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 27th June 1900.

RESOLUTION—No. 1195T.—M.

READ—

The Report on the Calcutta Medical Institutions for the year 1899.

The Report for the year 1898 and the Resolution recorded thereon.

The year 1898 was unusually healthy, but in the year under review the death-rate rose from 29·8 to 37·8 per mille in Calcutta, and in Howrah from 33·02 to 44·56, the highest rate recorded for the last eleven years. The comparison with 1898, however, is vitiated by the large exodus that took place in that year in consequence of the plague scare. Putting aside the 2,332 deaths recorded as due to plague, the total mortality of Calcutta in 1899 was actually less than that of 1895, 1896, or 1897—a fact which is due to the remarkable decrease of cholera during the last three years. It is suggested in the report that, apart from the recorded plague deaths, the increase in the mortality, especially under the head "Other causes," is really due to plague, but this inference does not seem to be borne out by the facts. There was a considerable increase under the heads of fever and bowel-complaints, which proves that the year was actually an unhealthy one; and a comparison of the mortality, month by month, with the quinquennial average shows that the excess mortality not accounted for by recorded plague deaths is so small that there is no reasonable ground for suspecting that any appreciable number of deaths from plague have escaped being recorded as such. In view of the exceptional circumstances created by the plague epidemic, Colonel Hendley has not attempted to trace any further at present the causes of the gradual rise of the death-rate in Calcutta and Howrah, but he gives an appendix in which the meteorological conditions are collated month by month with the health of the town. This is interesting with reference to the theory mentioned in last year's Resolution, that the higher mortality was due to the increase of fever caused by the large amount of water brought in by the water-works of the two towns and the want of proper drainage to carry off the waste, but no very definite conclusions can be drawn from it. A comparison of the monthly mortality shows that the deaths from fever were highest in the first four months of the year, and the most unhealthy month of all was March, when the rainfall was below normal. There appears to be a comparatively steady ratio between the deaths from plague, bowel-complaints and fever; they all reach their height in March and April, and are lowest in June and July, rising again towards the end of the year. So far as any conclusion can be drawn from these facts, they do not bear out the theory mentioned above, and the Lieutenant-Governor awaits with interest the results of the careful study which is being made of the subject.

3. The total number of outdoor patients rose from 187,518 to 219,302. The increase was shared by all the hospitals except the Eden and Dufferin Victoria Hospitals, and was due partly to the unhealthiness of the year and partly, no doubt, to the absence of any such panic as that caused by the plague in the preceding year. The increase in the Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospital (4,597) and in the Medical College Hospital (5,952) is attributed to the growing popularity of these institutions. The Presidency General Hospital was kept open every week-day instead of twice a week as hitherto, and the number of outdoor patients rose by 401. The reduction of 1,298 in the attendance of the Eden Hospital is said to be due to the constant changes in the personnel of the Resident Surgeon and to the inconvenience of the out-patient room, while that in the Dufferin Victoria Hospital is ascribed to the introduction of a rule under which Europeans and Eurasians are no longer admitted to the institution.

4. There was an increase of 414 in the total number of indoor patients treated, and the daily average attendance rose slightly—from 1,266·74 to 1,267·66. The increase of 525 at the Presidency General Hospital is the most noticeable, and is attributed to the fact that one of the wards which remained closed in 1898 for a few months for repairs was available during the year under review. On the other hand, in the Campbell Hospital the number dropped from 7,524 to 6,823.

5. Including both outdoor and indoor patients, 146,056 men, 44,370 women, and 53,022 children were treated during the year. The total number of men rose by 22,489, of women by 4,664, and of children by 5,045, the net increase, taking all classes together, being 32,198. The number of Europeans, Hindus, and Muhammadans increased by 1,223, 18,094, and 12,545, respectively, while that of Eurasians diminished by 689. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice an improvement in the attendance of females in some of the hospitals, which is doubtless due to the greater privacy secured for them in the consulting rooms. His Honour trusts that continued attention will be paid to this important improvement. The total number of beds available for indoor patients is 1,762, while the average number occupied was 1,155. In Calcutta 323 per thousand of the population were treated as out-patients as against 259 in 1898.

6. Excluding the cases treated in the Eye Infirmary, the death-rate for all the institutions rose from 13·18 to 14·60, the highest mortality recorded for ten years, with the exception of 1897, when it was 16·40. This increased death-rate is attributed to the admission of a large number of persons in a moribund condition and also of plague cases. Depending, as it does, to a great extent upon the class of patients and the condition in which they are brought to the hospital, the death-rate varies within wide limits. Thus the rate for men ranged from ·66 at the Police Hospital to 23·33 at the Campbell Hospital. Similarly, in the case of adult women, the Dufferin Victoria Hospital shows a death-rate of 1·36 and the Campbell Hospital of 33·52. The death-rate among men was higher than last year in all the hospitals, except the Police and the Howrah General Hospitals. The female death-rate rose most conspicuously in the Mayo Hospital, viz., from 8·13 to 21·46. This abnormal increase is attributed to the admission of a large number of pilgrims who came to Calcutta from Puri suffering from cholera.

7. Small-pox was prevalent during the latter part of the year, and the number of patients admitted into hospital suffering from the disease rose from 37 to 42. Of these persons, 21 were unprotected either by vaccination or inoculation, and 13 of them, or 61·90 per cent., died. Of 19 persons who had been vaccinated, 5, or 26·32 per cent., died, and in all of them the marks of vaccination were faint. There were 14 Europeans and Eurasians admitted to the Campbell Hospital suffering from this disease against one in the previous year, and some of these cases were of a virulent type. The total death-rate was 47·61, against 32·43 in the previous year.

8. The number of admissions to hospital of persons suffering from cholera was 355 against 227 in the previous year, and 227 cases proved fatal, giving a death-rate of 63·94 per cent. against 53·74 in 1898. The increase is most marked in the Campbell Hospital, where the number of cases rose from 89 to 136. Among the patients there were 20 Europeans and Eurasians, of whom 14 died. Three cases originated at the Campbell Hospital, of which two were fatal.

9. The admissions to hospitals on account of dysentery increased from 5,571 to 6,404, but the death-rate decreased from 29·53 to 26·88. The Campbell and Howrah General Hospitals show a high rate of mortality due to the admission of a large number of moribund cases. While the death-rate among Europeans and Eurasians was only 4·93 per cent., the rate among other classes was 29·55. The number of diarrhœa patients rose from 6,244 to 6,673, but the death-rate fell from 47·04 to 43·62. Malarial fever was more prevalent than in the preceding year, and the admissions increased from 37,276 to 46,131. The death-rate also rose from 6·72 to 9·12 per cent. The number of persons treated for venereal diseases increased from 10,550 to 11,159. Twenty-four lepers were admitted into the hospitals during the year, against 62 in the previous year, and of these, 22 were treated in the Campbell Hospital. This decline is said to be due to the transfer of patients to the Leper Asylum. There were 37 cases of enteric fever and 617 cases of remittent fever, against 32 and 609, respectively, in 1898. Of the 37 cases, 34 were Europeans and Eurasians. Two hundred and thirty-nine cases of plague were admitted during the year, of which 158 were treated at the Medical College Hospital and 46 at the Campbell. The death-rate was 82·84 per cent.

10. The total number of surgical operations increased from 21,610 to 25,109. Death followed in 154 cases, giving a percentage of ·61, against ·72 in the previous year. The largest number of operations was performed at the Medical College Hospital, where the death-rate was ·82 against ·96 last year. At the Campbell Hospital the operations were as usual performed by the Assistant Surgeons and none by the Superintendent. It is not possible to alter this until the Superintendent is relieved of some of his multifarious duties. There was a large falling off in the number of operations in the Dufferin Victoria Hospital, viz., from 1,631 to 89, which is said to be due to the inclusion of a large number of operations of a trivial nature in the figures of 1898. Although there has been some increase in the total number of operations at the Howrah General Hospital, the number of more important operations declined during the year. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals that it is desirable that more surgical work should be done in this institution, and he trusts that now that the hospital has been provided with an operation-room, there will be an improvement in this direction. The Lieutenant-Governor takes this opportunity to express his appreciation of the large number of operations performed by Lieutenant-Colonels Sanders and Murray, Major Charles, Captain Bird, and Assistant Surgeons Norendra Nath Bose and Satya Saran Mitter, and also of the good work done by Messrs. Woods and Ranger in the Dental Department.

11. The total number of women and children admitted at the Eden Hospital as indoor patients increased from 1,372 to 1,494, of whom 201 were Europeans, 551 Eurasians, and 640 Hindus and Muhammadans. The death-rate for Europeans and Eurasians was 5·45, and for the others 9·55, the figures for the previous year being 5·14 and 10·37. The mortality among native children was rather high, being 32·81 against 25. Confinement cases increased from 582 to 638. Of these, 31 proved fatal, against 18 in the previous year. There were 19 fatal cases of septicæmia, of which one originated within the hospital. There were 802 operations performed, against 1,104 in 1898. The decrease is attributed to the exclusion of minor operations from the returns, in accordance with the orders of the Government of India. Of the three cases in which ovariotomy was performed, only one proved successful. Lieutenant-Colonel Joubert performed all the important operations himself, with the exception of two interesting cases, which were successfully operated on by Captain Earle.

12. In the Shama Charan Law Hospital the number of outdoor patients rose from 11,058 to 13,103. There was a diminution in the number of operations. Operations for extraction of the lens numbered 257, and vision was restored in 83·95 per cent. of these cases, against 81·05 in the previous year.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with pleasure that the work done by trained nurses at the several hospitals is well spoken of by the Medical Officers concerned. A special report on the subject of improving the nursing arrangements in the Calcutta medical institutions, which the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has recently submitted, is now under the consideration of Government. At the Eden Hospital 41 pupils were under instruction during the year, of whom 17 passed the examination. There were also 31 dhais under training, of whom 13 passed.

14. The invested capital of the Calcutta and Howrah hospitals is Rs. 5,91,700. The following statement compares the main heads of receipts and expenditure for all the hospitals during the year:—

15. The total income, excluding the opening balance, amounted to Rs. 9,97,169, which exceeds that of the previous year by Rs. 6,489. The cost to Government shows an increase of Rs. 6,509, due to larger expenditure on the new block at the Presidency General Hospital. The receipts from paying patients fell off by Rs. 338. There is an increase of Rs. 6,164 in the receipts from local funds, which is attributed chiefly to larger receipts from the Hospital Port Dues Fund at the Presidency General Hospital. There was a slight falling off in the receipts from municipal funds, while subscriptions from Europeans and also from natives show some increase. The rise in the latter is attributed to a donation of Rs. 2,500 made to the Mayo Native Hospital by Babu Benode Lal Mullick during the year under review. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has drawn the attention of Government to the small amount of subscriptions received from native gentlemen towards the maintenance of the medical institutions in the metropolis, and proposes to make a separate representation on the subject, which will be awaited. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 10,20,486 to Rs. 10,25,463, the increase being chiefly under the heads "Miscellaneous charges," the sum spent on which rose from Rs. 88,946 to Rs. 1,02,020, and "Buildings and repairs," which absorbed Rs. 4,37,593 as compared with Rs. 4,27,953 in the preceding year. There was a considerable reduction in expenditure on European medicines at the Medical College Hospital, due to the hospital having been equipped with a large stock of instruments and appliances in 1898. The introduction of a more liberal scale of diet at the Presidency General Hospital has caused an increase of Rs. 5,442 in the expenditure on diet in that hospital.

16. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that numerous improvements have been carried out at the several hospitals. His Honour agrees with the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals that full advantage should be taken by the Medical Officers of the valuable clinical opportunities which are afforded to them by the hospitals in this city for literary work on professional subjects, and hopes in the future to see an increase in the number of such papers published by these officers.

17. The office of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals was held by Colonel T. H. Hendley throughout the year, and the Lieutenant-Governor takes this opportunity of acknowledging his very efficient supervision of the hospitals under his control.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT UNDER SECTION 41 OF BENGAL ACT I OF 1893 ON THE WAREHOUSES IN CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31st MARCH 1900.

No. 2015M.—The 28th June 1900.—The following report is published for general information.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 618J., dated Calcutta, the 28th May 1900.

From—W. R. BRIGHT, ESQ., Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report under section 41 of Act I of 1893 (B.C.) of the warehouses in Calcutta for the year ended 31st March 1900.

2. During the year under report the fees under section 10 of the aforesaid Act continued to be levied at 7½ per cent. on the annual valuation of the warehouses.

3. The following statement describes the result of applications for licenses:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

F. A. SLACKE,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
Revenue Department

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—(EDUCATION).

NOTIFICATION—No. 905T.G.

The 6th July 1900.—In the rules issued in Government Notification No. 774, dated the 13th February 1900, regulating the award and tenure of the post graduate scholarships established by the Government of Bengal for the encouragement of original research, it has been laid down that scholarship-holders whose work shows good results during their tenure of scholarship, and who may desire to enter the Educational Service of the Government of Bengal, will be considered to have equal claims to employment with those who have been Prem Chand students, etc., and who are entitled to special consideration in the Provincial Educational Service in the terms of the orders contained in paragraph 14 of this Government's Resolution No. 1244, dated the 26th March 1897, viz, that graduates in honours of English Universities or Prem Chand students should originally be appointed to class VI (Rs. 250) of the Provincial Educational Service; that after a service of three years in that class they should have a claim to the first vacancy in class V (Rs. 300); and that after a further service of three years in that class, they should have a claim to the first vacancy in class IV (Rs. 400).

2. It is now notified for general information that, in the interests of the whole body of members of the Provincial Educational Service, it has been found necessary to withdraw for the future the special rule in regard to the admission and promotion of the graduates of English Universities and Prem Chand students, and hence the similar privilege which was extended to post graduate scholarship-holders in Government Notification No. 774, dated the 13th February 1900, will cease to exist.

F. A. SLACKE,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION—No. 3425S.R.

The 10th July 1900.—Babu Rajendra Chandra Ghose, Deputy Collector, is appointed Deputy Collector of Income-tax in the district of Khulna, vice Maulvi Mohiuddin Ahmed, and under section 40 of Act II of 1886 is vested with the powers of a Collector under the Act.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

In exercise of the powers conferred on them by section 35 of the Bengal Excise Act, VII of 1878, the Board of Revenue are pleased to make the following rules for the exportation of ganja from Patna in Bengal to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh:—

1. There may be one or more special ganja warehouses licensed at Patna exclusively for the export under bond of ganja to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

2. Ganja will be stored at the special warehouse or warehouses at Patna by a licensed wholesale vendor or by his authorised agent, being transported to Patna from Naugaon in the district of Rajshahi in Bengal under the rules in force for the transport and storage of ganja.

3. Ganja shall not be exported to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh from Patna otherwise than in accordance with these rules, or except from the special warehouse or warehouses, or save by a licensed wholesale vendor to whom a pass has been granted by the Collector or officer in charge of excise of the district in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in the bonded warehouse of which the is ganja is to be stored, or by the authorised agent of such person; provided that a permit authorising the purchase of ganja has been issued in the name of such person or agent by or under the orders of the Collector of Patna as provided in Rule 5; and also that a bond has been executed for payment of duty in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh. The person actually exporting the ganja is hereinafter designated the exporter.

4. The Collector or officer in charge of the excise of the district in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in the bonded warehouse of which the ganja exported from Patna is to be stored will be moved by the exporter to forward by post to the Collector of Patna a copy of the pass granted by him to the exporter for the exportation of ganja from Patna.

5. The exporter or his authorised agent on reaching Patna shall give up to the Collector of Patna or other officer appointed in this behalf the original pass granted to him by the Collector or officer in charge of the excise of the district in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, in the bonded warehouse of which the ganja is to be stored, and on receipt from the Collector or other officer aforesaid at Patna of a permit to purchase, may make purchases at once, but only from the special warehouse or warehouses at Patna and from no other licensed warehouse in the district.

6. When the ganja purchased has been weighed, packed and sealed, ready for despatch, the Collector or other officer aforesaid of Patna shall return to the exporter the original pass, having endorsed on it the distinguishing marks by which the packages chargeable with each rate of duty may be known, the net and gross weight of each package, the total quantity of each sort of ganja, and the name of the purchaser or person in whose charge and custody the ganja is conveyed. The ganja shall then be immediately taken to the Patna (City) railway station, and shall be consigned by railway direct to the Collector or officer in charge of the excise of the district in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in the bonded warehouse of which it is to be stored. The exporter shall then send his pass, together with the railway receipt by post in a registered cover to the Collector of the district in which the warehouse is situated. The Collector or Excise Deputy Collector of Patna shall thereupon return by post the duplicate pass, endorsed with the particulars noted above, to the Collector or officer in charge of excise of the district in which the warehouse named in the pass is situated.

7. The exporter shall execute a bond in Form No. 148A attached to these rules or in such other form as the Board of Revenue may from time to time prescribe, binding himself and his heirs, successors and assigns to lodge the ganja within such reasonable time as may be fixed by the Collector of Patna in the bonded warehouse referred to in these rules, or to pay to the Collector of the district in which such bonded warehouse is situated a sum equal to the amount of duty chargeable on the said ganja. The bond will also provide for the payment of penalty duty at these rates on any deficiency or excess in quantity on the arrival of the ganja at its destination or any difference in kind of such ganja.

8. In the event of the bond being executed in Patna, the Collector or Excise Deputy Collector shall without delay despatch the same by post to the Collector of the district in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh in the bonded warehouse of which the ganja is to be stored, in order that he may take the necessary action thereon.

NOTIFICATION—No. 2454J.

The 10th July 1900.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to insert the following Rules in place of the existing Rules 12, 13 and 32 of the Rules for the manufacture, possession and sale of explosives, published with the notification of the Government of Bengal, No. 4971J., dated the 23rd October 1897, and also to substitute the following amended Condition for Condition 5 of Form E attached to those Rules:—

12. Licenses to manufacture explosives other than those referred to in Rule VIII shall be granted by the Governor General in Council on payment of such fees, in such form, and subject to such conditions, as the Governor-General in Council may, in each case, prescribe.

12A. The Local Government may, from time to time, renew, on payment of the original fee and on the same or on altered conditions, any license for the manufacture of explosives granted by the Governor-General in Council:

Provided, first, that such renewal does not admit of the manufacture of any explosive other than that specified in the original license:

Provided, secondly, that every such renewal is first approved by an Inspecto of Explosives: and Provided, thirdly, that every such renewal is for a period not exceeding one year.

13. Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license is granted under Rule 12 or renewed under Rule 12A shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

32. All licenses, by whomsoever granted or renewed, shall expire on the 31st December of the year for which they are granted: but, subject to the provisions of Rule 12A in the case of licenses granted under Rule 12, the currency of a license may, unless the circumstances have so changed that the grant of a new license would either not be authorised under the Act and Rules, or is deemed objectionable by the licensing authorities, on application previous to its expiration, be renewed on payment of the original fee.

Condition 5 of Form E.

The magazine shall have attached thereto a sufficient lightning-conductor which shall be tested at least once during the currency of a license.

R. B. BUCKLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 928, dated Simla, the 28th June 1900.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

IN exercise of the power conferred by section 4, sub-section (1), of the Petroleum Act, 1899 (VIII of 1899), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the following addition be made to Part III of the first schedule to the said Act :—

"6. Application of the test to viscous fluids or preparations, such as solutions of India-rubber in mineral naphtha, or thick paint made with that material.

About a teaspoonful of the substance to be tested is placed in the cup, and the cover fitted with a thermometer is put on.

The cup thus prepared for the test is then cooled down until the thermometer indicates a temperature of 50° F. This may be accomplished either by placing the prepared cup in a refrigerator, or by immersing it up to its projecting collar in water which is maintained at a sufficiently low temperature until the result specified has been obtained.

The prepared cup thus cooled is then transferred to the water bath, the temperature of which has previously been raised to 76° F. (The scale of the thermometer in the water bath should range from 60° to 180° F.)

The test is then applied as described in section 4 of this part. If no flash has taken place when the temperature in the cup has reached 75°, the test need not be continued.

The temperature at which the flash occurs is the observed flashing point of the substance and, subject to correction of atmospheric pressure as prescribed in the Act, is the true flashing point."

PART V.

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 29th June, 1900, and is hereby promulgated for general information:

ACT NO. VIII OF 1900.

An Act to amend the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882, as amended by the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882, as amended by the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1898; It is hereby enacted as follows:

XX of 1882. II of 1898.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1900.

Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

(3) It shall remain in force for two years from the commencement thereof.

2. For section 13A of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882, the following section shall be substituted, namely:

XX of 1882. Substitution of a new section for section 13A, Act XX of 1882.

"13A. (1) If the Secretary of State for India shall consent to hold in gold coin or gold bullion the equivalent in value to notes issued in India as a reserve to secure the payment of such notes, the Governor General in Council may from time to time direct that currency notes shall be issued to an amount equal to the value of gold so held by the Secretary of State for India at the rate fixed by section 12 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1870.

Gold coin or bullion held as a reserve by Secretary of State.

XXIII of 1870.

"(2) If the Secretary of State for India shall transmit the gold held by him under sub-section (1) or any part thereof in the form of gold coin or gold bullion to the Government of India, the coin or bullion so transmitted shall, when received by the Government of India, form part of the currency reserve under section 19.

Gold, if transmitted to India, to form part of reserve.

"(3) If the Secretary of State for India shall think it expedient to expend the gold coin or bullion held by him under sub-section (1) or any other funds at his disposal in the purchase of silver bullion and to transmit the same to India for currency purposes, then—

Transmission of silver bullion by Secretary of State.

(a) the silver bullion so purchased shall, until rupees are added to the currency reserve under clause (b) of this sub-section, be held as security for currency notes; and

(b) the Government of India shall, on receiving such silver bullion, give directions for coining the same into rupees as soon as convenient, and shall add to the currency reserve a number of the rupees so coined equal in value, at the rate fixed by section 12 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, to the price of the silver bullion so purchased and transmitted as aforesaid."

XXIII of 1870.

"(4) (a) Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to prohibit the Government of India from expending any gold coin or gold bullion held as part of the currency reserve under section 19 in the purchase of silver bullion.

Purchase of silver by Government of India.

"(b) The silver bullion so purchased shall, until rupees are added to the currency reserve under clause (c) of this sub-section, take the place of the gold so expended as security for the currency notes issued.

"(c) On receiving such silver bullion, the Government of India shall give directions for coining the same into rupees as soon as convenient, and shall add to the currency reserve under section 19 a number of the rupees so coined equal in value, at the rate fixed by section 12 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, to the gold so expended by the Government of India. XXIII of 1870.

Gold held as reserve by Secretary of State may be replaced by coin added to reserve in India.

"(5) If the Government of India shall appropriate and set apart in India as a part of the currency reserve under section 19 an amount of coin of the Government of India equal in value to any notes issued under this section, the gold held by the Secretary of State for India as a reserve to secure the payment of such notes shall be dealt with as the Secretary of State shall direct.

Account.

"(6) Coin or bullion held by the Secretary of State or in transit to India, or in the custody of the Mint Master during coinage, shall be separately shown in the abstract of accounts made up under section 27."

3. The Indian Paper Currency Act, 1898, and the Indian Paper Currency Act Amendment Act, 1898, are hereby repealed. II of 1898. VIII of 1898

Repeal.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 29th June, 1900:

NO. 5 OF 1900.

A Bill to provide for certain matters in connection with the taking of the Census.

WHEREAS it has been determined to take a census of British India during the year 1901, and it is expedient to provide for certain matters in connection with the taking of such census; It is hereby enacted as follows:

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Census Act, 1900. Title, extent and commencement.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, inclusive of British Baluchistan, the Santhal Parganas and the Pargana of Spiti; and

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. (1) The Local Government may appoint any person to take, or aid in or supervise the taking of, the census within any specified local area. Appointment of census-officers.

(2) Persons so appointed shall be called census-officers.

(3) The Local Government may delegate to such authority as it thinks fit the power of appointing census-officers which is conferred by this section.

3. (1) A declaration in writing, signed by any officer authorised by the Local Government in this behalf, that any person has been duly appointed a census-officer for any local area shall be conclusive proof of such appointment. Proof of appointment of census-officers, and their status as public servants.

(2) All census-officers shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code. XLV of 1860.

4. (1) (a) Every officer in command of any body of men belonging to Her Majesty's military or naval forces or to Her Majesty's Indian Marine Service or of any vessel of war, Discharge of duties of census officers in certain cases.

(b) every person (except a pilot or harbour-master) having charge or control of a vessel,

(c) every person in charge of a lunatic asylum, hospital, workhouse, prison, reformatory or lock-up, or of any public, charitable, religious or educational institution,

(d) every keeper, secretary or manager of any sarai, hotel, boarding-house, lodging-house or club, and

(e) every occupant of immoveable property and every manager or officer of a railway or other commercial or industrial enterprise who has at the time of the taking of the census not less than fifty persons employed under him, or living on or in such property, shall, if so required by the District Magistrate, or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf, perform such of the duties of a census-officer in relation to the persons who at the time of the taking of the census are under his command or charge, or inmates of his house or present on or in such immoveable property, as such Magistrate or officer may, by written order, direct.

(2) All the provisions of this Act relating to census-officers shall apply, so far as they can be made applicable, to all persons while performing such duties under this section, and any person refusing or neglecting to perform any duty which he is directed under this section to perform shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 187 of the Indian Penal Code.

XLV of 1860.

5. (1) The District Magistrate, or such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf for any local area, may, by written order, which shall have effect throughout the limits of his district or of such local area, as the case may be, call upon—

Power of District Magistrate to call upon certain persons to give assistance.

(a) all owners and occupiers of land, tenure-holders, farmers, assignees of land-revenue and lessees of fisheries under the Burma Fisheries Act, 1875, or the Upper Burma Land and Revenue Regulation, 1889, or their agents,

VII of 1875.

III of 1889.

(b) all village-servants in permanently-settled estates in the Madras Presidency, and

(c) all members of panchayats appointed under the Village Chaukidari Act, 1870 (Bengal), or the Chota Nagpur Rural Police Act, 1887 (Bengal), or the Sylhet and Cachar Rural Police Regulation, 1883, to give such assistance as he needs towards the taking of a census of the persons who are at the time of the taking of the census on the lands of such owners, occupiers, holders, farmers and assignees, or within the limits of such fisheries or in the villages for which such village-servants or panchayats are appointed, as the case may be.

VI (B.C.) of 1870.

V (B.C.) of 1887

I of 1883.

(2) Such order shall specify the nature of the assistance required, and such owners, occupiers, holders, farmers, assignees, lessees or their agents, and such village-servants and the members of such panchayats, shall be bound to obey it.

6. Every census-officer may ask all such questions of all persons within the limits of the local area for which he is appointed as, by instructions issued in this behalf by the Local Government and published in the official Gazette, he may be directed to ask.

Asking of questions by census-officers.

7. Every person of whom any question is asked under the last foregoing section shall be legally bound to answer such question to the best of his knowledge or belief:

Obligation to answer questions.

Provided that no person shall be bound to state the name of any female member of his household, and that no woman shall be bound to state the name of her husband or deceased husband or of any other person whose name she is forbidden by custom to mention.

8. Every person occupying any house, enclosure, vessel or other place shall allow census-officers such access thereto as they may require for the purposes of the census, and, as, having regard to the customs of the country, may be reasonable, and shall allow them to paint on or affix to the place such letters, marks or numbers as may be necessary for the purposes of the census.

Occupier to allow access, and permit affixing of numbers.

9. (1) Subject to such orders as the Local Government may issue in this behalf any census-officer may leave, or cause to be left, at any dwelling-house within the local area for which he is appointed, a schedule for the purpose of its being filled up by the occupier of such house or of any specified part thereof with such particulars as the Local Government may direct regarding the inmates of such house or part at the time of the taking of the census.

Occupier to fill up schedule.

(2) When any such schedule has been so left, the occupier of the house or part to which it relates shall fill it up, or cause it to be filled up, to the best of his knowledge or belief, so far as regards the inmates of such house or part, as the case may be, at the time aforesaid, and shall sign his name thereto, and, when so required, shall deliver the schedule so filled up and signed to the census-officer or to such person as he may direct.

10. In any of the following cases, namely:

Penalties.

(a) if a census-officer or a person appointed to be a census officer or a person lawfully required to give assistance towards the taking of a census refuses or neglects to use reasonable diligence in performing any duty imposed upon him or in obeying any order issued to him in accordance with this Act, or with any rule duly made thereunder,

(b) if a census-officer intentionally puts any offensive or improper question or knowingly makes any false return,

(c) if any person refuses to answer to the best of his knowledge or belief any question asked of him by a census-officer which he is legally bound by section 7 so to answer,

(d) if any person occupying any house, enclosure, vessel or other place refuses to allow a census officer such reasonable access thereto as he is required by section 8 to allow,

(e) if any person removes, obliterates, alters or injures before the thirty-first day of March, 1901, any letters, marks or numbers which have been painted or affixed for the purposes of the census,

(f) if any occupier of a dwelling-house or part thereof knowingly and without sufficient cause fails to comply with the provisions of section 9 or makes any false return under that section, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

Jurisdiction in prosecutions.

11. (1) The Local Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare before what classes of Magistrates prosecutions under this Act may be instituted.

(2) Unless and until a notification is published under sub-section (1), all prosecutions under this Act shall, in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, be instituted before a Presidency Magistrate, and elsewhere before the District Magistrate.

(3) No prosecution under this Act shall be instituted except with the previous sanction of the Local Government, or with the previous sanction of some officer authorised by the Local Government in this behalf.

Records of census not admissible in evidence in certain proceedings.

I of 1872. V of 1898.

12. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, no entry in any book, register or record made by a census-officer in the discharge of his duty as such officer, and no entry in a schedule delivered under section 9, shall be admissible as evidence in any civil proceeding or any proceeding under Chapter XII or Chapter XXXVI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

Temporary suspension of local enactments and rules as to mode of taking census in municipalities.

13. Notwithstanding anything in any enactment or rule with respect to the mode in which a census is to be taken in any municipality, the municipal authority may, at the time appointed for the taking of the census of British India during the year 1901, cause the census of the municipality to be taken wholly or in part by any method authorised by this Act.

Power in regard to expenses.

14. Notwithstanding anything in any enactment or rule, in regard to municipal, local or village funds, the Local Government may direct that the whole or any part of any expenses incurred for anything done in accordance with this Act, may be charged to any municipal, local or village fund constituted for, and on behalf of, the area within which such expenses were incurred.

Power to make rules.

15. (1) The Governor General in Council may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, the Governor General in Council may make rules providing—

(a) for the appointment of census-officers and of persons to perform any of the duties of census-officers or to give assistance towards the taking of a census and for the general instructions to be issued to such officers and persons;

(b) for the enumeration of persons employed on railways and their families and of other classes of the population for whom it may be necessary or expedient to make special provision;

(c) for the enumeration of persons travelling on the night when a census is taken.

(3) The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, direct that all or any of the powers conferred upon him by this section may also be exercised by any Local Government with respect to the territories administered by it.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE present Bill closely follows the lines of the Indian Census Act, 1890, which was itself only slightly modified from the previous enactment of 1880. Apart from alterations of form necessitated by intermediate legislation or intended to secure greater clearness, substantially only four amendments affecting the subject-matter have been suggested by the experience of the last census. In clause 4 (e) the convenience of railways and of other commercial or industrial enterprises has been consulted by providing for special arrangements for enumeration through their own local officers. Clause 10 (a) has been recast with the object of removing any doubt about the power, which has rarely been required but must always be held in reserve, to punish persons refusing, or neglecting to use due diligence in performing, any duty under the Act. By clause 14 it is proposed to legalize arrangements, which were found to be expedient on the last occasion, for defraying expenses, mostly for petty charges, out of local rates and taxes to an extent varying with circumstances. Finally, the power now to be taken in clause 15 is required to give proper authority to such rules as, in practice, must always be issued by the executive Government for the disposal of questions of detail incidentally arising in the working of the Act.

The 26th June, 1900. C. M. RIVAZ.

Secretary to the Government of India.

Ice.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 323 of 1900) that information has been received through the Board of Trade that the British S.S. Ness, when on a voyage from Portland, Oregon, to Vladivostock, encountered a large quantity of field ice on 18th March 1900, off the coast of Yezo island, in approximately lat. 42° 36′ N., long. 146° 18′ E., and continued meeting ice until in lat. 42° 0′ N., long. 144° 25′ E.

It is also reported that ice in this neighbourhood was met by another steamship in February 1900 when proceeding from Vancouver to Vladivostock.

It is known that ice may be encountered during the winter months in Yezo strait, Kunashiri channel, and Yetorup strait, but this is the first time it has been reported so far from the shore. This is probably owing to the fact that few ships have hitherto made a passage from the Western ports of North America towards Tsugaru strait in the winter. It is not unlikely that ice may be quite common in this vicinity in the winter.

This Notice affects the China Sea Directory, vol. IV, 1894, pages 603, 629, 630.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON EMIGRATION FROM THE PORT OF CALCUTTA TO BRITISH AND FOREIGN COLONIES FOR THE YEAR 1899.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

READ—

The Annual Report on Emigration from the Port of Calcutta to British and Foreign Colonies for the year 1899.

The appointment of Protector of Emigrants during the year 1899 was held by Dr. C. Banks from the beginning of the year up to 30th March 1899; by Major D. G. Crawford, I.M.S., from the 31st March to 1st April; and by Dr. J. L. Hendley from the 2nd April to the 26th June, when Dr. Banks, on his return from privilege leave, resumed charge, and held it to the end of the year.

Requisition and despatch of labourers.

2. As in the three preceding years, there were six agencies at work, five British and one Dutch. The following table shows the demand and supply of labour:—

Name of Colony.	1898.		1899.
	Indent.	Supply.	Indent.	Supply.
1	2	3	4	5
Demerara ...	2,400	2,301	5,000	4,114 (617 were supplied in January 1900.)
Trinidad ...	1,200	1,225	1,800	1,738
Jamaica ...	690	...	690	604
Natal ...	908	1,358	723	1,056

Surinam ...	600	590	600	588
Total ...	6,358	6,034	9,733	9,018

Terms of engagement of intending emigrants.

3. The terms of engagement remained the same as in the preceding year, except in the case of the Colonies of British Guiana (Demerara), Trinidad and Jamaica. The alterations referred to the grant of free passages to the wives, children and dependants of emigrants accompanying the latter to India, and to the forfeiture of all concessions in the matter of an assisted return passage in the case of those emigrants who had quitted, or attempted to quit, the Colony without a passport.

Recruiting operations.

4. During the year under review, 801 licenses were granted as compared with 701 in the previous year, of which 43 were subsequently cancelled for various reasons. This number seems excessive, and the Protector is asked to consider whether there is any laxity in the appointment of recruiters by the agents. There was a large increase in the number of coolies recruited, namely, 14,051 in 1899 as against 9,334 in 1898. The increase in the demands of some of the Colonies is believed to be due to the improvement in the prospects of the cane-sugar industry.

Of the number recruited, 5 per cent. were obtained in Bengal; 11 per cent. in Bihar; 54 per cent. in the North-Western Provinces; and 29 per cent. in Oudh as compared with 5, 7, 55, and 32 per cent., respectively, in 1898.

History of intending emigrants subsequent to registration.

5. There were 14,309 emigrants accommodated in the sub-depôts in the mufassal, including 258, who remained over at the close of the preceding year. Of this number, 1,794, for various reasons, did not proceed to Calcutta, including 892, who were rejected after registration as unfit for emigration. This decrease was further augmented by the desertion of 49 during the journey. Eight were left behind en route, and one claimed by relatives, whilst 514 remained in sub-depôts at the end of the year. Three hundred and fifty-one emigrants are not accounted for, so that 11,592 out of 14,309 actually reached Calcutta.

There were altogether 12,213 emigrants admitted to the depôts in Calcutta, including 595 remaining over from the preceding year. Of this number, 728, or 5·95, as against 8·16 in 1898, were rejected as unfit; 39 died; 348 deserted; 1,335 were discharged for various reasons, and 9,369, or 77 per cent., as in the preceding year, were despatched to the Colonies, leaving 399 in two of the depôts, at the close of the year, for subsequent disposal. Of the number that was despatched, 7,848 were Hindus and 1,521 were Muhammadans.

The percentage under the head of "Rejected as unfit" has fallen from 8·16 to 5·96 in the year under review; but there appears to be room for still further improvement, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the Protector would examine the returns as to the districts from which unfit emigrants were sent to Calcutta only to be rejected there. This is a serious matter, and mistakes must be represented to the Civil Surgeons concerned. The desertion of no less than 343 emigrants does not speak well for the management of the Calcutta depôts, and the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to have an explanation from the Protector in the matter.

Sanitation and management of depôts.

6. The sickness and mortality among emigrants in depôts appear to have been higher than in 1898, the explanation for which is the alleged unhealthiness of the year. The total number admitted to hospital was 663, of whom 39 died, as compared with 337 admissions and 13 deaths in 1898. The chief cause of illness, during the year under report, was fever, to which nearly half the number of deaths is ascribed. There was no outbreak of epidemic disease.

Embarkation of emigrants.

7. Of the 9,369 emigrants embarked, 46 per cent. were conveyed to Demerara; 19 per cent. to Trininad; 7 per cent. to Jamaica; 12 per cent. to Natal; 10 per cent. to Fiji; and 6 per cent. to Surinam. There were 14 sailing vessels and 3 steamers engaged to carry these emigrants as compared with 8 and 4, respectively, in the previous year; and so far from steamships ousting sailing vessels, the reverse seems to be the case. The average number of emigrants conveyed per vessel was 551 as against 518 in 1898. As in the previous year, the steamers carried emigrants to Natal only, and the duration of the voyage varied from 22 days to Natal to 116 days to Jamaica, the average for all vessels concerned being 78 days as compared with 73 days in 1898.

The total mortality on the various voyages was 99, or 1·05 per cent., as compared with 27, or ·43 per cent., in 1898. This large increase was due, principally, to epidemics of measles on the Rhine and Foyle bound, respectively, for Jamaica and Demerara. These vessels took the longest time to reach their destination.

Returned emigrants.

8. The number of emigrants who returned to India was 2,421, as compared with 3,502 in 1898. There were 52 deaths on board, or 2·12 per cent., including 3 infants, as against 66, or 1·88 per cent., in 1898.

The following is a table showing the total number of emigrants who returned from each of the Colonies during 1899, the aggregate savings, and the average savings per head on the number embarked :—

The average saving per head in 1898 was Rs. 135-10-7.

Of the 2,421 emigrants who returned from the Colonies, 551 were children and the remainder 1,870 adults. Of these 1,870 adult emigrants 404 declared themselves to be paupers, while 101 would not declare what they had saved, and 1,365 brought back savings ranging one rupee and upwards. The following table explains briefly the proportion of emigrants who had or had not saved and the reasons that led to failures:—

These figures do not of course pretend to great accuracy, and the Lieutenant-Governor fears they do not help him much further in the enquiries he started last year; but so far as they go, they point to the West Indies and Guiana, with Fiji, as the most promising fields for emigrants; and they again indicate that emigrants thrive less in Mauritius and Natal than in any other of their resorts. The Lieutenant-Governor is unwilling to give trouble, but information as to the prospects of emigrants in the different Colonies is of importance, and he would be much obliged if the Protector could obtain for him the amount of the remittances from each of them by money-order to India during the last three years.

Administration of estates.

10. Of the 386 estates under administration during 1899 valued at Rs. 43,365-5-0½, 168 valued at Rs. 16,892-15-0½ were finally disposed of, the sum of Rs. 12,191-3-5 having been paid to the heirs in respect of 102 estates, and the sum of Rs 4,701-11-7½ standing at the credit of the remaining 66 estates lapsed to the Indian and Colonial Governments concerned, owing, in some cases, to absence of heirs, and in others, to inability to trace them under the false descriptive particulars furnished by their emigrant relatives at the time of registration. Besides the final disposal of these 168 estates, heirs were traced in 57 estates, valued at Rs. 12,098-3-11, and that sum was in course of payment. Enquiries for heirs were therefore completed in respect of 225, or 58 per cent., of the total number of estates under administration in 1899, as compared with 493, or 80 per cent., in 1898. Enquiries regarding the remaining 161 estates valued at Rs. 14,574-2-1 had not been completed at the close of the year under review. The Protector explains that the small percentage of cases disposed of during the year was due to information regarding a large number of these estates having been received towards the end of the year; at the same time he acknowledges the valuable assistance rendered by District Officers in tracing heirs of deceased emigrants. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that there will be no relaxation on the part of the department in its efforts to pay this debt of honour.

Financial.

11. The receipts during 1899, amounting to Rs 28,113, show an increase of Rs 9,421 over the preceding year. The expenditure increased from Rs. 29,059-10-6 to Rs. 33,278-6-7, and the year closed with a deficit of Rs. 5,165-6-7 as against a deficit of Rs. 10,367-10-6 in the previous year.

12. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Banks for his efficient administration of the department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. A. SLACKE.

REPORT ON THE HEALTH OF THE RIPARIAN MUNICIPALITIES NORTH OF CALCUTTA AND ON THE EAST BANK OF THE HOOGHLY.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2174M.—The 7th July 1900.—The following report is published for general information.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report on an Enquiry into the Health of the Municipalities to the North of Calcutta and to the east of the Hooghly, with special reference to Malaria.

IN accordance with the orders of the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, the following enquiry into the health of the riparian municipalities to the north of Calcutta and to the east of the Hooghly, including Maniktala and Barasat, has been carried out by me. It appears from the file on the subject that the great prevalence of malaria in this tract of country has attracted attention for many years past, while unusual importance is attached to this area in consequence of the number of mills and other industries which are located within its limits, with a resulting increase in its population. As long ago as 1889, the then Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, Dr. Gregg, made a careful inspection of this area, and advised that certain khals, which had become silted up, should be re-excavated so as to improve the drainage, but at this time no spleen examination was made in order to ascertain the state of health of the people. A drainage scheme was prepared in 1891 by the Assistant Engineer to the Sanitary Board, which has since that time been under the consideration of the municipalities concerned. Reports of great prevalence of malarial fevers in this area during 1899 has caused the question to be taken up again, and the present enquiry to be ordered.

Plan and scope of the enquiry.—The essential point to be determined was the proportion of persons in different parts of the area who are suffering from malaria, which could only be ascertained by examining a large number of persons for enlargement of the spleen, as was pointed out to me by Major Dyson, Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, to whom I am indebted for much invaluable advice on this and other points, which his previous experience in carrying out a similar enquiry in the Punjab added great weight to. Between five and six thousand persons were thus examined, and this spleen count occupied many hours a day for just one month, together with other enquiries. In addition the water level was taken in as many wells as could be found, together with enquiries as to the height to which the water rose in them during the rainy reasons. The main drainage channels of the area were also examined as far as possible, although the small amount of water in them at this time of the year rendered it impossible to follow them throughout their course. The water-supply of the different municipalities was carefully inquired into, and has furnished results of a most interesting and practically important nature Returns of the number of cases of fever treated each month of the year in most of the dispensaries of the country under investigation have been obtained and compared by means of charts with the monthly rainfall of recent years, in order to try and ascertain if there is any definite and constant relationship between the quantity and distribution of the rainfall and the prevalence of malarial fevers—a laborious investigation which has proved to be one of great difficulty. Enquiries into cattle disease and some other minor points have not resulted in sufficiently accurate data being obtained to be of much value. Lastly, the mosquito theory of the propagation of malaria has not been forgotten, and some important observations have been made into the distribution of the particular genus of these insects, which is believed to be intimately concerned in the spread of this protean disease.

THE SPLEEN TEST.

1. The value of the spleen count as a test of malaria.—If there is one fact with regard to malaria which is generally believed in by the medical profession, it is that enlargement of the spleen very generally follows repeated attacks of malarial fever, so that the percentage of a population who suffer from enlargement of this organ may be safely taken as the best practical indication of the degree to which the inhabitants are affected by this scourge of Lower Bengal. Dr. Demster appears to have been the first to make use of this test in India in 1845, while both Dr. Taylor and Major Dyson adopted it in their enquiries into the water-logging produced by the Western Jumna Canal in 1868 and 1892 respectively. As portions of this canal had been realigned and the drainage portions of the affected tract had been greatly improved in the interval between the last two inquiries, which were carried out in the same area, the results obtained are of the greatest interest and importance, and may be briefly stated to have been a reduction in the spleen rate to from one-third to one-half of its previous rates, proving incontestibly the great benefit derived from the drainage schemes, especially as in certain portions in which these had not been carried out or had only just been completed no marked difference between the earlier and later spleen figures was found. The highest spleen rate in this area was 50·56 in the earlier year, although the construction of the canal had apparently raised the sub-soil water level from 50 to 60 feet to within 5 to 10 feet of the surface.

If we turn to the records with regard to Bengal, we find that in a paper entitled "Unhealthy Tracts of Bengal" Dr. Gregg states that in the worst areas a spleen rate of 50 per cent. is met with, places situated on river banks being the most healthy. As an example of an attempt to ameliorate the conditions in Bengal, the scheme for protecting the town of Dinajpur from floods, which was worked out by Surgeon-General Harvey, then Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal, and which was carried into effect in 1879-81, may be referred to, although unfortunately the works appear to have suffered from unusually high floods, which prevented them from fully coming up to expectations. Another well known example of the good effects of deep drainage of a very malarious place is that of Boufarie in Algeria, in which the amount of malaria is said to have been reduced to one-third of its previous rate by lowering the ground water by less than two feet, although it is worthy of note, in reference to the data to be mentioned presently, that a better drinking water-supply was introduced at the same time.

As far as possible, 100 persons in each ward of each of the municipalities were examined, about half being children, going from house to house so as to avoid any selection, while in addition care was taken to examine for vaccination marks at the same time, so that the people thought that this was the main object of my visit, and consequently did not bring up those who had large spleens especially, as they might have done if they considered that was what I wanted to see. These precautions allowed of a fair estimation of the spleen rate being obtained. Four classes of different sizes were noted, namely, those in whom it could just be felt below the ribs, at one extreme, and those in whom it extended beyond the navel at the other. Between them two classes were made, in which the edge of the organ could be felt two and four fingers' breadths below the margin of the ribs. These four degrees may be termed respectively "slightly enlarged," "moderately enlarged," "much enlarged," and "extremely enlarged." Further the castes were noted as being either "Brahmans," "Hindus—Other castes," and "Muhammadans"; while all the children were classed together. The general result in each municipality will first be given, and then any noteworthy variations in the different wards of each will be pointed out in so far as they bear on the conclusions arrived at. As much as possible of this information has been embodied in the accompanying map, in which the spleen rates in the areas given in table I are represented by shading as noted in the margin of the map, while those of the different wards are indicated by the larger figures within them, those in brackets being the reference numbers in the tables after the name of the wards, and those in a circle being the ground water levels in feet and inches, the upper figures representing the distance of the water below the surface of the ground in February last, and those below its height in the previous rainy season.

Certain subsidiary matters may be conveniently mentioned here. Thus, the results of my enquiries pointed to both cattle-diseases and impotency being more common in those parts which had the highest spleen rates, just as Major Dyson found to be the case in a water-logged area in the Punjab. A look-out was also kept for anything resembling the so-called bubonic fever, which has recently been asserted to be not uncommon in Calcutta, and enquiries were made from some of the local native practitioners about it, but with entirely negative results, and no cases answering to the descriptions of this supposed affection was seen in the whole course of the enquiry.

The figures of the spleen rates represent the percentage of persons with enlarged spleen calculated on 50 adults and 50 children from the ascertained rates in those examined, by which means any variations due to a smaller or larger number of the more susceptible children having been examined in some of the wards are eliminated.

General results of the spleen count.—The following table shows the percentage of persons in each municipality who were found to be suffering from enlargement of the spleen. They are arranged in order from north to south, from above downwards, while those on the left are situated on the bank of the Hooghly and those to the right are to the east of the former, so that the arrangement roughly resembles their relative positions on the map —

TABLE I.

A glance at the above table shows that the spleen rate is much lower in the places situated on the east bank of the Hooghly river than it is in those further to the east, even if they are still only about two miles from the stream, as the last five are, with the exception of parts of North Dum-Dum. This fact having been ascertained, the question arose as to whether the lower rate on the banks of the Hooghly was to be regarded as the normal rate, and the higher figures of the inner tract as being due to water-logging or other abnormal conditions, or whether the latter must be taken as the usual state of affairs in this part of Lower Bengal, and the banks of the Hooghly as being exceptionally healthy. In order to solve this problem it was necessary to visit other places still further to the east, and Gobardanga and Basirhat, which are situated on the next flowing river to the east of the Hooghly, namely the Ichchhamati, was selected as the most suitable for the purpose. The former is some 22 miles to the east of Naihati, while the latter is 26 miles to the east of Barasat. The former is nearly surrounded by a bend of the river on two sides and by marsh land on the other sides, so that cannot be considered to be well situated from the health point of view; but Basirhat, on the other hand, would appear to be likely to be healthy as any place in this portion of the Gangetic delta. Nevertheless, both show a spleen rate of over 50 per cent., which, agreeing as it does with Dr. Gregg's statements about this tract of country, may be taken as approximately the normal figure for this part of Lower Bengal. It would therefore appear that the east bank of the Hooghly is exceptionally healthy, although some of the municipalities in the low-lying tract a little to the east of the river show very high spleen rates, more specially North Dum-Dum and the portion of South Barrackpore to the east of the railway, whose figures are 68 and 56 per cent. respectively. It may also be at once mentioned that last year, namely 1899, was an exceptionally feverish one on account, apparently, of the excess and uneven distribution of the rainfall, and that this very possibly accounts for the reports which were received on the unhealthiness of this part.

On looking more closely at the figures, it will be observed that there is a marked exception to the rule above pointed out, for Maniktala, although situated away from the river bank and on extremely low-lying and water-logged land, has, nevertheless, the second lowest spleen rate—an exception which has proved to be the key to a very important factor in the causation of the variations of the spleen rate in the tract under consideration. The only ground on which the low spleen rate of Maniktala can be accounted for is the enjoyment by this advanced municipality of a good filtered water-supply. It is also worthy of note that Cossipore-Chitpur, which has the lowest rate of all, namely 11·2, has the double advantage of a filtered water-supply and a situation on the east bank of the Hooghly. That these are the true reasons of its marked immunity is shown by the fact that the average spleen rate of the two western wards is only 7·4, while that of the two easterly wards, from one to two miles from the river, is 14·7, that is, almost the same as that of Maniktala. The density of the population of Chitpur, and consequent smaller number of tanks, &c., may also be a slight factor in its healthiness, but the details to be given immediately with regard to the spleen rates of different wards of Maniktala and other places show that this is not a factor of any great importance, but on the other hand they will prove conclusively the intimate relationship between a filtered water-supply and a low spleen rate; but as this point is one of the utmost practical importance, it will be necessary to go somewhat into detail with regard to the spleen rates of different wards of the same municipalities, more especially of those parts which are being supplied with good water by mills situated within their boundaries. At the same time the data with regard to the ground water levels will be given, so that the question of water-logging can also be discussed as far as it is possible to do so with advantage in the absence of the levels for the rainy season, which are not yet available.

The figures in the second column, which gives the average mortality from fever for the last five years, show a close relationship between this and the spleen rate, Maniktala and Chitpur-Cossipore having a very low fever death-rate and spleen rate, no doubt on account of their filtered water-supply.

Ward variation in the spleen rates:—(1) Maniktala.—This Municipality, as will be evident from the accompanying map, is situated between the Circular and the New Cut Canals, and this area is so flat that there is only a fall of some eight feet from west to east in a distance of two miles. Its drainage is dependent on channels by the sides of the four main roads, and is carried under the New Cut Canal by means of syphons into the Great Salt Water Lake, but these have to be closed at high tides to prevent the salt water running up into the drains, and they do not work very efficiently at present. The portion of the main drains in the western and more densely populated portion of the municipality are pucka, but the eastern portions are kutcha. The water level was taken in several wells, and in February it was found to average 5 feet from the surface of the ground, while evidence was obtained that it rises to within from 1 to 2 feet during the rainy season. A more typically water-logged place it would be difficult to find. For purposes of comparison it was divided up into western and eastern portions, and the spleen rates were found to be 12·4 for the former and 14 for the latter, although it might have been expected that the much less densely inhabited and more water-logged eastern portion would have had a decidedly higher rate. It was in the west part of this municipality also in which the larvæ of the malarial-bearing mosquito was found in half the tanks as well as in some other pools, as will be detailed further on, so that none of the known causes of malaria were absent, in spite of which this municipality and that of Chitpur and Cossipore were the two which showed considerably the lowest spleen rates of all, and these two are the only ones which have a full filtered water-supply. Maniktala has also to be congratulated on having a complete drainage scheme already sanctioned and about to be commenced.

Cossipore-Chitpur.—This municipality is situated immediately to the north of Calcutta, and extends eastward as far as the Eastern Bengal Railway and northwards to the southern border of Baranagar. It is divided into four wards, namely, Chitpur and Cossipore West, extending from the river to the Grand Trunk Road, the spleen percentages of which are 4·8 and 9·9 respectively; and Chitpur and Cossipore East, extending from the Grand Trunk Road to the railway, and consequently distant from one or two miles from the river bank, the spleen rates of which are 13 and 16·75 per cent. respectively. The whole area is supplied fully by filtered water, while those people who do not drink this—and they are certainly a decided minority—will take chiefly river-water in the western wards and tank-water in the eastern ones. The water-level in three wells varied only between 4 and 5 feet from the surface in February, and in the rainy season it had been within from 1 to 2 feet of it; so that here again there was considerable water-logging, but the minimum amount of fever; while although the western portion is more densely populated, the eastern part presents numerous tanks and is generally favourable to the development of malaria, yet apparently owing to the filtered water-supply, the spleen rate is very low.

South Dum-Dum.—To the east of the railway, which bounds Chitpur-Cossipore Municipality, lies South Dum-Dum, the most thickly inhabited portions of which are situated on the Jessore, Belgachia, and Dum-Dum roads, and it is divided into three wards, which may roughly be taken as respectively including the parts adjoining these three roads. The inhabitants of Ward III, who were examined, mostly resided near the easternmost portion of the Dum-Dum road, and the spleen rate was 37·9. Those of Ward I mostly lived around that portion of the Jessore Road which joins the eastern ends of the Belgachia and Dum-Dum roads, and its spleen rate was 45·3. Lastly, most of those examined in Ward III lived around the western end of the Belgachia road just to the east of the railway, and consequently close to the western ward of Cossipore, and the spleen rate among them was only 13 7, by far the lowest rate of any place to the east of the railway. Here again the probable explanation of this exception is that many of the inhabitants of this ward obtained filtered water from the Cossipore Municipality, as I ascertained both by enquiry and by seeing them carrying the water myself, while the portions of the other wards which were examined were too far from Cossipore for the people to resort there for water to any extent. The conditions favourable to malaria are very similar in each ward; for the Bajulla Khal flows right through Wards II and III as a broad swampy track with little or no current, except during the rainy season, while the tide water flows up it from the Salt Water Lakes at high water, there being no sluice where it passes through the bund, while most houses of the municipality are surrounded by rice-fields. The water-level in a well in Ward I was 8 feet 9 inches below the surface in February, while during the previous rainy season it had risen within 9 inches of the ground, when the water could be dipped out by hand without the use of any rope, so that there is no doubt about this municipality being very water-logged. It should also be mentioned that under the present arrangements nearly all the surface water of Chitpur and Cossipore flow eastward under the railway by means of culverts into South Dum-Dum, and eventually escapes through the Bajulla Khal into the Salt Water Lakes. One of these culverts I found had been partly bunded up by the villagers for fishing purposes, just to the east of the railway, where it entered a tank.

Baranagar.—This municipality lies between the Hooghly and the Eastern Bengal Railway, extending northwards for nearly two miles above Cossipore. It is divided into four wards, the first three of which are between the river and the Grand Trunk Road, and the fourth lies to the east of the former, being mostly between the Grand Trunk Road and the railway, and consequently is dependant for its water-supply on tanks, while the first three get theirs mainly from the river, although Ward I, which is the most southernly bordering on Cossipore, obtains a certain amount of filtered water from that municipality. Ward I has the lowest spleen rate, it being only 11·6; Wards II and III have intermediate rates of 14·3 and 18·1, respectively; while Ward IV has the highest rate, namely 26—differences which can only be explained by the varying water-supply; for although the last ward also has a larger area under rice cultivation, that portion of it whose inhabitants were examined did not present materially different conditions from the other three wards. Nor will the differences in the ground water-level, which are given in the table above, account for the spleen rates.

Kamarhati.—This municipality lies immediately to the north of Baranagar (from which it has recently been separated), and consists of two wards, namely, No. 1 between the river and Grand Trunk Road, and No. 2, from the latter up to the Eastern Bengal Railway and including Belguria. The spleen rate of the river ward was found to be 18·8, while that of the inland ward was 34·8—a notable difference; while the first ward mainly relies on the river for its water-supply, and the latter is dependant on tanks; for although there are a few wells in all the municipalities, mostly belonging to private individuals, yet they appear from my enquiries to be little, if at all, used by the people for drinking purposes, especially if filtered water is available, while many intelligent natives informed me that those who drink filtered water suffered much less than those who drank that from any other source, including well water. The ground water was 7 feet below the surface in February in the riverine ward, and had been within 1 foot 8 inches of it in the rainy season of 1899, while it was 1 foot further down in both seasons in the case of the Belguria ward, so that from this point of view the latter should have been slightly the more healthy of the two, instead of entirely the reverse obtaining.

North Dum-Dum.—This municipality is situated to the east of Kamarhati, and extends from the railway to Nowi Nadi, a distance of some four miles, and it consists for the most part of rice-fields surrounding several villages. It contains two wards, the westernly of which includes the large village of Nimta, while the easternly one includes Gouripur and Kadihati, which are situated on the Nowi Nadi, a sluggish stream which carries the surface drainage away to the south-east into the Kocho bhil. The water-level in a well in the western ward was 7 feet 3 inches below the surface in February, and had risen to within 2 feet 3 inches in the rainy season of 1889, so that this part is certainly water-logged, although it will be necessary to wait for the ground water records of the next rains before the exact degree of this can be estimated. The spleen rate in the western ward was no less than 76·6 per cent., while among 58 boys of the Nimta High School, who mostly belonged to well-to-do families, it was 67 per cent. In the eastern ward the percentage worked out at 59·6, which is also very high, the average of the two wards being 68·1, an extremely high figure. The water-supply is solely from tanks and a very few wells, while the villages are surrounded by flooded rice-fields during the rainy season; both a bad water-supply and water-logging being present, and factors in causing the marked unhealthiness of this area.

South Barrackpore.—This municipality is a very large and scattered one, mainly consisting of a riverine portion situated between the Hooghly and the Grand Trunk Road, the following four wards of which, beginning from the south, were examined; namely Agarpara, with a spleen rate of 30·8 and a ground water-level of 7 feet in February and 1 foot 8 inches below the surface in the rains of 1899; Punihati, with a spleen rate of 31·25, Sukchar, with a spleen rate of 12·1 and a ground water-level of 8 feet in February and 2 feet below the surface in the rains of 1899; and Khardaha, situated just to the south of the khal of the same name with a spleen rate of 26·75 and a ground water-level of 6 feet 6 inches down in February. All these depend mainly for their water-supply on the river, while the exceptionally low rate of Sukchar appears to be due to the unusual number of good pucka houses, many of which were two stories high, the inhabitants of which must have been much better to do than the majority of those in most of the other wards, while tanks seemed also to be fewer than usual in this ward.

This municipality also includes a large area of rice land with scattered villages to the east of the Grand Trunk Road and extending across the Eastern Bengal Railway. Two portions of this were examined, namely, one to the east of Punihati and Sukchar, consisting mainly of the village Sodepore on either side of the Eastern Bengal Railway, but mostly to the east of it, and another village called Natagore to the east of the former. The spleen rate of this area was 60·4, that of Sodepore having been 61·7, and that of Natagore 64·4, the ground water-levels in February having been 10 feet 6 inches and 9 feet respectively, and in the rainy season of 1899 2 feet and 4 feet below the surface, measurements which, it will be observed, are very similar figures to those of the riverine portions of this municipality, the slight difference being in favour of the inland portions, although their spleen rates are very much higher than those of the parts on the banks of the Hooghly, so that the water-levels do not help in explaining the difference. On the other hand the dwellers near the river will mostly drink river water, while those who live more inland are entirely dependant on tank water. The other part of the South Barrackpore Municipality which was examined lies to the east of the railway opposite North Barrackpore, and consisting of the villages of Chandanpukuria and Nona. The spleen rate was found to be 51·6, while the ground water-level was 10 feet 4 inches below the surface in February, but had risen to within 5 feet during the rains of 1899, figures which are much more favourable than those of Maniktala and Chitpur-Cossipore, which have the lowest spleen rates. This, the most north-easternly ward of the South Barrackpore Municipality, is also dependant on tank water for its drinking supply. The much lower spleen rate then of the parts near the river as compared with those at a distance of 2 miles or more from it is again borne out by this municipality, the figures of which are given in the table below:—

Tittagarh.—This is a small municipality which lies on the east bank of the Hooghly between South and North Barrackpore, and is bounded on the south by the Khardaha khal, and on the north by the Tittagarh khal, and on the east by the Grand Trunk Road, It is divided into four wards numbered I to IV from north to south. Two mills in Wards II and III supply a limited amount of filtered water, more especially to the inhabitants of Ward II, but Wards I and IV on either side of the other two drink nearly entirely river and tank water. Here then was a very good opportunity of putting to a crucial test the question as to whether filtered water drinkers suffer less from enlargement of the spleen than do those who drink other kinds, so notes were made in the great majority of the people examined in this municipality as to what water they usually drank, whether filtered, Hooghly, or tank. The results are as follows, beginning from the south as before: Ward IV, which is a narrow strip situated on the north bank of the Khardaha khal, up which the tidal water flows as far as a sluice gate in a bridge under the Grand Trunk Road, and which contains a series of kutcha bustees, had a spleen rate of 48 per cent.—that is a very high one for a riparian area The water-level was 10 feet 1 inch below the surface in February, but had risen to within 1 foot 3 inches in the rains of 1899. Only 16 per cent. of those who were examined stated that they drank filtered water. In Ward III, 32 per cent. of those examined had drunk filtered water, and the spleen rate was 30 per cent. The water-level had been 1 foot 6 inches below the surface in the rains of 1899, and was 10 feet 6 inches down in February, so that in this respect the conditions were just the same as in Ward IV, so this factor will not explain the considerable difference between the health of these two wards, the water-supply only being different. Still more marked, however, was the difference between the spleen rates of the two northern wards whose general conditions are precisely similar, that of Ward II, which is opposite the mills, being 19 per cent., and that of Ward I, immediately further north, was 54·3, in spite of the ground water-level of the latter having been 6 feet from the surface at the height of the rains of 1899, and 18 feet 4 inches down in February last—an exceptionally low rate. On the other hand, the number of the people examined in Ward II who had drunk filtered water was no less than 82·5 per cent., while only 19·6 of those of the Ward I stated that they drank filtered water, and owing to their greater distance from the supply they were probably less regular in obtaining it than were the inhabitants of Ward II, at whose doors it was placed. These figures are sufficiently striking, especially as they only confirm the data obtained in several other municipalities, to be given immediately, and they are also in entire agreement with the following results of the differences in the spleen rate among the drinkers of the different kinds of water in this municipality. Thus among 140 filtered water drinkers 37 or 26·4 per cent. had enlarged spleens: while among 179 river water drinkers 74 or 41·3 per cent. were similarly affected, but of 55 tank water drinkers no less than 37 or 67·2 per cent. had enlargement of this organ. Further, if we take the degree of enlargement among the different classes as detailed in Table IX, we find that of those who had enlarged spleens the degree of enlargement was very slight in 62 per cent. of the filtered water drinkers, in 43·2 per cent. of the river water drinkers, but only in 23·5 of those who drank tank water, it being considerable or very enlarged in the remainder. Not only then is the percentage of enlarged organs much greater in those who drank unfiltered water (the percentage of mixed river and tank water drinkers being 47·4), but the degree of enlargement of the organ was also much more marked in the latter classes as compared with the filtered water drinkers.

North Barrackpore.—This is a small municipality on the east bank of the Hooghly, extending from the Tittagarh khal on the south to the Ichapur khal on the north, and bounded on the east by the Grand Trunk Road. It consists of three circles. Firstly, Monirampur, situated in the bend of the river to the west of Barrackpore Cantonment, the spleen rate of which is 24 per cent., while the ground water is low, there having been no water in a well 8 feet 8 inches deep in February. The water-supply is mainly derived from the river. Secondly, Nawabganj, also placed on the bank of the river to the north of the last named, its spleen rate being 28·6 per cent., while the water-level was 9 feet below the surface of the ground in February, and had risen to 5 feet from the ground in the rains of 1899. The water-supply is mainly derived from the river. Thirdly, Ichapur, which is situated to the north-east of the last circle, and the main portion of whose inhabitants reside at a distance of about one mile from the river and near the Grand Trunk Road, and consequently are mainly dependant on tanks for their water-supply. The spleen rate of this circle was 56 per cent., although as the ground water-level was 10 feet from the surface in February and had not risen above 4 feet in the rains of 1899, there being no difference in this respect from the other two circles which could possibly account for the greatly higher spleen rate of Ichapur, whose water-supply from tanks instead of from the river appears to be the only possible explanation of the facts recorded.

Garulia.—This small municipality is situated between the Hooghly river and the Grand Trunk Road, immediately to the north of the Ichapur khal, and its northern half has been supplied with filtered water from the Dunbar Cotton Mills for the past two years, but the inhabitants of the southern portion for the most part still drink river and tank water. As there was a very general opinion among the people living near the mill that they had suffered much less from fever since the filtered water had been introduced, I determined to examine 100 persons who resided near the mill, and the vast majority of whom (about 80 per cent.) were found on inquiry to have been drinking the filtered water; and another 100 a little further to the south, but all within one mile of the former, and who stated that they drank river or tank water, but otherwise lived under precisely the same conditions. Among the former class the spleen rate was found to be 21 per cent., while among the river and tank water drinkers it was 46·5 per cent., although the latter included 28 men who had arrived from the North-Western Provinces only in November last, that is, after the fever season is nearly over, and whose spleen rate was only 10·7 per cent. If these men are excluded from the calculation, the spleen rate of the permanent residents of this southern portion of the municipality rises to 55·6 per cent., or just over two and-a-half times as great as among the filtered water drinkers. A well in the northern part showed a water-level 9 feet 6 inches below the surface of the ground in February, while it had risen to within 1 foot 6 inches during the rains of 1899, so that there must have been a considerable degree of water-logging at that time, in spite of which the spleen rate is low. These facts appear to admit of no other explanation than that the filtered water-supply was the cause of this low rate near the mill, as compared with a precisely similar area in other respects close by, which had not the advantage of the standpipe water.

Bhatpara.—This municipality consists of a narrow strip between the river Hooghly and the Eastern Bengal Railway and to the north of Garulia, and it is divided into three wards, the northern two, Wards I and II, of which more particularly and to a somewhat less extent the southern one, Ward III, obtain some filtered water from the mills situated within this area. The spleen rates of all are low, that of the southern one being slightly higher than the other two, although there is not much difference in their water-levels, which are slightly in favour of Ward III. The figures are given in Table XIII below :—

Naihati.—This municipality is situated between the Hooghly and the Eastern Bengal Railway, extending from Naihati itself northwards for 5 miles as far as the Bhagar khal, and although narrow to the south it gradually widens out to the north, so that while the lower three wards are mainly inhabited near the banks of the river, the majority of the people in the two northern wards live at some little distance from the river at Halishahar and Kanchrapara. Moreover the Gauripur Jute Mills supply some filtered water to Ward II, so it is worthy of note that this ward again has the lowest spleen rate, namely, 10·8, which is little more than half that of the Wards I and III on either side of it, whose general conditions are similar to those of Ward II, but which are mainly dependant on the river for their water-supply. Further Wards IV and V have the highest rates of all, being mainly dependant on tank water for their supplies, and that in spite of their ground water-level being lower than that of Ward III, so that the only way in which these variations can be explained is by the differences in the water-supplies of the various wards, which are also in accordance with the results obtained in every previously considered instance.

Barasat.—This municipality is situated on the Soonthee Nadi, some 8 miles east of the Hooghly river, and its surface drainage flows away to the south-east into the Kocho bhil. The Soonthee was formerly a large river, but now it resembles an elongated swamp with little or no current, except during the rainy season, while its bed is encroached upon in numerous places by a series of tanks which in places leave but a few yards between them for the stream, and fishing weirs, &c, also obstruct its course. The municipality is divided into five wards, Nos. I and II, including the town, while Nos. IV and V are to the east on the Soonthee khal and No. III to the south. In all the spleen rates are high, and the ground water-levels do not vary much, but are high in the rains, showing obstructed drainage and water logging. The water-supply is from tanks, although one or two tube wells have been put down.

The distribution of the malaria-bearing mosquito.—Any inquiry into the malarious nature of a tract of country will be incomplete, in view of recent discoveries, if all reference to the distribution of the anopheles genus of mosquito is omitted; for it must now be taken as proved that this insect may communicate the disease, although on the other hand, it must be clearly borne in mind that this is a very different thing from saying that the bites of mosquitoes are the only agency by which the malarial organism can gain access to the human body, so that the strong evidence of the intimate relationship between a pure water-supply and a diminished spleen rate which has been given in this report, confirming as it does long and widely held opinions that this disease may be conveyed through water, may well raise the question as to whether the mosquito may not take the germ back to water, by which medium it may again enter the human body—a question which can only be settled by experimental work. Be this as it may, the distribution of the anopheles larvæ in such a malaria-stricken tract as that under enquiry was evidently a matter of great interest and practical importance, especially in view of the suggestion of Major Ross that as this particul r kind of mosquito can only live in pools which are too small to harbour fish, yet not so small as to dry up in a few days, by hunting out these few suitable places, and destroying the larvæ in them it might be possible to rid a place of malaria altogether. As it was obviously impossible to search all the pools of the many square miles of country which was being examined, it was decided to map out all the pools and tanks in a small area, and to examine them systematically, and a portion of Maniktala, namely an area which lies between the Baliaghata road and the canal of the same name was chosen. Through the kindness of Dr. Neild Cook, the Health Officer of Calcutta, I was able to obtain the help of an experienced native, who had collected mosquito larvæ for Ross himself, and who knew just the kind of places in which to look for them. The first tank examined revealed the anophels larvæ, in spite of its containing numerous fish, and it was soon after found in several other tanks, although in one of these it was present in large numbers in a small pool just separate from the main body of water than in the neighbouring edge of the tank itself, although from the large area of the latter it probably contained a very much larger number of the larvæ than the more thickly inhabited pool. These larvæ were also found in two roadside drains, which were supplied with water from filtered water standpipes, so that the indroduction of such a source of supply evidently increases the number of breeding grounds for these mosquitoes, and consequently would tend to increase the amount of malarial fevers if their bites are the only agent in spreading the disease, instead of greatly decreasing it, as has been the case in this and other municipalities. Further experience showed that just half of 30 tanks in the mapped out area contained anopheles larvæ, and that in spite of all of them containing numerous fish, and many of them being alive with them. At this time of the year there were very few small area pools to be found, but one group in a piece of low-lying ground which had evidently been under water during the rainy season, is of exceptional interest. It contained three pools, one of which was two yards square, and the other two about five yards in diameter, and they contained from one to two inches of water. All three were inhabited by several small fish, yet two out of the three also contained fairly numerous anopheles larvæ, which the fish did not seem to care much about; for although they eat some other kinds of animalculæ they did not touch one of the larvæ during some minutes that I watched them. If the larvæ can survive in spite of fish in such small pools, is it any wonder that they so commonly live in tanks? It is also worthy of note that I was unable to find any cases of fever near any of the infected tanks, nor did three visits to the dispensary of this municipality, after giving notice that all fever cases were to be kept, enable me to see a single case, this being the time of year when malarial fevers are at their minimal incidence, so that I was unable to make any observations on the type of the fevers or the kind of parasites present for this inquiry. On the other hand, there is evidence that the number of small pools containing these larvæ are still decreasing in number, for the three mentioned above had dried up a week after they were seen, so that it is evident that the larvæ are probably more widely distributed still during the rainy season, and for some time after it, which are the great malarial seasons in these parts; a question which it is hoped to follow out during the next few months. That the state of affairs described is not peculiar to Maniktala is shown by the fact that I found the anopheles larvæ in several tanks in Gobardanga, so that it must most regretfully be admitted that the task of destroying these larvæ in even a small area of a single municipality even in the season when the infected places are fewest in number, appears to be hopeless in these parts, for the 15 infected tanks were all within an area of one-sixteenth of a square mile, and there must be several hundred tanks in Maniktala alone. If, then, malaria is always communicated through the bites of mosquitoes only, the chances of being able to appreciably lessen malarial diseases by a crusade against these tiny pests, in Bengal at any rate, are exceedingly remote, and could only be attempted by the old plan of extensive drainage schemes which might reduce to some extent the number of pools in which the malaria-bearing mosquitos could breed. If, however, infection can and does commonly take place through water, the problem will be much simplified, and other diseases, such as cholera, &c., will be reduced at the same time by the provision of a pure water-supply, which all the evidence in this report points to as the most urgently needed sanitary reform in Bengal.

The ground water-level and the spleen rate.—It has been already pointed out in discussing the variations in the spleen rate of different wards of each municipality that there is no definite relationship between these variations and those of the ground water-level, such as there was in regard to the water-supply, but this may be largely due to the latter factor predominating and so obscuring the effects of the ground water. If we take the figures of the areas at a distance from the river, whose water-supply is fairly similar, we find that the variations in the ground water-levels to be too slight to allow of any useful deductions to be drawn from them, so that it will be necessary to await the records of the water-levels which will be taken during and after the ensuing rainy season before their precise relationship can be determined.

The rainfall and the fever rate.—That the amount of malarial fever in different years varies very greatly is well known, but the exact relationship of the variations to the rainfall is not so certain. Most of the native medical men in charge of the dispensaries in those municipalities were agreed that there was more fever in years in which the rainfall was excessive, and the high fever rate in 1899 appears to bear this out. In order to ascertain if this was a constant relationship, charts of the monthly number of cases of fever treated in ten of the principal dispensaries of this tract of country, together with the monthly rainfall for the last six years, were made out. The fever charts of the different places corresponded very closely with each other, showing that there was some factor which operated equally on all, producing a high rate one year and a low one another. On the other hand there was no constant relationship between either the monthly distribution or the total rainfall and the fever rate: for while a high total and irregular monthly distribution was followed by a high fever rate in 1899, yet in 1896 the same conditions were accompanied by very little fever. Again in 1895 a low and regularly distributed rainfall coincided with a very high fever rate, while precisely the opposite occurred in 1897 under similar conditions; while the only point in common between the years of high fever rates appeared to be an irregular distribution of the rain with several breaks of a week or more, accompanied by a diminution of the humidity of the air and consequent more rapid evaporation—a state of affairs which I also found to be accompanied by much fever in Lucknow in 1898, but the exact bearing of which is not very obvious, so that the explanation of the seasonal variations of fever in this tract has not yet been fully elucidated by the present enquiry, and is evidently different from that which I found to prevail on laterite soil in a previous one, in which a high and irregularly distributed rainfall was always accompanied by a high fever rate and vice versa. The failure to find any definite relationship between either water-logging or rainfall and the spleen and fever rates of this tract of country only serves to emphasize the importance of the discovery of the effect of the varying water-supply on the spleen rates, while it is also worthy of note that the only exception to the rule that the fever rate of 1899 was unusually high in these municipalities in the year 1899 is that of Garulia, where the number of cases of fever treated at the dispensary last year was only about one third of the average for previous years and one-half of the rate for 1898; an exception which is probably accounted for by the fact that a partial filtered water-supply was introduced in 1898.

The Eastern Bengal Railway and the Drainage.—This line lies across the direction of the natural drainage of this tract from west to east, away from the Hooghly river, and the question whether it obstructs the drainage is one which has been previously debated. I observed that in several places there were fewer culverts under the railway than under the Grand Trunk Road a little to the west of it, so that some of the latter were thus rendered useless. On the other hand, the places with the highest spleen rates lie for the most part to the east of the railway, while the reverse should be the case if the unhealthiness were mainly due to obstructed drainage caused by the railway. Unfortunately it was not found possible to get observations of the water-level in close proximity on either side of the railway in order to decide if the railway was materially obstructing the drainage on account of the paucity of wells, but such as there were did not afford any evidence of marked obstruction. Thus the level of the water in Belguria to the west of the railway was 8 feet in February, and 2 feet 8 inches in the rainy season of 1899 below the surface, while the corresponding figures of North Dum-Dum, taken at a distance of about a mile on the other side of the Railway, were 7 feet 3 inches and 2 feet 3 inches, respectively. Further, the water levels in Sodepore and Nona to the east of the railway did not differ very materially from those of corresponding parts to the west of the line, but here again it will be well to await the records for the rest of the year before deciding on the exact value of these levels.

The Spleen rate and Caste, &c.—Table XVI shows the spleen rates in different castes, from which it appears that Hindus were less frequently affected than Muhammadans, and adult males less than children. Brahmins, however, had a high rate, which is somewhat surprising, as they are for the most part better off than other castes.

CONCLUSION.

The general result of the enquiry has been to show that there is a marked difference between the health of the riverine and the more inland portions of the area examined, the former being much less malarious than the latter. This at first sight seems to point to the unhealthiness of the eastern tract as being due to water-logging, for the ground near the river is on a slightly higher level than the rest. The result of an examination of Basirhat and Gobardanga on the next flowing river to the east of the Hooghly, however, revealed as high a spleen rate in them as in the worst part of the tract to the east of the Hooghly, with the exception of North Dum-Dum, so that it appears that the higher spleen rate, namely, about 50 per cent., is the normal for this portion of the delta of the Ganges, and that the tract on the east bank of the Hooghly and close to the river is really unusually healthy for these parts. The comparatively healthy area extends from the river bank to the Grand Trunk Road, and in some parts as far as the Eastern Bengal Railway, a distance varying from one to two miles. No essential difference in the water-levels of the healthy and unhealthy portions has been found which could account for the differences noted, but possibly a record of the ground water-levels throughout and for two or three months after the rains may reveal a slow subsidence at the end of the rains which would indicate obstructed surface drainage in the worst parts, so that the data given in this report cannot be taken as in any way excluding water-logging as a factor in producing the high spleen rate of certain places. On the contrary there is clear evidence that the khals and nadis which drain this area are to a great extent silted up, the deepening of which could hardly fail to improve the health of the country, although water-logging alone will not explain all the variations in the spleen rate which have been recorded above.

The most striking exceptions to the rule that the areas at a distance from the river bank have a high spleen rate is that of Maniktalla, and the eastern portions of Chitpur-Cossipore between the Grand Trunk Road and the railway, both of which, together with the rest of the last named, have the lowest rates of all. Moreover, they are the most water-logged of the whole area under consideration, both the ground water-levels of the cold weather and rainy seasons having been the highest recorded, so that it is evident that there must be some other factor to account for their marked immunity from malaria. This is certainly not the absence of the malaria-bearing mosquito, for it was in the first named place that they were found during the minimum fever season to be more widespread than has hitherto been reported from any part of India. The only possible factor which remains is the water-supply, and it is noteworthy that these two water-logged municipalities are the only ones which have a full filtered water-supply from the same source that Calcutta itself is supplied by. That this is the true explanation is borne out by the very low spleen rates of certain wards of other municipalities which have a partial filtered water-supply from various mills, as also of the wards of South Dum-Dum and Baranagar which border on Cossipore, from whose standpipes some of their inhabitants were obtaining filtered water, the details of which have been already given. Lastly, the figures given in Table X, showing the spleen rate among river water drinkers to be nearly double, and that of tank water drinkers to be nearly treble, that of filtered water drinkers, strongly corroborate the evidence as to the benefit derived from the filtered water, and afford a key to the whole distribution of the varying spleen rates in the riverine tract, as can be seen from a careful study of the accompanying map. Thus Chitpur and Cossipore west, which have the double advantage of a filtered water-supply and close proximity to the river, so that those who do not drink filtered water will for the most part take river water, have the lowest spleen rates of all, averaging 7·4. The eastern portion of the same municipality, which has tank instead of river water as an alternative to the filtered supply, on the other hand, has a spleen rate of 14·8 which is almost the same as that of Maniktala with one of 13·2, the latter having a similar water-supply. Further those wards which are situated immediately on the river bank, but have not got filtered water, and consequently get their supply mainly from the river, and to a less extent from tanks, have a rate intermediate between those with filtered water and the more inland ones which are dependent entirely on tank water. Those to the east of the railway are also more surrounded by rice-fields and perhaps more water-logged and have the highest rates. In short all the ward variations in the spleen rate of the riverine municipalities can be explained on the ground of their varying water-supply in a manner that no other explanation will approach in completeness, so that it is impossible to come to any other conclusion than that the above is the true explanation of the facts recorded.

It is on account of the very importance of this conclusion that such full details of the ward variations of the spleen rate have been given, which together with the map will allow of a close examination of the data on which it is based, for if this conclusion is accepted it will be evident that the introduction of a pure water-supply should be the first consideration if the fever rate is to be reduced, while surface drainage can safely be postponed for a time, as is evident from the very low spleen rate of water-logged Maniktala. The improvement of the water-supply will also reduce such diseases as cholera at the same time that malarial fevers are greatly decreased, while the fear that the latter will be increased by the supply of filtered water increasing water-logging may be dismissed as chimerical, and this essential sanitary reform may be safely pressed on in all densely inhabited municipal areas.

The most malarious areas, however, are the rural tracts consisting of scattered villages in the midst of rice-fields, the provision of a pure water-supply for whom is a very difficult problem. The people do not seem to appreciate well water, which it is by no means certain would be less productive of malaria than river or tank water, while the construction of masonry wells in considerable numbers is a very expensive matter. A more feasible method of supplying pure water to such places would appear to be the sinking of a large number of tube wells, which are very cheap and yield a good supply, especially if they are sunk close to tanks, whose waters will thus be filtered through a thick layer of alluvial soil before reaching the sunken tube of the well, while the water will be cool and agreeable to the villagers. A certain number of these wells have already been successfully introduced into some of the rural municipalities, but not in sufficient numbers to have any appreciable effect on their health, nor will the funds at their disposal allow of more rapid progress in this matter, so that under present circumstances it will not be possible to get any evidence as to their value in reducing malaria. I would therefore suggest that a sufficient number of these wells to supply water to the great majority of the inhabitants of one or more wards of some selected rural municipalities should be sunk as an experimental measure, and the results carefully watched. Portions of Barasat and North Dum-Dum would be the most suitable areas to commence with, as their spleen rate has been ascertained to be a very high one, and it could be subsequently retested so as to afford a definite measure of the result of the trial.

Drainage.—Although it appears to be clear that a pure water-supply is the most important measure for reducing the amount of malaria in this tract, it is no less certain that efficient drainage would also materially benefit the health of more especially the parts at a little distance from the bank of the Hooghly, if it be practical to effect a permanent improvement in this respect at a reasonable cost—a matter which must be left to the engineers to decide. It will not be sufficient to deepen the silted up drainage channels, unless arrangements are made to keep them open, a matter of the greatest difficulty when we bear in mind the inevitable tendency of a deltaic tract to rise slowly but surely above sea water-level. The introduction of a pure water-supply, on the other hand is a matter of much more permanent value, so that the principal conclusion which all the evidence adduced in this report points would appear to be that in order to reduce the prevalence of malaria in this tract of country, a pure water supply, preferable filtered, should first be introduced, while secondly the drainage of the tract should be improved if a practicable scheme of permanently effecting this can be devised.

WORKING OF THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE BRIGADE ACT, I OF 1893, AS AMENDED BY ACT I OF 1894, IN THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY, DURING THE YEAR 1899-1900.

NOTIFICATION—No. 2151M.

The 4th July 1900.—The following report is published for general information in accordance with the provisions of section 41 of the Licensed Warehouse and Fire Brigade Act, I of 1893.

E. N. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1899-1900 UNDER THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT, I OF 1893, AS AMENDED BY ACT I OF 1894.

Dated Howrah, the 15th June 1900.

From—T. INGLIS, ESQ., Chairman of the Howrah Municipality,
To—The Magistrate of Howrah.

I HAVE the honour to report that 259 warehouses were licensed in 1899-1900 of the 291 registered during that year, against 263 of the 334 registered in 1898-99 ; the details being as follows :—

Years.	Jute.	Cotton.	Straw.	Wood.	Hay.	Total.
Registered, 1898-99 ...	33	32	76	190	3	334
Do. 1899-1900 ...	32	28	60	167	4	291
Licensed, 1898-99 ...	28	28	50	154	3	263
Do. 1899-1900 ...	25	28	49	153	4	259

The falling-off in the number of warehouses was owing to more warehouses having been closed than were opened during the year under report.

2. The income from license fees during the year under report amounted to Rs. 5,555, of which Rs. 239 were collected on account of arrears for 1898-99. But in the year 1898-99 the collections amounted to Rs. 5,977, of which Rs. 658 accrued from arrears of 1897-98, which mainly accounts for the decrease in collection during the year under report. Further, Messrs. Burjorji and Framji of Nos. 4, 4-1, 3 Khetra Mitra Lane, Salkia (Rs. 59), Messrs. Harton & Co., of No. 123 Old Ghusari Road (Rs. 106), Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Co. of No. 35 Old Ghusari Road (Rs. 36), the Shibpore Jute Mills Company, Limited, of No. 29-2, Raj Narain Rai Chaudhri Ghât Road (Rs. 90), Messrs. Neharmul Bhaniram of Nos 17, 20 and 21 Old Ghusari Road (Rs. 32-6-3), Messrs. Kettlewell, Bullen & Co. of No. 82 Foreshore Road (Rs. 60) did not pay their respective license fees owing to their godowns lying vacant throughout the year. Hence it is apparent that there is an improvement in collection of license fees for the year under report.

3. The demand, collection, remission and balance for 1899-1900 are shown in Appendix A, and the details of licenses granted in this year to jute and cotton warehouses are entered in Appendix B. Owing to the comparative unimportance of the 206 licenses granted for the storage of straw, wood and hay in 1899-1900, against 207 in the previous year, they have not been entered in Appendix B, and it may be noted that such licenses have only been levied under the Fire-Brigade Act since July 1893, prior to which they were levied under section 261 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

4. There were 27 prosecutions which realized Rs. 103-8 against Rs. 43 in the previous year, which realized Rs. 60-8.

5. The expenditure incurred in assessing and collecting license fees amounted to Rs. 510 :—

	Rs.
Salary of General Supervisor and Assessor	200
Salary of Inspector	180
Commission of Inspector	25
Salary of Clerk	60
Peon	42
Contingencies	3
Total ...	510

6. The Fire-brigade establishment, as hitherto, remained under the control of the Commissioner of Police, Calcutta. The Fire-brigade Station in Howrah stands in a very central position north of the Municipal Market, and from a wooden stage raised over it the whole town is overlooked. There were 7 fires during the year, the details of which are given in Appendix C : besides these, there were 5 other petty fires, at 3 of which the Fire-brigade attended and 2 were extinguished by the residents of the localities.

7. The Commissioner of Police demanded Rs. 3,848 for the maintenance of the Fire-brigade in 1899-1900, and this amount was remitted to him during the year.

The mean depression of the nocturnal radiation thermometer below the minimum air temperature at 1 feet above the ground	1 5
The greatest depression of the nocturnal radiation thermometer below the minimum air temperature	2·9	8th
	Miles.
The mean movement of the wind per day	127 5
The greatest movement of the wind in one day	271 1	14th
The greatest movement of the wind in one hour	?

The number of hours with winds from each of the 8 points—
* N., N.E., E., S.E., S., S.W., W., N.W., Calm.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 00 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·5 higher, and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder.

F. A. SLACKE,
Offg. Secy to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION—No. 2442.

The 17th July 1900.—It is notified, for general information, that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, if no valid objections be raised within one month from this date, to issue the following rules regarding the salving, collection and disposal of drift, &c., timber, in the district of Jalpaiguri and Darjeeling.

1. Salvage of timber.—All timber in pieces exceeding 2 feet in girth and 4 feet in length, found adrift, beached, stranded or sunk in the areas defined by Notification dated the 3rd November 1879, as modified by Notification dated the 18th July 1887, that is to say, on the following rivers in the districts of Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri, together with their tributaries, so far as they flow through British territory down to the southern boundary of those districts :—

(1) Mechi river,	(6) Jaldaka,	(11) Kalajani,
(2) Chenga,	(7) Dudua,	(12) Darsi,
(3) Balasun,	(8) Mojuai,	(13) Raidak,
(4) Mahanadi,	(9) Torsa,	(14) Kalkoli,
(5) Tista,	(10) Buri Torsa,

may be salved by any person: provided that nothing in this rule shall be held to prevent the Forest Officer contracting with the salvers to collect the wood and timber at certain places, or leasing the right of collection and disposal at rates agreed on by the parties, and no salvage rate shall be claimable in addition to any rate paid under such contract.

2. Report to be made when wood or timber is salved.—The salver shall intimate the fact that he has salved wood or timber to the Divisional Forest Officer in charge of the drift operations, or to the nearest police-station, or to such police or other officer or subordinate as the Divisional Forest Officer may from time to time direct to receive such reports; every such police or other officer or subordinate shall be bound to give a receipt to the person so intimating, and report the same, without unnecessary delay, to the Divisional Forest Officer in charge of the forest division to which the control of the river pertains.

3. Salvage fees.—The following salvage rates shall be payable by the Forest Officer either to the salver or to the Forest Officer; in the latter case the sanction of his immediate superior must be first obtained, as the case may be:—

(a) For salvage in situ—10 per cent. of the value of the wood salved, as adjudged by the Forest Officer.

(b) For salvage and transport to depôt—25 per cent. of the value of the wood salved as adjudged by the Forest Officer.

The Forest Officer may fix any higher rate, not exceeding twice the above rates, for salving or for salving and transport to depôt, on any portion of a river where such salving is unusually difficult or dangerous, or where any depôt notified by the Forest Officer under section 45 of the Act is situated at a distance of over five miles from where the salving actually took place.

Note.—No such wood or timber shall be delivered to any claimant, who, under section 47 of the Indian Forest Act, has been recognised to be the owner until, under section 50 of the said Act, he shall have paid to the Forest Officer the salvage fees fixed by rule 3, together with such other expenses as may have been incurred in moving, storing, and disposing of the said wood or timber. Should the recognised owner fail to make these payments within ten days of his receiving intimation from the Forest Officer of the amount due, the timber shall be liable to be sold by public auction at the owner's risk and without any further notice to him. The proceeds of such sale shall be appropriated first to the payment of all amounts due and the balance held in deposit to the owner's credit.

4. Removal of salved timber or wood.—No person shall, without permission in writing of the Forest Officer, cut up, remove, conceal, burn, mark or efface or alter any mark or marks on, or sell or otherwise dispose of any wood or timber subject to these rules, except in accordance with their provisions.

NOTES.—(a) Drift and stranded timber when sold to be marked with departmental sale mark.—Drift and stranded wood and timber, when sold by the Forest Department, will be marked with the departmental sale mark, and, when relinquished under note under rule 3, with a suitable distinguishing mark.

(b) Grant of passes.—For all timber removed from the area above notified, a printed and numbered pass must be obtained from such officials as may be appointed by Divisional Forest Officers, on which shall be clearly entered the number of pieces and the kinds of wood and timber and the amount realised from the purchaser or claimant, over the signature of the official appointed to this duty.

5. Penalty clause.—Any person who shall infringe any of the provisions of these rules shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 10th July 1900.

No. 116Marine.—The following Notifications Nos. 3581P. and 3582P., dated the 9th June 1900, by the Government of Bombay, relative to the rules framed in accordance with the provisions of the Venice Sanitary Convention of 1897 for the Ports of Aden and Perim, are published for general information.

R. B. BUCKLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 3581P., dated Bombay, Castle, the 9th June 1900.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of Bombay, General Department (Plague).

THE following rules, framed in accordance with the provisions of the Venice Sanitary Convention of 1897 for the Port of Aden, is published for general information:—

"In exercise of the powers delegated by the Governor-General in Council, under section 2 (3) of the Epidemic Diseases Act, III of 1897, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to prescribe, as a temporary measure, the following rules for the protection of the port against plague applicable to vessels arriving at Aden:—

Rule I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving at Aden from an infected port shall, before entering the harbour, hoist a yellow flag (or if entering the port at night-time, exhibit two red lights one above the other at the main) and indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come, and shall keep such flag and signals flying until permitted to take them down. The pilot on going alongside a vessel from an infected port shall direct the flag prescribed above to be hoisted if this has not been already done.

Rule II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, except orally, with the shore or with any other vessel or boat except the pilot boat, with which communication shall be limited to receiving the pilot who shall proceed straight to the bridge.

Rule III.—(1) All vessels passed as 'healthy' according to the procedure prescribed in these rules shall be given 'pratique,' even though ten days may not have elasped since their departure from an infected port; provided that, in the case of a 'healthy' vessel which has been in an infected port within ten days of its arrival at Aden, the following measures are to be taken:—

(b) The soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers which, in the opinion of the officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident, may be regarded as contaminated, should be disinfected.

(c) A watch should be kept over the health of the crew and passengers (until ten days from the date of departure from the infected port).

(d) The crew should not be permitted to land except on duty and subject to such precautions as the officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident deems necessary.

(e) The bilge-water should be pumped out after disinfection and good drinking water should be substituted for the water stored on board.

Rule IV.—On the arrival of a vessel whose destination is Aden, an officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident shall go alongside and ascertain whether ten days have or have not expired since its departure from an infected port.

(a) If ten days have expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall board the vessel and make an individual medical inspection of all persons on board. He shall also make such enquiries as he thinks necessary and may require a declaration on oath from the Medical Officer of the vessel, if any, or the Captain, or both, as to the existence of plague or suspected plague on board the vessel either during the voyage or before its departure. He shall then declare whether the vessel is 'healthy,' 'suspected' or 'infected,' as defined in Rule VII. If he is satisfied that the vessel is 'healthy,' it shall be given pratique forthwith. If he declares it to be 'suspected' or 'infected,' it shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed in Rule VII.

(b) If on the arrival of a vessel it is ascertained that ten days have not expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall proceed as in clause (a), and if he comes to the conclusion that the vessel is 'healthy,' he shall give it pratique subject to the measures prescribed in Rule III (1).

Provided, however, that the officer appointed for the purpose may, at any time before the expiration of the aforesaid period of ten days, make such enquiries and inspections as he thinks necessary, and if as the result thereof he comes to the conclusion that the vessel is 'infected,' he shall forthwith, and without waiting for the expiration of the ten days' period, order it to be treated as infected.

Rule V.—On the arrival of a vessel, which is onward bound, and which uses Aden merely as a port of call, the officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident shall go alongside and ascertain whether ten days have or have not expired since its departure from an infected port.

(a) If ten days have expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall make an individual medical inspection of all persons on board, and if, as the result thereof and of any enquiries he may make, he is satisfied that the vessel is 'healthy,' the vessel shall be given 'pratique.' If pratique is not given, the vessel shall remain at the anchorage appointed for the purpose by the Resident during its stay in port; no persons shall be landed therefrom except at the places appointed by the Resident, and no communication with the shore or with other vessels shall be allowed except the landing and shipping of Mails and the embarkation of passengers, cargo and coals, subject to the rules then in force regarding such embarkation.

(b) If ten days have not expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall make an individual medical inspection of all persons on board and such enquiries as he thinks necessary, and if he comes to the conclusion that the vessel is 'healthy,' he shall give it pratique subject to the measures prescribed in Rule III (1), provided that such a vessel, may instead of seeking free pratique remain without pratique at the anchorage appointed for the purpose during its stay in port.

N.B.—No inspection of a vessel under Rules IV and V shall ordinarily be made except by daylight.

Rule VI.—These rules shall not prevent the transhipment of passengers or other persons or Mails or cargo from a vessel which has not obtained pratique to another, provided that thereafter the latter vessel shall be treated as if it had not obtained pratique.

Rule VII.—For the purposes of these rules a 'healthy' vessel means—

'A vessel,* even though coming from an infected port, which has had no death from or case of, plague on board, either before departure, during the voyage or on arrival.

A 'suspected' vessel means—

'Any vessel, on board which there has been a case of plague at the time of departure or during the voyage, but on which no fresh case has occurred for twelve days.'

An 'infected' vessel means—

'Any vessel with plague on board, or on board which one or more cases have taken place within twelve days.'

The only measures which the authorities of the port of arrival may enforce with regard to 'healthy' vessels are those which are prescribed for 'suspected' vessels (medical inspection, disinfection, pumping out the bilge-water and the substitution of good drinking water for the water on board), except that measures prescribed for the disinfection of the vessels itself may not be enforced in the case of healthy vessels.

The following treatment is prescribed for 'suspected' and 'infected' vessels respectively:—

Suspected vessels are subject to the following measures, which will be carried out under the orders and supervision of the officer, appointed for the purpose:—

1.—Individual medical inspection.

*NOTE.—Vide Chapter II, Section VIII, of the Venice Convention Regulations.

2.—Disinfection; the soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers, which, in the opinion of the officer appointed for the purpose, may be regarded as contaminated, should be disinfected.

3.—Pumping out the bilge-water after disinfection and the substitution of good drinking water for the water stored on board.

4.—Disinfection of all parts of the vessel which have been inhabited by plague patients, and any other measures of disinfection that may be ordered by the officer appointed for the purpose.

A watch should be kept over the health of the crew and passengers for ten days from the date of arrival of the vessel; and the crew should not, without the special permission of the officer appointed for the purpose, be allowed to land, except on duty and subject to such precautions as he deems necessary.

Infected vessels are subject to the following rules :—

1.—All persons suffering from, or suspected to be suffering from, plague, shall be immediately disembarked and isolated.

2.—The other persons on board should also, if possible, be disembarked and kept under observation or surveillance* for a period varying according to the sanitary condition of the vessel and the date of the last case, but which must not exceed ten days

3.—The soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers, which, in the opinion of the sanitary authority of the port, may be considered as infected, will be disinfected.

4.—The bilge-water will be pumped out after disinfection, and good drinking water will be substituted for the water stored on board.

5.—All parts of the vessel which have been inhabited by plague patients should be disinfected, and such other measures of disinfection shall be taken as may be ordered by the officer appointed for the purpose.

Rule VIII.—The Resident shall have full power, subject to any orders that may be issued by the Government of Bombay, to make regulations or pass orders regarding the detention under observation of persons who are open to suspicion as likely to carry infection of plague, and who in the event of plague developing might be difficult to find, as also regarding persons who are merely passing through Aden en route for African ports, and regarding the administration of observation camps and hospitals, whether ashore or afloat, and regarding anchorages, and all persons concerned shall be bound to obey such regulations and orders. Any vessel objecting to submit thereto, or to any of the measures indicated in these rules, shall, however, be free to put back to sea, provided that all persons suffering from, or suspected to be suffering from, plague shall be immediately disembarked and isolated Rule IX.—Any Mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel arriving from an infected port shall be landed under such precautions as the officer appointed for the purpose may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

Rule X.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels to which pratique has not been given of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

Rule XI.—All vessels arriving at Aden which may have communicated with infected vessels in such a manner that, in the opinion of the officer appointed for the purpose, the communication is likely to have conveyed infection shall be subjected to the same rules as vessels arriving at Aden from an infected port.

Rule XII.—All vessels which have undergone medical inspection or have been in the port without obtaining pratique in the manner above prescribed should have the fact clearly stated on their bills of health."

* The expression 'observation' means segregation of the passengers, either on board a vessel or in a lazaretto, till they have obtained free pratique. The expression 'surveillance' means that the passengers will not be isolated; they will at once obtain free pratique, but on arriving at their destination they will be kept under medical surveillance.

No. 3582P., dated Bombay Castle, the 9th June 1900.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of Bombay, General Department (Plague).

THE following rules, framed in accordance with the provisions of the Venice Sanitary Convention of 1897 for the Port of Perim, are published for general information:—

"In exercise of the powers delegated by the Governor-General in Council, under section 2 (3) of the Epidemic Diseases Act, III of 1897, His Excellency the Governor in Council is pleased to prescribe, as a temporary measure, the following rules for the protection of the port against plague applicable to vessels arriving at Perim:—

Rule I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving at Perim from an infected port shall, before entering the harbour, hoist a yellow flag (or if entering the port at night-time, exhibit two red lights one above the other at the main) and indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come, and shall keep such flag and signals flying until permitted to take them down. The pilot on going alongside a vessel from an infected port shall direct the flag prescribed above to be hoisted if this has not been already done.

Rule II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, except orally, with the shore or with any other vessel or boat except the pilot boat, with which communication shall be limited to receiving the pilot who shall proceed straight to the bridge.

Rule III.—(1) All vessels passed as 'healthy' according to the procedure prescribed in these rules shall be given 'pratique' even though ten days may not have elapsed since their departure from an infected port; provided that, in the case of a 'healthy' vessel which has been in an infected port within ten days of its arrival at Perim, the following measures are to be taken:—

(a) Individual medical inspection of the persons on board should be made.

(b) The soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers which, in the opinion of the officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident, may be regarded as contaminated should be disinfected.

(c) A watch should be kept over the health of the crew and passengers (until ten days from the date of departure from the infected port).

(d) The crew should not be permitted to land except on duty and subject to such precautions as the officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident deems necessary.

(e) The bilge-water should be pumped out after disinfection and good drinking water should be substituted for the water stored on board.

Rule IV.—On the arrival of a vessel whose destination is Perim, an officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident shall go alongside and ascertain whether ten days have or have not expired since its departure from an infected port.

(a) If ten days have expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall board the vessel and make an individual medical inspection of all persons on board. He shall also make such enquiries as he thinks necessary and may require a declaration on oath from the Medical Officer of the vessel, if any, or the Captain, or both, as to the existence of plague or suspected plague on board the vessel either during the voyage or before its departure. He shall then declare whether the vessel is 'healthy,' 'suspected' or 'infected,' as defined in Rule VII. If he is satisfied that the vessel is 'healthy,' it shall be given pratique forthwith. If he declares it to be 'suspected' or 'infected,' it shall be dealt with in the manner prescribed in Rule VII.

(b) If on the arrival of a vessel it is ascertained that ten days have not expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall proceed as in clause (a), and if he comes to the conclusion that the vessel is healthy, he shall give it pratique subject to the measures prescribed in Rule III (1).

Provided, however, that the officer appointed for the purpose may at any time before the expiration of the aforesaid period of ten days, make such enquiries and inspections as he thinks necessary, and if, as the result thereof, he comes to the conclusion that the vessel is 'infected,' he shall forthwith, and without waiting for the expiration of the ten days' period, order it to be treated as infected.

Rule V.—On the arrival of a vessel, which is onward bound, and which uses Perim merely as a port of call, the officer appointed for the purpose by the Resident shall go alongside and ascertain whether ten days have or have not expired since its departure from an infected port.

(a) If ten days have expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall make an individual medical inspection of all persons on board, and if, as the result thereof and of any enquiries he may make, he is satisfied that the vessel is 'healthy,' the vessel shall be given 'pratique.' If pratique is not given, the vessel shall remain at the anchorage appointed for the purpose by the Resident during its stay in port; no persons shall be landed therefrom except at the places appointed by the Resident, and no communication with the shore or with other vessels shall be allowed except the landing and shipping of Mails and the embarkation of passengers, cargo and coals, subject to the rules then in force regarding such embarkation.

(b) If ten days have not expired since its departure from an infected port, the officer appointed for the purpose shall make an individual medical inspection of all persons on board and such enquiries as he thinks necessary, and if he comes to the conclusion that the vessel is 'healthy,' he shall give it pratique subject to the measures prescribed in Rule III (1), provided that such a vessel may, instead of seeking free pratique, remain without pratique at the anchorage appointed for the purpose during its stay in port.

N. B.—No inspection of a vessel under Rules IV and V shall ordinarily be made except by daylight.

Rule VI.—These rules shall not prevent the transhipment of passengers or other persons or Mails or cargo from a vessel which has not obtained pratique to another, provided that thereafter the latter vessel shall be treated as if it had not obtained pratique.

Rule VII.—For the purposes of these rules a 'healthy' vessel means—

'A vessel,* even though coming from an infected port, which has had no death from, or case of, plague on board, either before departure, during the voyage, or on arrival.'

A 'suspected' vessel means—

'Any vessel, on board which there has been a case of plague at the time of departure or during the voyage, but on which no fresh case has occurred for twelve days.'

An 'infected' vessel means—

'Any vessel with plague on board, or on board which one or more cases have taken place within twelve days'

The only measures, which the authorities of the port of arrival many enforce with regard to 'healthy' vessels, are, those which are prescribed for 'suspected' vessels (medical inspection, disinfection, pumping out the bilge-water and the substitution of good drinking water for the water on board), except that the measures prescribed for the disinfection of the vessel itself may not be enforced in the case of healthy vessels.

The following treatment is prescribed for 'suspected' and 'infected' vessels, respectively :—

Suspected vessels are subject to the following measures, which will be carried out under the orders and supervision of the officer appointed for the purpose :—

1.—Individual medical inspection.

2.—Disinfection; the soiled linen and personal effects of the crew and passengers, which in the opinion of the officer appointed for the purpose may be regarded as contaminated should be disinfected.

No. 122 Marine.—The following orders by the Government of India regarding the precautions to be observed in the carriage of carbide of calcium by Railway are published for general information.

R. B. BUCKLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Circular No. XVI Railway, dated Simla, the 20th December 1898.

From—CAPTAIN W. J. MCELHINNY, R.E., Officiating Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department,

To—The Joint-Secretary to the Government of Madras, Public Works Department Railway Branch; the Secretaries to the Governments of Bombay and Burma, Public Works Department, Railway Branch; the Secretaries to the Government of Bengal, Public Works and Marine Departments; the Chief Commissioner of Assam; the Resident at Hyderabad; the Agent to the Governor-General for Rajputana; the Consulting Engineers to the Government of India for Railways, Calcutta, Lucknow and Assam; the Managers, North-Western, Oudh and Rohilkhand, Eastern Bengal, and East Coast State Railways.

Precautions to be taken in accepting carbide of calcium when tendered for carriage by railway pending legislation on the subject.

PENDING legislation on the subject, and the issue of regulations for the import, storage transport, &c., of carbide of calcium, I am directed to state that the following precautions should be taken in accepting this substance when tendered for carriage by railway:—

(i) The carbide of calcium must be contained in hermetically sealed airtight packages sufficiently strong to remain in that condition through wear and tear of transport, so that there will be no chance of air or moisture attacking the carbide of calcium.

(ii) The carbide of calcium must be pure and be certified as such by a Chemical Analyser to Government or any other chemist deputed by the Local Government or Railway Administration.

(iii) There must be no copper in the composition of the package containing the carbide of calcium.

(iv) There must be thoroughly good ventilation in the vehicle carrying the carbide of calcium, and no lamps or other lights should be allowed in the vehicle.

(v) The label on the several vessels or packages containing the carbide of calcium, must bear in conspicuous characters the words "Carbide of calcium." "Dangerous if not kept dry," and with the following caution:—"The contents of this package are liable, if brought into contact with moisture, to give off a highly inflammable gas." The name of the sender should also be labelled on each package.

Revised Notice

Under Rule XX, Part I of the Revised Rules for the care and use of Government Cemeteries, as amended by Home Department Notification No. 275, dated 30th June 1899, published at page 616, Part I of the "Gazette of India" of the 1st July 1899

IT is hereby notified that the monuments over the graves No 7 and 12 in the Dinajpur Government Cemetery, containing stone tablets with the following inscriptions, are in ruinous condition, and will be treated at the next repairs in such manner as is necessary for the maintenance of the cemetery in decent order, unless any interested person will undertake to restore them :—

"Sacred to the memory of EMELIA, wife of EDWARD MAXWELL, Esqr., Judge and Magistrate of Dinajpur, who departed this life, aged 28 years and 2 months, after a painful illness of many months, on the 26th July 1822, on board the Earl Balcarres, Indiaman, at the New Anchorage, and was buried at Kedgeree. The sanguine hopes of a husband who adored her, that the dreaded calamity would be averted by the effects of the sea air, proved vain immediately on the return of the ship, owing to the loss of her rudder and after an escape from danger.

"Also to the memory of EMELIA, aged 16 months; born 22nd September 1820; died 8th January 1822. And FRANCES, aged 1 day; born 26th November 1821; died 27th November 1821;—Daughters of EDWARD and the above EMELIA MAXWELL."

"Sacred to the memory of J. P REYNOLDS, Esqr., late Assistant Surgeon, H C. S., O B 1 12th April 1827. Æ 31. Erected by JANE, his wife. Sempson & Co., Sets, Calcutta."

J. H. E. GARRETT, Distri Magistrate.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat Book Depôt, and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1889 the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows for current issues as well as for back numbers of the reports from 1876:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

Beacons, buoys, lights, &c.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 298 of 1900) that the following information, dated 29th March 1900, has been received from Commander R. G. O. Tupper, H.M.S. Pylades, respecting the beacons, buoys, and lights, &c., in Otago harbour:—

1. The light (fixed red) shown from the beacon at the Pilot station, Taiaroa head, has been discontinued.

   Approximate position, lat. 45° 47′ S., long. 170° 45′ E.

2. A black buoy has been moored to mark the edge of the bank, which has extended off Williams point, with the eastern extreme of Taylor point bearing N. 52° W., distant one-third of a mile, and Acheron head S. 61° W.

   Approximate position, lat 45° 46′ 0″ S., long. 170° 41′ 35″ E.

3. The black buoy on the southern side of the channel near Acheron head is situated about 2 cables farther to the eastward than given on the Chart, or with Acheron head bearing N. 37° W., distant 1¼ cables, and Rocky point S. 53° W.
4. The light ("F. 15 feet") on the edge of the bank marked "Sand, mud, and shells" is placed on the Chart about 3 cables to the eastward of its proper position; it is situated with Acheron head bearing N. 31° E., distant 3 cables, and north extreme of Deborah bay N. 61° W.
5. A powder magazine, which is conspicuous, stands on piles erected on "Sand, mud, and shells" bank with Rocky point bearing S. 87° W., distant 4¾ cables, and Bowen pier S. 32° W.
6. A black beacon marks the eastern side of the channel off port Chalmers, situated with Bowen pier head bearing S. 71° W., distant 2¼ cables, and Rocky point N. 32° W.
7. The two beacons situated 11 and 12 cables respectively S. 26° E. of Rocky point no longer exist.

It is intended to show the hardship of the Ameen's life, the ill-treatment and oppression he is alleged to suffer at the hands of his official superiors and the wild people of the hills, the shifts and dodges he has recourse to in order to keep his body and soul together, and the utterly perfunctory way in which settlement disputes are supposed to be disposed of. Although a farce in form and language, a deep pathos runs through the book and no one reading it can help sympathising with the poor Ameen. The writer's views on the subject may be gathered from the following "equation of Ameenship" given in the book:—viz (Work + Caning − Salary) × Jail = Ameenship. The writer is an officer of Government employed on settlement work, and as such, appears to speak with the authority of personal knowledge.	7

Nov. 10th	74	8vo dy	1st...	1,000	Printed.	0 8 0	S. B. Pál, 97, Durgá Charan Mitra's Street, Calcutta.	Is a mythological drama describing the establishment at Puri by the divine artist Visvakarmá, of the shrine and temple of Jagannáth, with a view to counteract the mischievous influence of Kali (the presiding god of the present Iron age). It is an extremely silly production.	8

Feb. 5th	104	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 8 0	The author, 51, Nimtala Street, Calcutta.	The story of a drunken zamindar, his scapo-grace son and boon-companions, told in the form of a dialogue. It abounds in low, vulgar sketches, and is altogether unfit for perusal.	11
Mar. 3rd	74	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 6 0	Vihárí Lál Datta	Is a social farce directed against female education and female emancipation movements. The plot is as follows:—Nader Chánd of the oilman caste, which is one of the lowest in the Hindu social hierarchy, aspired for the hand of the Brahmin girl Fulkumárí. Her parents, who were thoroughly heterodox in their manners and customs, gave their consent to the match for a good consideration; but the girl, who was by education and association an English girl, looked upon it with horror. A relation of her farther's, Harihar, was also opposed to the match on social and religious considerations. He induces an actress to play the rôle of a young man and try to attract Fulkumari's attention. The plan succeeds, and the girl mistaking the actress for a youth, elopes with her on the eve of her marriage. As her parents had received from Nader Chánd the consideration for which they were willing to sell her, the news of her elopement made them uncomfortable. Harihar now came to their rescue, explained the situation and produced Fulkumárí and her actress-lover. There was now nothing left for the couple but to return the money to Nader Chánd and to ponder at liesure on the unwisdom and impropriety of bringing up their daughter like an English girl and educating her on purely western lines. The picture of Hindu Society presented in the play is unreal, and many of the incidents greatly overdone. The writer, nevertheless, is not without power.	12
Dec. 19th	74	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 8 0	The author. Minerva Theatre, Calcutta.	Purports to be a satire on female education and female emancipation movements. It represents a number of young men and women, as acting on the stage, after the most approved fashion of the day, scenes from Krishna's life in Vrindávan; and the lady who takes the rôle of Radhiká is styled Encore 99, or Srimati. This explains the title of the book. Srimati which is the name of Radhika, is intelligible enough, but why she should be styled Encore 99 cannot be easily made out. There is apparently here a covert allusion to the manners and morals of the advanced woman of the day.	13
Jan. 7th	172	8vo dy.	1st...	1,250	ditto ...	0 8 0	Kedár Náth Visvás, 86, Ahiritolá Street, Calcutta.	The mythological story of King Kansa's defeat and death by the hand of Krishna.	14

Describes the vicissitudes which befell a joint Hindu family of Malancha in Bengal, and illustrates the way in which the seeds of discord and disunion are often sown in such a family. In this instance, the efforts of an over-zealous mother-in-law, aided by an unscrupulous maid-servant, to forward the interests of her daughter and son-in-law bring ruin on the family, which ultimately regains its fortune and prestige through the honesty, common sense, and good offices of the majority of its members and friends. Is a story of love and adventure, of which the scene is laid in Rájmahal during the administration of Shah Suja, son of the emperor Sajehán. It describes the vicissitudes which befell the hero Sailendra Nath and his sister Kánchanabálá before they became suitably settled in life. It is a typically Indian story, in which everything turns out at the end to the entire satisfaction of the hero and the heroine concerned. The book is very indifferently written, and there is absolutely nothing to commend either in the story or in the manner of telling it	23

Dec. 16th	119	12mo dy	1st ..	1,000	Printed.	0 12 0	.....	Is an extremely silly story of love and adventure, of which the scene is laid in Viranagar in Odeypur in the days of Amar Sinha, son of the Mahárána Pratáp Sinha. It describes how the girl Svarna Kumárí, who was intended by the Mahárána for one of his chieftains named Bhím Sinha, was at the end fortunate enough to get herself married to the youth of her heart, Samar Sinha. The language of the book is as faulty as the plot is incoherent and improbable.	26

Feb. 2nd	91	12mo dy	1st...	2,000	Printed.	1 0 0	The Publisher, 105, Upper Chitpur Road, Calcutta.	Is the story of the Brahmin girl Mrináliní and her lover Raman Chandra as told by themselves. They loved each other dearly from infancy, but as the girl was poor and fatherless and Raman a richman's son, the marriage between the two was thought out of the question. Mrináliní was accordingly married, much against her wish, to a man of her own rank in life. He was over forty and subjected his wife to gross ill-treatment. She fled from his house, took shelter with a Brahmo couple, was taken by them to Calcutta and married a second time to a Brahmo youth. Her new husband sent her to England to study medicine and she stayed there for three years. While in England, her beauty was much appreciated and she was styled "Queen" by her numerous admirers. Coming back, she resumed her correspondence with Raman Chandra, visited him at his house one night and remained there till morning. It will have been seen from the above that the heroine is not a very lovable character and her character and conduct will not bear looking into. The writer's statement in the preface that he is 'bred up' in England is amply borne out by his ungrammatical and unidiomatic Bengali, while his inability to impart a single Hindu trait to his heroine betrays the defects of his education. Altogether the book is immoral and mischievous in its tendency.	41

„ 13th	170	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	The Author, Champátalá, Calcutta.	Is a well-written story of domestic life describing how Sures Chandra personated his brother Nagendra Nath with the object of defrauding him of the property left him by his uncle Prasanna Kumár, and how at the end, the fraud was detected, and Sures committed suicide to avoid disgrace. The real interest of the story, however, centres round the conduct of Nagendra Nath's chaste wife Nirmalá. Both the brothers had been away from their native village for a long time, and when Sures turned up and passed for his brother Nagendra, pressure was brought on Nirmalá by her un-suspecting parents to accept him as her husband. But she doubting the new-comer's identity resisted all pressure and even risked her life to keep her virtue intact. The book is full of vivid realistic sketches of Bengali female life and the characters of Nirmalá, Nagendra Nath and Dr. Abhay Charan are well-drawn. It is written in good, readable Bengali, although very indifferently got up.	44

1900	Pages.					Rs. A. P.
Jan. 23rd	149	32mo s rl	1st...	1,000	Printed.	0 4 0	Nihaani Mukherji, 20, Amherst Street, Calcutta.	Is a collection of spiritual and devotional songs in honour of the goddess Syámá or Kálí, which were composed within about the last 150 years by the scions of some of the well-known princely families of Bengal, and in one instance, by a ruling chief of Cooch Behar. A short account of the most celebrated among them precedes the collection of songs.	145
„ 20th	36	12mo dy	1st...	2,000	ditto ...	0 1 6	.....	Is a common-place tirade against the objects of enjoyment, which, as the writer thinks, stand in the way of a man's spiritual advancement.	146
1899 Dec. 28th	40	16mo rl	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	0 1 0	The author.	Is a collection of verses on the subject of health and hygiene.	147
1900 Jan. 1st	22	12mo dy	1st...	400	ditto ...	.....	B. N. Ráy, Refáitpur, Nadiya.	Is a thoughtful protest against the denunciations of the present, and a longing for the past,	148 order of things, which are indulged in by many people in this country. The writer is apparently a man of enlightened ideas and he can not put up with the cant and hypocrisy which, as he thinks, are often at the root of those denunciations.
Jan. 15th	113	8vo cr	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	.....	The author, Bág bázár, Mitra House, Calcutta.	Embodies the writer's views on matters connected with the constitution of Hindu religion and society. These views are	149
(1) that Bengalis are non-Aryans; (2) that the worship of the formless God is impossible, and (3) that it is to the interest and advantage of Bengalis that they should have one religion, one dress and one caste or colour among them. The book is a tissue of nonsense from beginning to end, with a grain of common sense only here and there.
1899 Dec. 23rd	134	8vo s r	1st...	2,000	ditto ...	.....	.....	Gives a short description with illustrations, of the great temples of India, Ceylon and Burma. It comments severely upon the Hindu image-worship and the principles of Buddhism, and tries to prove their inferiority to Christianity.	150
1900 Jan. 25th	24	12mo dy	1st...	125	ditto ...	.....	The author.	Silly effusions expressed in the language of enigma.	151
1899. Nov. 15th	156	8vo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	1 0 0	The Publisher, 97, Durgá Charan Mitra's Street, Calcutta.	Gives the mantras or incantations for the cure of snake-bite, exorcism of ghosts and such like purposes.	152
Dec. 13th	60	12mo dy	1st...	500	ditto ...	0 2 0	.....	Gives a short account of the author's conversion to Brahmoism.	153
1900. Jan. 27th	31	12mo dy	1st...	1,000	ditto ...	.....	.....	Written in memory of the writer's nephew, the late Prasanna Chandra Gupta of Sirajganj.	154

„ 28th	149	8vo dy	1st...	500	ditto ..	1 4 0	The publisher, 23, Rajá Nava Krishna's Street Calcutta	Is an extremely interesting and original exposition of the principles of Sánkhya Philosophy, based mainly on the aphorisms of Kapila and differing fundamentally from the views of standard authors on the subject. This attempt to look beyond the traditional interpretation and to substitute in place of it, views and ideas which are possibly suggested by the writings of European authors must always be looked upon with suspicion. There are moreover difficulties in the writer's exposition which will have to be taken into consideration in forming a correct estimate of the value of his labours. Be that value as it may, there is no denying that the book contains evidence of clear thinking, close reasoning, and an honest and fearless devotion to truth, which is rarely met with in an equal degree in the writings of any other Bengali author of the present day. The writer's untimely death has been a great loss to Bengali literature.	163
Feb. 9th	258	8vo dy	1st...	500	ditto ...	.....	The author.	Is a collection of eight lectures, of which the first six deal with the fundamental principles of Vedánta, the various schools in which it is divided, and the proofs of the existence of the soul as a separate entity; while the last two contain a resumé of the first year's lectures. The lecturer is a very learned man and his exposition of the subject has the rare merit of being lucid and well-graduated in the extreme. The book is a mine of rare and interesting information relating not only to Vedánta, but also to other Hindu Schools of thought, and will no doubt meet with the appreciation which it deserves.	164
Jan. 16th	242	12mo dy	1st...	500	ditto ...	1 4 0	.....	Is a discourse on the nature of self, non-self and the highest-self, based mainly on the principles of Vedantism and Chaitanyism. It starts from certain general propositions relating to self in its relation to non-self and attempts to evolve step by step the various stages leading to the final attainment of samádhi by self, which is described to be "the soul's eternal natural sleep." The language of the book is obscure, and it is very difficult to grasp the sense.	165

Feb. 14th	180	8vo cr.	1st...	100	ditto ...	2 0 0	The author ...	Is a commonplace story of a Scotchman's success in life. Mac-Duncan, while a boy of 17, was fired by a desire to better his condition and to make for himself a name in society. His lady-love and companion of childhood, Mary Livingstone, sympathised with his desire and encouraged him in all his plans. Undaunted by first failures, Duncan went to Calcutta and started the Himálayan Steam Navigation Company. It was the days of sailing ships and the company's steamer service changed the entire aspect of the trade of Calcutta and greatly enriched the promoters. Henceforth, Mr. Duncan's march to honour and fortune was rapid. He next married Mary Livingstone, whose love for him had served him in good stead at a trying point of his fortune. His next venture was the creation of an African company for the exploitation of the dark continent, and the success achoived by him in this direction was rewarded by a baronetcy and he came to be known as Lord Tana. The rest of his life was spent in furthering the interests of his native city and he died full of years and honours. The numerous digressions introduced in the story have only served to make it prolix and tedious reading. There is nothing remarkable either in the plot or in the manner of telling it.	4

1897. Oct. 16th	192	3vo dy	1st...	500	ditto ...	1 8 0	Chandra Kánta Tarkalankár, Chorbagán, Calcutta.	Is an exhaustive compilation with exposition, of sastric texts relating to marriage, made in imitation of the Tattvas of Raghunandan and intended also as an examination of his views on the subject. This is perhaps the first systematic attempt to review Raghunandan and as such, it will give a rude shock to orthodox pandits, who are apt to regard him as infallible. The book is written in pure idiomatic Sanskrit which very few pandits, if any, can write in these days. The metrical introduction giving an abstract of the topics discussed in the course of the book will be found to be of great value. The work is in every way worthy of the deep and varied scholarship of its author.	23

1900. Feb. 3th	88	8vo rl.	1st...	1,700	ditto ...	0 11 0	ditto ...	Contains an article headed "English Administration and the Congress" condemning that movement and all political agitation by natives generally. It is said in the course of the article that the so-called leaders of the Congress have no touch with the masses, and they know of their wants and wishes even less than the British official. It is for this reason that the Government attaches more importance to reports of its own officials than to the representations of the Congress. That movement has, as the writer thinks, done more harm than good to the people. Among the other articles, those on the Rájatarangini, the Pali language, and the gradual development of the institution of marriage deserve special mention. The article on Primary Education and the Reward Examination approves of the new scheme of vernacular education prepared under the auspices of the present Director of public Instruction, and contains suggestions for the reform of that examination.	32

Feb 4th	64	8vo dy	1st...	1,600	ditto ...	0 4 0	ditto ...	The article headed "Social Disease and its Remedy" commenced in No. 6 and concluded in No. 7 of this journal is very thoughtfully written. In the opinion of the writer, the people of this country are living a sort of un-natural hot-house existence, being dependent for every thing on a paternal Government, and that the diseases in their social organism are due more or less to this circumstance. They are unconscious of their own power and their failures in moral and intellectual sphere may be traced to this cause. Let them learn to respect and value their past, their old religious and social institutions, which have stood the test of ages, and try to draw from them the inspiration, which they require for the present, which is to dispel their present moral and intellectual torpor and rescue the stream of national existence from the utter stagnation with which it is threatened.	60

Singhbhum.—Rain 5·77. Prospects favourable. Transplanting has begun. Average price of rice is 12¼ seers per rupee in the district and 11 seers at Chaibasa.

General Summary.—The rainfall during the week was general but for the most part slight. The present prospects of the autumn crops are generally favourable except in Bhagalpur, where makai is reported to have suffered from incessant rain. This is open to doubt, looking at the amount of rain that fell. More rain would be beneficial for the transplantation of winter rice in the Burdwan and Patna Divisions, and in Nadia, Murshidabad, Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas, Angul, and Manbhum. The harvesting of early rice and jute is going on in places in North and East Bengal. Sugarcane is doing well. There is plenty of fodder in every district. Cases of cattle-disease continue to be reported. The price of rice is reported to have risen in 14 districts and fallen in 11; it is stationary in the rest.
